Troppmann Claims Hair Rule Fair

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Athletic director Robert Troppmann of Redwood High School said yesterday in U.S. District Court that Redwood's hair rule for athletes is fair and reasonable.

Troppmann, who was testifying in support of the school's long hair rule for athletes, said the judge's decision would have far-reaching effects for coaches and athletes all over the state.

Long hair, he said, interferes with swimming and can affect the fit of football helmet.

"I'd be the first to step in if a rule were unreasonable," he said.

But he didn't think the hair rule, which four Redwood athletes defied and were then tossed off the Redwood track team, was unreasonable.

The athletes claim that the hair rule does not apply to girl athletes and is therefore an arbitrary distinction based on sex and in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

Troppmann, president of the California Athletic Directors Association, supported his statements claiming one school required its athletes to shine their shoes and ride bikes or walk to school instead of riding in cars.

Professional football end, Reg Carolan of the Kansas City Chiefs, called by the plaintiffs, testified his coach streses good grooming, including short hair, to achieve "uniformity of thought for team members. It helps to get us all thinking alike."

He said, however, he didn't think a high school player should be so strictly bound to his coach's idea of good grooming.

Judge George B. Harris set closing arguments for today at 2 p.m. in the suit brought by Brian and Kevin Pusser, David Silverman, and Bryan Tracy. They are all students and athletes at Redwood High School.

RAMPAGING WIND—Yesterday was not a good day to visit Catalina Island as evidenced in this picture. A rampaging wind storm sent a pounding surf into Avalon Harbor as Southern California experienced wind gusts up to 95 miles per hour. A similar situation existed today. (UPI Telephoto)

Laird Fears Russ Gains In Weapons

U.S. Arms Budget Down Despite Risk To Ranking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird cautioned Congress today that the Soviet Union at its present rate of military development could downgrade the United States to a second-rate power by the mid-1970s.

In the annual defense review presented to a joint session of the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committees, Laird also predicted that the Chinese Communists would begin deploying medium-range nuclear missiles this year. He estimated they would have from 80 to 100 installed by the middle of the decade.

Warning of Russian arms development, Laird said:

"It is clear that the Soviet Union is embarked on an ambitious program to achieve a global military capability.

"The Soviets are continuing the rapid deployment of major strategic offensive weapons systems at a rate that could, by the mid-1970s, place us in a second rate strategic position with regard to the future security of the free world."

TO CUT BUDGET

The defense secretary said however that he intends to cut the U.S. military budget by 7 per cent this year. President Nixon's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 calls for $71.8 billion in defense spending compared to $77 billion for the current year, ending June 30.

Laird declined to state in the part of the testimony, made public as he went into the closed session, any estimate of the cost for the Vietnam War but it was likely that he would give a figure to the committees in secret.

The Pentagon has said publicly it expects Vietnam spending to drop below $1.5 billion a month by mid-year. At tines in the past, it has run well over $2 billion a month.

Laird's public statement spelled out Soviet and Chinese Communist weapon development.

The immediate Soviet threat, he said, comes from their rapid deployment of land and submarine-based missiles.

Laird concluded with this evaluation: "In the long term, one of the most serious threats confronting the United States is the large and growing military and research and development effort of the Soviet Union."

TIMED DISCUSSION

His public discussion of Vietnam was limited. He said Gen, Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, would give the committees a full report on the war, based on the visit to Vietnam by Laird and the general last week.

However, Laird said on the basis of the trip, he has concluded that the Vietnamization program is proceeding "on schedule or ahead of schedule in all major categories."

He said in recent years U.S. spending on defense, space and atomic energy research has remained steady while Soviet efpenditures have increased 10 to 13 per cent a year.

Now the Soviet Union is putting $16 to $17 billion into such work compared with $13

Hoffman Upholds Wiretap

CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Julius J. Hoffman ruled today that wiretapped conversations did not taint the government's case against five men convicted of inciting rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The judge refused to hear further arguments from the defense on the issue. His ruling denied a defense motion to make public the contents of the wiretap logs.

"I find the electronic surveillance conducted was expressly authorized by the U. S. attorney general to gather intelligence vital to the security of the government," the judge said.

"The surveillance was lawful and consequently not subject to disclosure," he added. "The hearing requested by the defense to determine if the surveillance tainted the government's case will be denied."

The courtroom and surrounding corridors were quiet in the absence of the defendants' families and friends. Only newsmen and court officers were permitted in the courtroom.

Five of the seven defendants were found guilty Wednesday of inciting riots at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Each man faces a maximum sentence of five years and a $10,000 fine.

The judge spent most of Thursday studying the wiretapping, logs, impounded prior to the start of the trial.

Two defendants who were cleared of all charges by the U.S. District Court jury of 10 women and 2 men were not required to be in court for the wire tap ruling.

But like their five co-defendants, John R. Froines, 31, and Lee Weiner, 31, have been sentenced by the judge on contempt charges and denied freedom on bail.

Froines was sentenced to 6½ months and Weiner received 2 months and 18 days. They will serve these sentences in the Cook County jail.

The defense lawyers, William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass, are free because Judge Hoffman stayed execution of their contempt sentences to May 4. Kunstler was sentenced to 4 years and 13 days;

Chrysler Sees Big First Quarter Loss

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., which lost $4.4 million in the final quarter of 1969, said today it expects to lose between $10 million and $40 million in the first quarter of 1970.

The statement was made in a prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission announcing the proposed sale of $200 million in notes and debenture bonds.

In 1969, Chrysler had net earnings of $88.8 million, or $1.87 per share of common stock, down from a record of $290.7 million, or $6.23 a share, in 1968.

Chrysler, the nation's third largest automotive firm, blamed the continuing loss on decreased sales, increased costs and high interest rates.

On Jan. 27, Chrysler announced a debt financing program to increase working capital and retire some debt currently in the form of commercial paper.

The prospectus outlines an issue of $100 million in five-year notes and $100 million in 25-year sinking fund debentures.

Chrysler said its working capital in 1969 fell by $250.1 million, more than offsetting an increase of $243.2 million in 1968. Main components in the decline were reduced earnings and proceeds from long-term borrowing and increased expenditures for property, plant and equipment.

Chrysler said it hopes to have the bonds and notes ready for public sale the week of March 9, pending approval by the SEC. Tentative delivery date is March 24.

Dutton Leads Antituition Regent Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California President Charles J. Hitch told UC regents today that Gov. Reagan's proposed 1970-71 budget "does not provide for growth and this university needs to grow with the state."

Hitch's comments were prepared for delivery to regents, who also face the possibility of requiring tuition from next year's 101,000 students.

As the board concluded its two-day meeting today at the UC Extension Center, antituition arguments came from regent Frederick G. Dutton of Sausalito and several of student body presidents from the nine campuses plus faculties, campus and community groups.

One coalition of such groups, the "Movement Against Tuition," earlier in the week received a permit from the city to picket today's meeting with about 200 demonstrators.

On the regents' afternoon agenda were these major items:

— A recommendation from Hitch that the present $300 student fees, which are not considered tuition, be increased to $580 next year and to $660 the year after.

— A recommendation from Reagan, also a regent, that Hitch's figures be adopted for undergraduates but graduates pay $660 next year and $750 in 1971-72.

— A recommendation from the regents' educational policy committee that a third college, intended to meet the problems of minorities, be established at the San Diego campus.

'Santa Ana' Winds Continue To Play Southern California Havoc

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Another day of strong, gusty "Santa Ana" winds brought out small craft and travelers' warnings again today.

However, the weather bureau said today's winds would not reach the hurricane-like velocity of Thursday and would continue to drop off during the day.

At one point Thursday, wind gusts of 95 miles an hour —23 miles per hour above the minimum hurricane level-were reported at the Orange County Airport.

That facility was one of the hardest-hit areas as 18 small planes were blown from their moorings and damaged. Planes also were damaged at Hollywood-Burbank Airport, where a DC3 being towed from a hangar was tipped over on its nose, at San Fernando Airport, where a Cessna 180 was pulled from its moorings and overturned, and at Miro Airport near Cajon Pass.

The California Highway Patrol closed the main desert roads in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties to trucks, trailers and campers.

Thousands of utility lines, trees and signs were toppled throughout the Southland and there was widespread damage to plate glass windows in businesses and homes.

Power failure were common and traffic was often snarled because traffic signals were inoperative. In many areas Highway Patrolmen and local police had to direct traffic.

At sea, the winds whipped up eight foot waves which battered boats and damaged the old steamship pier and the ocean-front walk at Avalon on Catalina Island.

Spectacular Blaze Hits Oil Well Pier

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Fire fighters struggled today against isolated pockets of flame which persisted stubbornly after a spectacular blaze that hit an oceanside pier lined with at least 20 oil wells.

One fireman was trapped briefly and rescued by a boat but no one else was reported on the quarter-mile-long pier when it erupted in a series of flareups at separate wells Thursday afternoon.

Witnesses said each of the wells that became involved flared up spectacularly before automatic devices, which activate when lines are broken, shut off the pumping fuel flow.

Smoke was so thick for a time that two lanes of the nearby Pacific Coast Highway had to be closed to traffic. A fire official said damage may exceed $1 million. Some 600 to 800 feet of the wooden pier was ruined or destroyed.

First reports said a number of workers had been trapped for a time and then been rescued, but Ventura County firemen believed that was inaccurate. They said the oil well pumps worked automatically, thus requiring no full-time crews.

Firemen said they had the blaze contained to pockets of still-burning gas and oil after a several-hour battle and that oil well fire experts would help them gain final control today. The major danger was past, firemen said.

The cause was undetermined.

Mobil Oil, Atlantic Richfield and at least one other oil company reportedly operate the pier, fire officials said. The quarter-mile-long pier is located at Rincon Point just across the Santa Barbara County line in Ventura County.

County Fire Chief B. B. Haggard made the damage estimate.

Investors In Eichler Face No Returns

SAN FANCISCO (AP) — The trustee of the Eichler Corp. says 600 bondholders and 1,100 stockholders in the bankrupt home building firm probably will never recover any of their investment.

In a report to the U.S. District Court, Stuart M. Kaplan said the prospects are that liquidation may not pay all creditor claims totaling about $2 million.

U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg has approved Kaplan's liquidation plan, formally filed Thursday.

The company went into bankruptcy in 1967 a year after Joseph Eichler, widely known California builder who completed 5,000 homes and several high-rise apartments, sold his controlling interest.

The buyers were Charles S. Parr Sr. and Robert Bryson, both of Los Angeles.

When the company went into bankruptcy proceedings, Kaplan said, it held $10,000 in cash against $27 million in total liabilities and $2 million owed to trade creditors.

U.S., Peking Envoys Hold 'Businesslike' Session

WARSAW (AP) — In a meeting described as useful and businesslike, the U.S. and Communist Chinese envoys in Warsaw conducted Friday the 136th session of their 15-year-old secret ambassadorial talks.

The discussion between U.S. Ambassador Walter J. Stoessel Jr., and Lei Yang, Chinese charge d'affaires, and three aides each, lasted an hour.

The two diplomats told newsmen afterward that no date was set for the next meeting, but both sides agreed to be in touch soon to decide this question.

In brief prepared statements read to reporters, the two gave no indication of what was discussed. Stoessel said: "as in the past, we have both agreed that our discussions and the topics we covered will be held in confidence."

For the first time in the history of the talks—the only official contact between Peking and Washington—the session was held in the modern white marble U.S. Embassy.

The meeting the previous month, the first in two years of on-and-off talks that began in 1955, was held at the Chinese Embassy. The two sides formerly met in a Polish palace, but they suspected the building was bugged and their talks were being relayed to the Soviet Union.

The U.S. ambassador said the atmosphere was "businesslike" — the same term he used to describe the last meeting.

Stoessel added: "I believe these conversations have been and will continue to be useful for both our governments."

Railroad Strike Delayed 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Friday extended for another 10 days an order restraining railroad unions from striking and the railroads from imposing a lockout, thus postponing a threatened railroad strike.

The action came in the court of District Judge Howard Corcoran. Previous restraining orders have halted a coast-to-coast shutdown since Jan. 31.

More Uproar Over Chicago Seven Trial

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered demonstrations, skirmishes with police and a jail riot have broken out around the country in reaction to the conviction in Chicago of five persons for inciting riots.

In Boston's Hub Thursday, about 5,000 marched up Tremont Street smashing windows after a rally of 20,000 persons that began in the Common. Police clubbed about a dozen demonstrators. At least a dozen persons were arrested and four ambulances hauled away the injured, who included several policemen.

At Michigan State University in East Lansing demonstrators smashed 1,000 windows and fought with police, who arrested several.

Police arrested 123 persons in Washington, D.C. during several hours of skirmishes in the aftermath of a demonstration by about 300 outside the apartment where Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell lives. Police had dispersed the demonstrators but they moved into side streets, disrupted traffic and pelted police with rocks, bottles and chunks of snow. Police said three civilians and one policeman were treated for minor injuries.

In San Jose, Calif., prisoners in the jail rampaged after watching a television program about the Chicago case. Guards used fire hoses to quell the rioters and put out six fires which had been set.

About 50 youths smashed windows in a hotel and adjacent shop in Evanston, Ill.

Police arrested five persons among more than 500 who clashed with them near the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles. Windows were smashed in branches of the First Western Bank and a brokerage.

About 50 persons chanted "power to the people" outside the Baltimore courthouse. There were peaceful marches of 100 at the University of Wisconsin and 150 at Cornell University, and about 300 ralied peacefully at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Senate Passes Giant Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $35 billion education aid bill after defeating Southern efforts to attach a provision to ban the busing of students to achieve school integration.

But the Southern Senate defeat Thursday was offset somewhat in the House where Dixie forces won their fight to attach antidesegregation amendments to a new appropriations bill for the departments of Health, Education and Welfare and labor.

The House amendments prohibit forced busing of school children, legalize freedom of choice desegregation plans and make it harder to cut off federal funds to school districts not complying with integration orders.

The $19.4 billion HEW-Labor spending measure is embroiled in another controversy. President Nixon thinks it—like a $19.7 billion bill he vetoed last month—is still inflationary.

After rejecting Republican moves to trim the new version to make it acceptable to Nixon, the House approved the bill 315 to 81 and sent it to the Senate.

The massive federal aid to education bill—largest ever to pass either branch of Congress—sailed through the Senate 80-0 after the ban-the-bus amendment lost 49 to 36. The legislation, which goes to conference with the House, extends several major education programs for four years, expanding them in a way strongly opposed by President Nixon.

Chances the full $35 billion authorized will be appropriated in the 1971-74 period are slim.

Nixon has been seeking about one-third of money authorized for federal education grants. In the current year, the authorization total for all education programs is $9 billion. Nixon asked $3.1 billion and Congress voted $4.2 billion, but the President vetoed this as too large.

The Southern senators were not shut out completely in action on the education bill. Wednesday the Senate adopted an amendment to require the government to move as hard against segregated schools resulting from neighborhood patterns in the North as it has against officially segregated schools in the South.

The fate of this uniform national desegregation policy amendment of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., now must be settled in the conference. There is nothing similar in the House version.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the Republican Leader, and other senators predicted it would be dropped or sharply modified.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., sponsored the losing amendment to knock out the power of the federal courts to order busing to change a school's racial composition.

A second Erving amendment, to prevent any federal court or agency from denying any child the right to attend the public school nearest his home, also was defeated 58 to 24.

Two More U.S. Copters Winged In Vietnam Action

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed 166 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in sharp fighting yesterday but enemy gunners shot down two more U.S. helicopters, raising the toll to 16 in the past 10 days, military spokesmen reported today.

A total of 39 Americans and four South Vietnamese have been killed in the helicopter crashes, and 36-Americans and 52 South Vietnamese have been wounded.

The U.S. Command said 6,431 American helicopters and planes have been lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

U.S. B52 bombers ranged along the Cambodian and Laotian borders, attacking North Vietnamese supply depots, staging areas and gun positions. Some 40 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of bombs.

Military sources said "it is very possible" that such allied actions as the B52 raids and the seizure of nearly 200 tons of weapons and ammunition in the past two weeks may have pushed back the enemy command's timetable for an offensive in South Vietnam.

Most of the fighting during the past 24 hours was done by South Vietnamese troops backed by American helicopter gunships, bombers and artillery. It centered in the central Mekong Delta, and five government troops were killed and 39 wounded, field reports said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Wyeth's Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —For President Nixon it was "something new in White House history." First Lady Pat Nixon said it was "a dream come true." And artist Andrew J. Wyeth, called it a "remarkable occasion."

The event was the first one-man art show ever held in the White House, featuring the works of Wyeth and a dinner in his honor with all of the Wyeth clan and many of the great names from the art world present to salute him.

No one seemed to enjoy it more than the Pennsylvania artist himself, who earlier in the day with the help of Mrs. Nixon unveiled the 21 canvasses hung on soft gold velvet panels in the East Room for a month-long public exhibit.

Nixon told the dinner audience that a very old man whom Wyeth painted said on viewing the picture, "I found something in that painting that I don't see in the mirror."

Sixpence Sticks

LONDON (AP) — Treasury Minister William Rogers said Thursday the British government is holding up its plans to abandon the sixpence as part of its conversion to the decimal currency system.

The little silver coin, worth six U.S. cents, is the most common piece of change in the Briton's pockets. Plans to scrap it next year after 419 years of circulation touched off protests from members of Parliament, shopkeepers and the general public.

Save Our Sixpence, a group campaigning to retain the coin, contended that if it was abolished, the price of most sixpenny items would rise. The London transport authority said if the coin was retained it would cancel plans to raise the minimum bus and subway fare from sixpence to 12 cents. Officials said the increase was necessary to pay for new equipment to handle other coins.

Rats Killed

SEOUL (AP) — South Koreans have killed 41.5 million rats in a recent nationwide pest control operation, the Agriculture-Forestry Ministry reported today.

The death toll, based on a body count, represents 46 per cent of an estimated rat population in Korea, according to the ministry.

Supports Gowon

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that Nigeria's chief of state, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, had "some reasons for animosity" because of charges in the United States that his government was going to wipe out the defeated Ibos of Biafra.

Rogers told the staff of the U.S. Embassy that Americans should respect the extreme sensitivity of the Nigerian leaders to such allegations.

Rogers said Gowon "has some reasons for animosity ... because of charges that the Nigerians were about to engage in a bloodbath. I can't think of an accusation that could be more offensive."

The accusation that Gowon was not doing his best to channel relief supplies to the starving population in the conquered area was equally offensive to the Nigerian leaders, Rogers said. Gowon has refused to allow international relief agencies to operate in what was once Biafra and has insisted on all relief being handled by the overburdened Nigerian agencies.

Stoph Accepts

BONN, Germany (AP) — East German premier Willy Stoph today accepted West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's proposal that they meet for talks in East Berlin in March, the West German government announced.

Chief government spokesman Conrad Ahlers said a telegram from Stoph's office proposed that representatives of each government meet in East Berlin on March 2 to make arrangements for the meeting of the two government chiefs. Ahlers said his government would agree to this.

Stoph on Feb. 11 had invited Brandt to meet him on Feb. 19 or Feb. 26. Brandt this week proposed that they meet during the second or third week of March, saying he could not make it earlier.

Wine To Germany

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California wines will be shipped to West Germany starting Feb. 23 in the first such commercial operation in the history of the industry.

While the 118-year-old company makes a number of German-type white wines, exports for the present will be confined to the reds and roses, of which West Germany produces almost none.

Tuesday Weld Seeks Divorce

Public Housing Issue Raises Fears

Opposition to public housing has been emotionally based, including fear of lowered property values, higher taxes and crowded schools.

This analysis of potential opposition to a June 2 ballot for 600 units of senior citizen and family housing was made this week by Margaret B. Azevedo, member of a citizens committee campaigning for the measure.

It should be recognized there is an instinct for protection of the immediate neighborhood, Mrs. Azevedo said in her report to the interim Executive Committee of the Special Citizens Committee on Low Rent Housing.

There is fear of large, multiple units which increase the density in single family housing areas, she said. At the Homestead Valley Senior Citizens project there was fear of higher taxes due to increased services to residents.

At Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon, there was fear of lowered property values, Mrs. Azevedo reported. There is also fear of outsiders, low-income persons, single parents and those not paying their own way, she said.

She recalled that there was 72 per cent support and 28 per cent opposition when a measure was passed in 1964 for 200 units of senior housing in Marin.

On opposition to specific housing projects, Mrs. Azevedo said homeowners opposed the senior project in Santa Venetia, but primarily were concerned with height restrictions.

At Homestead Valley senior project the community generally accepted the concept of public housing, but preferred that it be elsewhere in the county.

Intense opposition to housing at the Hilarita project has diminished, but there is now a petition opposing a proposed senior housing project at Tiburon Wye and Knoll Road, Alto, she reported.

There hasn't been any organized opposition to leased housing which has been approved to date, Mrs. Azevedo said.

The Marin County Public Housing Tenants Union has opposed the residency requirements on leased housing units, set be some cities in Marin, saying it keeps Marin City tenants from moving into leased housing in those cities.

Mrs. Azevedo reported that nine cities have endorsed leased housing, but only five have residency restrictions.

The tenants union is seeking assurance that residency restrictions won't be applied to any public housing approved in the measure.

Executive committee members this week generally agreed methods should be established to give priority of funding to cities without restrictions and guarantee that 50 per cent of tenants be residents of the city involved, according to Frank Edlund, committee secretary.

The full committee will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday (Feb. 26) at the Venetia Oaks Housing Project, 263 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Appellate Court Favors Marin In Drydocks Case

Marin has the right to order removal of four large drydocks that are mired in Richardson Bay off Sausalito, the State Court of Appeals in San Francisco ruled yesterday.

The Appellate court upheld an order issued in Marin Superior Court in 1968, which means the present owner, J. Christopher Roberts of Sausalito must remove the drydocks. Roberts bought the property from the late Delmar D. Wise and his Diesel Engineering and Maintenance Co. of Sausalito.

Marin Superior Court ordered the drydocks removed because they encroach on public tidelands and directed Roberts to pay the county $50 per month, starting in April of 1968, and for as long as the drydocks remain.

Monkey's Owner Traps A Bobcat

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Robert W. Tiedemann managed to trap a 30-pound be-jeweled bob cat Thursday after he found the animal heckling his three pet monkeys.

The man discovered the cat in the backyard of his home and finally cornered the animal in an empty monkey cage.

The cat, described as "relatively tame" and wearing a jeweled collar was then turned over to the Department of Animal Regulations.

Israel Resumes Suez Air Raids

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets resumed their attack on Egyptian military targets along the Suez Canal today, the Israeli military command said.

A spokesman said the jets pounded Egyptian targets along the southern sector of the 103-mile waterway. The attack was an apparent response to the shooting down Thursday of an Israeli aircraft in a similar raid.

In Beirut, Lebanese Interior Minister Kamal Jumblatt predicted that violence will increase in the Middle East in the next two months. He returned from Cairo and a meeting with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Jumblatt told a news conference that the Arab countries must act "to make the Americans feel there is a direct threat to their interests in the Middle East" because Israel has depended primarily on U.S. support.

Larkspur Trustees Face Budget Pinch

The Larkspur School District board was told last night it could not expect an increase in funds in the 1970-71 budget.

Asst. Supt. Gilbert Slusher reported he told the board an anticipated loss of 60 students will keep the state's share of the $1,660,000 budget at about 20 per cent.

Slusher said the loss of the average daily attendance funds for the 60 students, and the higher cost of supplies and school repairs could cause the school to use more of its operational reserve funds than predicted.

The school district is currently negotiating informally with its teachers for pay increases, he added, and these hikes may not be covered by the new budget.

The board said it would continue to review new state legislation, student enrollment, and teacher requests at its next monthly meeting, Slusher reported.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS — Approved request from the cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera to use school buildings as polling locations for the April 14 elections.

SUMMER SESSION—Approved appointment of Al Kerras principal of district's summer session program to start in June. Kerr is the vice principal at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

RETIREMENTS—Approved retirement of three teachers. They are: Dona McKinney of Henry C. Hall School; Ottie Redway of Larkspur-Corte Madera School; and Joanne Fennell of San Clemente School.

POLICY—Approved county policy on who may use district schools after hours, and how much they should pay.

President's Proposal For Environment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon unveiled today his fiscal 1971 budget plans to save the environment: A five-year program of waste-treatment grants at the 1970 level set by Congress, a determination to spend previously authorized land acquisition funds and a modest boost for air pollution control.

Nixon promised "major proposals to improve and protect our surroundings" in a forthcoming special message to Congress.

The environmental showpiece of his 1971 budget was a $4 billion, five-year program of federal grants to encourage construction of municipal waste treatment facilities.

To qualify, however, states and municipalities will have to come up with $6 billion in matching money.

To help them do it, Nixon proposed creation of "a new federal environmental financing authority" which will "purchase the obligations of state and local governments participating in these federally assisted programs and . . . issue its own securities to the public."

Thr $10 billion generated would meet the Interior Department's estimates of the amount needed to clean up the worst of the water pollution caused by municipal wastes.

For fiscal 1970 Nixon sought $214 million for waste treatment grants, but Congress voted him $800 million. The 1971 budget shows Nixon accepting the challenge with a commitment to spend that money and charging Congress, in turn, to commit itself to keep up the pace with $800 million a year for the next five years.

Other serious pollution sources—industry, farm run-off and soil erosion—are not reached by the municipal waste treatment grants.

Stepping up the program to acquire new park, wildlife and recreation lands, Nixon's 1971 budget proposes obligations to spend the full $200 million available to the Land and Water Fund plus $157 million left over in the fund from 1970.

In fiscal 1970, Nixon proposed obligating only $124 million.

Actual spending for such recreational resources in fiscal 1971 was estimated at $546 million, an increase of $99 million over 1970.

While Nixon sought new obligational authority of $106 million for the air pollution control program—an increase of $10.3 million—he pledged actual spending of $104.2 million, an increase of $24.5 million, an effort to close the gap between authorized and actual expenditures.

The water pollution programs are administered by the Interior Department, air pollution by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Under the heading of environmental control—another HEW responsibility—Nixon pledged development of criteria toward the development of standards to limit exposure of workers to coal dust, cotton dust, uranium radiation and noise.

The Interior Department was offered a chance to beautify the landscape with inclusion, for the first time, of a $1 million request for research on placing electric power lines underground.

tion and increased student fees, said the university needs to consider other forms of revenue than from the students.

Dutton said the university could raise more money "if adequate charges were made for research done with university facilities."

He said that agricultural research, "which now absorbs almost $30 million in funds annually," principally benefits "specific, very large corporate and land-owning groups."

The Sausalito attorney also suggested increased investment programs.

He called for re-evaluation of the use of regent funds, saying the university should decide what funds are to be used for "student purposes rather than the land purchases, technological projects and other worthwhile but non-student use of the money."

Dutton said the university "continues to pay millions of dollars" a year in electricity costs to Pacific Gas & Electric, but might see a "substantial" savings if it sought a public power allocation.

Kunstler said Thursday reports that the jurors compromised on a verdict because of a desire to get the lengthy case over with would be used in appealing the convictions. He said he would ask the U.S. 7th Circuit Court of Appeals to allow the defense to interview the jurors to determine whether "they truly voted their consciences."

A similar request made Wednesday after the verdicts were returned was denied by Judge Hoffman.

billion to $14 billion for the United States, Laird said.

Of the Red Chinese threat, Laird said that some time this year they would begin deploying missiles with a 1,000-mile range packing the nuclear power of the American A-bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

He also said U.S. intelligence experts expect the Chinese Communists to test fire this year a 6,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile which could pose a direct threat to the United States.

Although Laird's budget requests for the coming year are below last year's, he said "if the current Soviet buildup continues, we will need additional costly steps to preserve an effective deterrent."

Patrol Arrests Youth In Chase

A 23-year-old youth with no known address was arrested by the California Highway Patrol last night on a variety of offenses after his car was chased at speeds up to 90 miles per hour on Highway 101.

The youth, Michael Anthony Rinaldi, also known as Ronnie J. Suderman, was booked into county jail on suspicion of resisting arrest, possessing stolen property (a telephone found in the trunk of the car), reckless driving and not having a driver's license.

Did Dog Handler Die In Traffic Dispute?

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Police said today they are still not sure what led to the slaying of Joe Zalaco, guard dog handler who was shot and killed Wednesday in San Francisco.

Inspector Telfred Slettvedt told the Independent-Journal that it may have been a traffic quarrel which led to Zalaco being shot twice by two men whose car had pulled up next to his vehicle.

Slettvedt said police are checking out "a few leads" and that they have some idea about the identity of the slayers' car, but he would not release the information.

He said there are several witnesses who saw Zalaco and the two men talking but who saw "no actual physical contact between them."

Zalaco's employer, Lorraine Ammenti, owner of Dog Power, Inc., today denied reports in the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner that Zalaco was driving dogs to the I-J at the time of the slaying. Zalaco was driving to her home at 302 Presita Avenue in San Francisco when he was shot, she said, not the I-J.

Slettvedt said Mrs. Ammenti's statement was correct.

He also said that newspaper reports that Zalaco was shot at Potrero Avenue and 25th Street at 7:30 p.m. were incorrect.

Zalaco was driving on Army Street toward Mrs. Ammenti's home when the shooting took place at about 6 p.m. near Potrero Avenue, he said.

Slettvedt said it was possible that the fatally wounded Zalaco was trying to drive himself to San Francisco General Hospital at 23rd Street and Potrero when he collapsed at 25th Street.

Mrs. Ammenti said the possibility that the shooting had anything to do with the I-J strike was "very remote."

"I don't think the pickets had anything to do with it," she said, noting that her firm had experienced no intimidation effort by the unions involved in Saturday's demonstration outside the I-J, despite the fact that the firm had supplied some dogs to Nor-Cal Security Service of Sacramento, which guards the I-J premises.The dogs had been ordered as a defensive measure in anticipation of a possible rush into the I-J building.

Father Reports Girl Bitten By Two Dogs

Willeam L. Rose of 150 Bungalow Street, San Rafael, reported his 15-year old daughter, Susan Lynee Rose, was bitten bytwo small black dogs yesterday at 4:45 p.m. at the Davidson Junior High School grounds,police reported today.

Rose said the dogs were owned by Robert J. Schilling, 246 Woodland Avenue, according to police. Rose said his daughter would be treated by the family physician, polece added.

California is the third-ranking state in production of cotton, hay and wheat.

Housing In School Area Pitch Made

High density housing will have less effect on school population than feared, the Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, was told last night by a developer.

Robert O'Neal, president of Young America Homes, discussed his firm's plans to build homes, townhouses and condominiums on North McDowell boulevard.

He said that while the density will be higher than usual, there will be fewer children per living unit. Superintendent Dean D. Magowan said the board had been concerned about a great influx of students should the city council approve the housing development.

O'Neal said that no ill effects had been found from a similar development in Santa Rosa.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

TEXT—Approved the use of the book "How We Are Born" as supplementary reading material in family life education classes.

AIDES—Approved an agreement with Sonoma State College to allow 20 psychology students to work in classrooms as teacher aides.

WORKSHOP—Approved a workshop on Tuesday for teachers to discuss physical fitness and methods of teaching modern mathematics. No classes will be held.

BUDGET—Heard a report that the budget committee is still considering the possibility of mid-year salary increases for teachers.

Adults Needed For Vote Drive

Adult volunteers are needed to help circulate petitions to lower the voting age to 18, the Marin County Youth Commission announced last night at a meeting at Civic Center.

Chairman Mark W. Tracy said the youth commission is coordinating the drive in Marin to circulate petitions to put the voting age question on the statewide ballot in November.

Next Monday, Washington's Birthday holiday, is the big day for the drive, said Tracy. Card tables will be set up at shopping centers to get signatures.

The youth need adult volunteers because both signers and circulators of the petitions must be registered voters.

State Takes Major Step To Purge DDT

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Reagan administration took a major step toward purging California of DDT today but a pesticide expert warned that substitutes may pose a greater threat to human health.

As part of a campaign to abolish the controversial pest killer during the next year and a half, the Department of Agriculture proposed eliminating DDT on cotton Oct. 1 and on sweet corn May 1. Cotton growers are the biggest single remaining users of DDT in California.

Agriculture Director Jerry W. Fielder estimated that the newest proposed ban coupled with those adopted recently for other crops would reduce use of DDT by at least 75 per cent of its current level.

He estimated that certain cotton grown in parts of the San Joaquin Valley alone consumes half the DDT applied in California and predicted by the end of the year the remaining use of the pesticide will be about 2.5 per cent of what it was in 1960.

Also proposed for elimination was another persistent pesticide, DDD. The proposal is subject to protest but Fielder reported Thursday that he didn't "anticipate any opposition."

Sen. John A. Nejedly, the legislature's toughest DDT foe, said he was "encouraged" by Fielder's announcement.

He termed it a "strong indication" that there is no longer "any real opposition" to his bill to outlaw by statute DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides.

"Now there's even more reason for enactment," the Walnut Creek Republican said.

Conservationists and some public health authorities have warned that DDT has damaged fish and wildlife and constitutes a threat to human health. The public health fears have been challenged by other authorities.

The department reported that methylparathion, an organic phosphate, will be offered to growers as a substitute to fight the cotton bollworm. Another phosphate compound is undergoing state and federal registration and will be made available to corn growers late in March.

The department's proposed action will give cotton growers another full growing season before the conversion to an alternative. No such lead was given corn farmers.

He reported that even though phosphates have been employed in agricultural pest control on other crops for many years they "have to be used much more cautiously than DDT because most are much more poisonous to human beings."

He said their application must be done very carefully so that helpful insects are not killed along with harmful bugs.

In a telephone interview, Swift said researchers "assume that none of these will cause the same problems (as DDT) because they are short-lived materials and they break down relatively quickly."

"The substitution of the phosphate compounds for DDT requires they be used in a pest management scheme so that they will not completely disrupt the local environment by eliminating all the beneficial insect species.

"When these are eliminated, you may have more severe problems with the major and minor pests. In considering the adoption of substitute methods we also must give more concern and study to how these are going to be used."

Development of additional substitutes for other crops is continuing, he said, adding, "We think that by the end of the growing season there may not be any use for DDT."

In Fresno County, cotton grower Bill Rusconi said he believed the Oct. 1 deadline "is about as good as we could expect." But he added, "We must have a suitable substitute first because farmers simply cannot afford to have anything further upset our economy."

ABAG Raises Budget To $1.4 Million

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — A $1,391,511 budget for fiscal 1970-71 was adopted last night by the general assembly of the Association of Bay Area Governments.

The budget, up from the current fiscal year's $1,129,800, was approved by voice vote with only one dissent. It was cast by San Anselmo Vice Mayor James F. Reed, who said his council opposed the amount of the increase in the budget.

Just because federal money was available for additional planning programs was not a good enough reason for ABAG to get involved in them, he said.

Cite and county dues, which with federal funds finance the budget, were hiked from the current $232,374 to $247,686.

For the first time, the budget included $10,000 for lobbying expenses in Sacramento and Washington.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis, chairman of the regional planning committee, said completion of the regional plan, due by now, had been delayed by "needless red tape" to meet federal requirements. It should be done later this coming spring, he said.

Case Referred To Youth Court

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday referred the case of Dana Allen Minto, 18, of San Pablo, to the probation department to see if he is acceptable to juvenile court.

The youth was arrested Wednesday afternoon at the Top Hat Market in Mill Valley, where he was accused of shoplifting. Police said he had a pot cigarette with him.

He is to return to court March 5.

Tools Stolen

Tools valued at $100, a $35 tire and a $2 flare were stolen Wednesday between 5 and 9:30 p.m. from a car owned by James P. Giorvas, 120 Hawthorne Drive, Santa Venetia and parked at the Terra Linda High School parking lot, San Rafael police reported today.

Bomb Threat To Drug Store

"We've planted a bomb to go off in an hour. Beware!" a raspy deep male voice told clerk Angela J. Ince of Long's Drugs at 12:40 p.m., yesterday, according to police.

The store at 1707 Grant Avenue was emptied and police searched for a bomb. When no bomb was found and the time had expired, the store was reopened at 2 p.m., police reported.

The voice sounded as though it was coming through some type of machine, and belonged to a man 40 to 45 years old, the clerk told police.

Burglars Hit Lumber Firm

Burglars last night broke into Novato Lumber Co. at 7586 Redwood Highway, Novato, and took $149 in cash, Novato police reported.

The burglary was discovered by employee Charles Hodson when he opened the yard at 7:45 a.m., according to police.

On Feb. 11, the same firm was the victim of an attempted safe burglary. At that time, the burglars succeeded only in breaking the controls off the safe.

Famed Robber Seeks Welfare

NEW YORK (AP) — Bank robber Willie "The Actor" Sutton, who once estimated his criminal take at $2 million, has applied for welfare assistance.

At a Brooklyn welfare center Thursday, Sutton, 68, was promised $78 a month plus half the cost of his rent. Sutton said he was staying with Brooklyn relatives.

Victim Of Injuries Found Inside Car

John L. Umphreys, 64, of 206 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple scrapes, bruises and a possible concussion after being found in his car in the Disco parking lot at 7:16 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Umphreys did not know how he sustained his injuries, police said.

Do something. For a change.

Help Needed

Wanted: Grandmother. To help out at recreation center for handicapped children. Need the kind of person who could brighten a child's life for a few hours each week. Someone who can read a story, sing a lullabye, tie endless shoe laces. In return for your trouble you'll get nothing but love.

Square dance caller. About twenty people in a certain psychiatric ward need something to take their minds off their troubles. If you can lead square dancing—or any kind of folk dancing, you'll see a lot of smiles on faces unused to smiling.

Fix-It Man. What good is a television in a senior citizens' center if it doesn't work? Things go wrong, and we need someone to set them right every week or so. If you're handy that way, why not give a hand.

WOODCRAFTSMAN

Needed to help teach wood shop at recreation center for mentally handicapped children. It's not just that these boys need to learn carpentry. Even more, it's that they need the time and attention of a man they can look up to. All you need is a few spare hours a month. And the patience of Job.

Man with a Banjo. Or woman with a guitar. Or harmonica or hand organ. To lead song fests in psychiatric day care center.

¿HABLA ESPANOL?

Hospital staff needs to learn Spanish in order to communicate with large segment of their patients. If you could help with the teaching, you'd be helping a doctor find out whether a patient has a sharp pain or a dull pain. You'd be helping a nurse to know whether a patient wants a sleeping pill. After you've given a couple of lessons, they'll tell you just how you've helped.

IF YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT ANYTHING,

chances are someone would be glad to learn. More glad than you can imagine. Tutors are needed desperately, in every section of the Bay Area. By people from five to 55, from Marin City to Chinatown, from West Oakland to East Palo Alto to the Western Addition. You'll know you're helping. But you'll probably never know how much!

Bridge teacher. To give lessons to out-patients under psychiatric treatment. Help get their minds back in working and playing order.

BIG SISTER. To be, perhaps, the most significant woman in a motherless girl's life. Very demanding job. Must make a long term commitment. Maybe it'll end up being for life.

HALF-WAY HOUSE NEEDS HOST OR HOSTESS.

Most people couldn't take this job. And a lot of others wouldn't. It's greeting men who've just been released from prison and orienting them to their new surroundings as they reorient themselves to the outside world. You'll see some beautiful human dramas if you're man—or woman—enough for the job.

A contagious smile. That's what you need to bring a little sunshine every week into a convalescent hospital. If you're the person we need, you'll love the work.

Business Brains. Need men in sales, marketing or management fields to counsel minority businesses. The proprietors you'll be working with have the drive, brains and adrenaline it takes. Lend them some of your business savvy and they'll make it on their own.

Health Nut. To help out in gym program for retarded children. You'll have an attentive group of youngsters who'll love the activity you provide them.

Legal Aide.

Basketball coach who can play basketball. And football too. A bunch of kids and teenagers need some help with their games. Be a hero once a week.

Jewelry Maker. Teach your art to someone who will really benefit from it. Day care center needs arts and crafts. With your help, some patient will have a new ring for himself, or a very personal present to give somone who means something to him.

Day-tripper. Someone to help take young girls on field trips to museums, on camping trips in the mountains, on long hikes in the woods. Applicant for this job must be female. But there's also a real need for men to help with day-trips for boys.

Amateur or Professional. To work with pre-schoolers in a Haight-Ashbury nursery school.

Office worker.

Gallery-keeper. To act as host or hostess at child art museum. You'll pass out brochures, answer questions. Man the guest book, sell cards and books, and get a little younger each day.

Pepper-upper. Blood bank needs someone to greet donors, serve them hot coffee and warmly thank them for coming.

Baby-sitter. Some mothers can't afford to get out of the house even long enough to take a class once a week. They could bring the children along and leave them in the playroom if someone could baby-sit. Could you take a couple of hours a week to take care of some kids while their mothers go to class?

Artist.

To do spot jobs. Drawing for brochures, lettering signs, designing posters, whatever comes up. It's for an agency offering various services to families in need. You'll be given a free hand, so you and the agency can really help make a name for each other.

Sometime saleswoman. To work in hospital gift shop. You'll meet lots of interesting people, and hand over each day's profits to an organization dedicated to easing children's suffering.

Good cook. Share your talents. If you can teach some unwed mothers how to make a pie crust—the kind that flakes diagonally instead of horizontally—that's a real accomplishment. For them and for you.

Public Speaker. If you like having an audience, there are groups all over the Bay Area we'd like for you to talk to, to acquaint the public with our organization.

Pair of hands. To help patients too sick to write their own letters, and your companionship will give them something to write home about.

Knitting teacher. Give a constructive project to some teenaged girls who are wards of the court. Knowing how to knit will mean a lot of pleasant hours over the course of their lifetimes. And a lot of pretty sweaters. But the friendship of a person like you will mean even more.

Do You Make Mistakes in English?

There are hundreds of Chinese in San Francisco who can't speak any English at all. Which makes it pretty rough to get a decent job. You don't have to speak Cantonese to teach someone to speak English. You begin with "Hello. How are you?" and work up from there. It doesn't take much. Just get someone started. All by yourself you could change the life of a whole family.

Undiscovered talent. To act like a good girl Friday for theatre company. You'll have the lead role in the office and at the same time get to know show business backwards and forwards.

Sentry. Hold down the fort at the office while others are doing the footwork to save San Francisco Bay. If you can make order out of chaos, you can fill this chair, and help clean up a few things.

House Manager. To handle the headaches of some young people with emotional problems. Someone with a warm heart and cool head could put some kids who've gone astray back on the track. Maybe change an outlook or two. The more human you are the better you qualify.

Amateur Photographer/Ham. There's an appreciative audience waiting to see your travel slides. These people have missed a lot of the beautiful things because of a few personal problems. How about opening their eyes?

Teacher's Aide. When a handicapped child learns to dance they've seen a dream. Not only because it's harder for them than for other children, but because it helps them express their feelings. The ones that stay bottled up most of the time. Teaching a handicapped child to dance requires more than an instructor. If you can walk you can help these children get from the bus to class, and then they'll dance, and maybe sing too.

Recruiters.

Educational television station needs someone to help gather more member support. Call members who have not renewed, let them know their help is both needed and appreciated. You can do this job at home if you like. Your help will be both needed and appreciated.

Young man. To be an aide at veteran's hospital. Helping to lift patients, man the wheelchairs and gurneys, deliver meal trays, be a friend.

Seamstress with a flair for the dramatic. To help sew costumes for Shakespearean play to be put on by blind performers.

Quitters.

If you've quit smoking cigarettes, you know how much better you feel. If you can type and help out in our office, you can feel even better by helping others quit.

Good Driver. Latin-American artists' guild needs someone to deliver art to exhibition places, return it to studio.

Arguments Heard In I-J Petition

The opening of a Marin Superior Court hearing growing out of last Saturday's violent demonstration outside the Independent-Journal was devoted yesterday to legal quarreling by the six attorneys in the case.

No testimony was taken. The hearing, before Judge Thomas F. Keating, stems from a petition by the I-J to hold four labor organizations and their officials in contempt for summoning the massive demonstration, during which the newspaper plant was bombarded with rocks, bottles and paint and protesters clashed with police.

The I-J contends the demonstration, called in support of striking San Francisco Typographical Union 21, violated an earlier Keating order against mass picketing, violence and threats to I-J workers, subscribers and advertisers.

Four attorneys--representing the typographers, Newspaper and Periodical Drivers and Helpers Local 921, the Marin County and San Francisco labor councils and six union officials--challenged the petition on grounds that the restraining order enjoined only the typographers, that none of the defendants was formally accused of participating in or encouraging violence, and that legal paper work surrounding the case was deficient.

I-J attorneys countered that, whether parties to the injunction or not, all defendants had legal "notice or knowledge" of the restraining order and that this was sufficient to bind them.

In its petition, the I-J said the officials urged thousands to attend the protest rally and that one of them, Jack Goldberger, president of Local 921, stated violence might occur.

Keating continued the hearing until 10 a.m. Thursday, indicating he might rule on the defense objections before then.

Boise Profits Up

BOISE (BW)—Boise Cascade Corp. has announced 1969 earnings of $84,010,000 — a 37 per cent increase after restating 1968 to reflect subsequent poolings of interests. Net income per common share rose 35 per cent to $2.85, compared with $2.11 for 1968. Net sales were $1,726,000,000, up 13 per cent over last year.

Judge Issues Jail Term In Pot Case

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered David Roger Harris, 22, former Marinite now living in Sonoma County, to 15 months in jail for convictions of selling heroin and possessing marijuana.

After hearing testimony from a drug agent about Harris's involvement in drug sales, the judge rejected a plea from Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino that the man be sent to state prison.

Instead, Judge Wilson gave him a suspended state prison sentence and placed him on three years probation. He ordered him to spend six months in jail on the marijuana charge and nine months on the heroin sale.

Harris had earlier pleaded guilty to the two counts, and two charges of selling weed in 1967 were dismissed.

Harris was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury in February 1968, after a countywide drug roundup. He was not arrested for more than a year after the indictment, however, and said he did not know there was a warrant out for his arrest.

While out on bail after he was arrested, he was accused of selling heroin on May 23, 1969.

Six To Compete On Tiburon Ballot

Alvin R. Kuhn, M. Carlisle Becker and R. Gary Gray were the final entries yesterday into the race for three Tiburon City Council seats which will be vacated April 14. All three filed nomination papers shortly before the noon deadline.

They will challenge three other candidates, including Mayor Branwell D. Fanning who filed Wednesday. Two other council incumbents, William R. Bremer and Thomas E. Drohan, have indicated they will not seek reelection.

Kuhn, 44, a San Francisco stockbroker who has lived in Tiburon five years, said he is running because he feels his 19 years of business experience will be valuable on the council.

"I think the current city council has done a very fine job of studying and deciding the issues in Tiburon and I feel we are moving into the implementation phase of many of these decisions," he said. "I feel I have a background in management skills to contribute to this phase of development."

Kuhn, who lives with his wife and three children at 27 Tara Hill Road, is a former division sales and marketing manager with Crown Zellerbach Corp.

He is a member of the Sales and Marketing Executives Club of San Francisco, the Commonwealth Club of California and the Marin Estate Planning Council.

Fanning, a 44-year-old advertising executive, will be seeking his second term on the council. He has been mayor for the past year.

"I thought one of us ought to stay and see the important city projects through, particularly (implementation of) the downtown plan and acquisition of bicycle paths," Fanning said, referring to the loss of Bremer and Drohan.

In addition to those projects, the candidate said he saw the development of Angel Island and residential areas on the fringe of the city, as well as transportation as other crucial issues facing Tiburon in the next four years.

Fanning is tourist marketing director for the Compton Advertising Co. in San Francisco. He is a member of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, Tiburon Peninsula Club and the Commonwealth Club of California.

He is married with three daughters and lives at 4 Burrell Court.

Becker, 34, of 1828 Centro West, has lived in Tiburon since 1965 and is a partner in the landscape architecture firm of Berridge, Becker and Julin, San Francisco.

He is a member of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and the Tiburon-Belvedere Landmark Society.

He said he is a candidate because he would like a part in shaping policies "during the next few years which are going to be very critical years for Tiburon."

Gray, 38, an architect and planning consultant for Lester Gorseline and Associates of San Francisco, said he believes his experience in planning could be beneficial to the community.

Gray, of 1078 Paradise Drive, has lived in Tiburon five years and intends to raise specific issues during the campaign "after I have talked with those who will be affected by the programs I am considering.

Auto Troubles Delay Nader

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Ralph Nader, who has voiced his complaints about car defects in Senate hearing rooms and in a book, was late for an appearance Thursday because of an automobile breakdown.

The 34-year-old consumer crusader was to speak in the afternoon at Bucks County Community College but the car he was to travel in from New York City broke down.

Nader declined comment on the trouble saying he did not wish to embarrass the owner of the car. He said he does not own an auto because he does not want his ownership to be considered an endorsement for a particular model.

Tricia Nixon Ends Long Florida Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon has returned to the White House after staying nearly a month at the family residence in Key Biscayne, Fla.

She went to Florida Jan. 24 to recuperate from a stubborn flu attack, and came down six days later with measles.

Shooting Victim Sues Sheriff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Daniel Porter, 18, Albany, filed a $200,000 damage suit Thursday in U.S. District Court against Alameda County Sheriff Frank Madigan charging he was shot "unlawfully" during the People's Park demonstration last May.

Porter's suit claimed he was "maliciously deprived of his constitutional rights" when he was "lawfully upon a public street."

Candidates Swell To 7 For Novato

Three more candidates entered the Novato City Council race yesterday filing their nomination papers just before the noon deadline.

Throwing their hats in the ring were incumbent Babe Silva and Wilfred H. Lieb, both previously announced candidates, and George C. Quesada, an unexpected entrant.

That makes seven candidates for two positions on the council in the April 14 election. The others in the race are: Mayor Harley A. McAskill, Betty Machado, F. Wayne Sartain and Joseph E. Bonomolo.

Quesada, 44, of 1860 Virginia Avenue, said that he did not make up his mind to run until yesterday morning when he took out papers and returned them before the deadline.

He is chairman of the Novato Planning Commission. He is also on the plan review committee, the downtown study committee and the city-county planning counci. He is a member of the Telegraph Hill Dwellers Association and Inverness Improvement Association.

He believes in keeping down taxes, eliminating tax inequitites, proper annexation, better streets, parks, housing, and law and order.

Permit Granted For Air Route

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Pacific Southwest Airlines has been granted a temporary certificate to fly between San Diego and San Jose from Hollywood-Burbank Airport.

The California Public Utilities Commission announced Thursday it had granted the permit after ruling last August that PSA could not "tack on" its San Diego to Hollywood-Burbank flights to its Hollywood-Burbank to San Jose flights.

The previous ruling was issued on a complaint by Air California, which was flying between Hollywood-Burbank and San Jose and Oakland. Air California was later granted permission to abandon the route.

Hair-Trigger Burglar Alarms Bother Ross

Ross's meager four-man police force has chased 18 false burglar alarm calls in the last four months and the town council made plain last night that it doesn't like it.

The council — at Roy Farrington Jones urging — sent the matter to the town's community protection committee for study and indicated it would be willing to consider levying a fine against homeowners whose alarms go off falsely.

"That many false alarms in four months is entirely out of line," said Jones, who noted that more and more homeowners are installing burgular alarms in their homes.

"Have you ever seen the way the police driver to get to the homes?" he asked. "Some day somebody is going to get killed by a policeman on his way to a false alarm."

Jones said that the alarms are frequently tripped by kids, servants or visitors to the homes or the alarms are triggered by faulty wiring. He also urged the council to adopt an ordinance for both fire and burglar alarms which would require that any alarm placed in a Ross home would have to be inspected by the city to see that it is hooked up right.

Jones noted that every false alarm by a fire box costs the city a minimum of $100. He suggested a $25 fine for a person whose burglar alarm goes off accidentally.

Police Chief John F. Harris declined to say in public how many burglar alarms were in the town but said there "were plenty" with many more being hooked up each month.

The committee will consider a comprehensive ordinance which would regulate both burglar and fire alarms in the town and present it at the next council meeting.

The Ross Town Council Also:

VARIANCE — Approved a variance allowing Anthony F. Rose, Madrona Avenue, to add two bedrooms and a bathroom to his home, allowing a 30-foot rear setback while the town's ordinance requires 40 feet.

BURNING BAN — Held second reading and adopted an ordinance amending the town's municipal code on backyard burning so that it coincides with Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's laws.

PARKING — Held first reading of an ordinance which would limit parking on the west side of the post office parking lot to two hours. Approved by 5-0 vote.

TRAILERS — Helf first reading and approved an ordinance which would prohibit occupancy overnight in trailers and other vehicles capable of being lived in on public property. Took no action however on another section of this ordinance which would prohibit even the parking overnight of such vehicles on public streets.

PROBATION — Held first reading of an ordinance changing the probation period for new town employees from six months to one year. Approved by 5-0 vote.

ELECTION — Decided to vote for San Anselmo councilman Kenneth L. Anderson and Corte Madera mayor Edward W. Colthurst on the Council of Mayors and Councilmen's transportation committee.

BUDGET MEETINGS — Set March 12, April 9, May 14 and June 11 as dates for budget discussions for the 1970-71 fiscal budget.

Howard Oser Elected To Head Greenbrae Owners

Howard M. Oser has been elected president for 1970 of the Greenbrae Home Owners Association. Outgoing president Ronald O. Plambeck was named membership chairman, secretary Beth Reilly reported.

Other officers will be named at the first meeting of the newly-elected board of directors, which also includes Robert A. Geurts, John A. Russell, Stewart N. Boxer, Kermit V. Speeg, Col. Robert Nourse, David E. Simonds and Mrs. Reilly.

The membership discussed taking over maintenance of public areas such as street islands, from Schultz Construction Co. as the firm has asked, but left a decision to the board. Plambeck told the members at Wednesday's annual meeting that the most feasible plan would be to form a special services district for maintenance.

Guest speaker was Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, who spoke on commuter and transportation problems.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

A 69-year-old San Rafael woman sustained minor injuries yesterday when her car crashed into the side of the U.S. Post Office at 40 Bellam Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today.

According to police the accident occurred after Mrs. Elisabeth M. Rodin of 43 McNear Drive, hit the gas peddle instead of the brake and drove over the sidewalk into the building at 4:22 p.m. Two post office windows were broken in the crash, police said.

Mrs. Rodin told police she would go to Marin General Hospital for treatment but the hospital had no record of the case today.

Hike Sought On Motor Vehicle Fees

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Motor vehicle registration fees should be hiked $1 for one year to research ways to cut automative air pollution, the California State Automobile Association proposed yesterday.

The hike would be effective July 1 under the association's proposal. The research would be carried out by creating an Automotive Air Pollution Research Board.

The increase would raise about $13 million, the association estimated.

The associate association stressed, in a statement to the press, that "this is not to be construed as a request for diverting gasoline tax funds" now reserved by the constitution for highway purposes.

Office Entered

A ransacking thief, who attempted and failed to smash a cash register containing 50 cents, broke into the office of Valley Tow Service, 931 Second Street about 4:50 a.m. today, San Rafael police have reported.

I-J, Union Negotiation Talk Held

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Representatives of the San Rafael Independent-Journal and the striking typographical union met Thursday with federal mediators, but no progress toward settling the sometimes violent six-week-old strike was announced.

It was the first meeting between the parties since the strike was called by Local 21 of the union on Jan. 7.

Commissioner Jack Griffin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service issued a statement saying: "The meeting today was exploratory and resolved no issues. However, it was successful in reopening channels of communications."

The meeting took place in the mediation service's offices in the Federal Building. Griffin said, "The tone of the session was amicable and further meettors upon completion of some necessary research by the parties."

Griffin said the next meeting would not take place for at least two days. He also said both sides had agreed not to comment on the meetings.

County Park Outlay Hike

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended approval of a $685,000 capital improvement budget for next year, up $250,000 from this year.

The recommendation will go to the county administrator and to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Included in the 1970-71 capital projects are improvements at Stafford Lake and at McNear's beach, which the county is in the process of buying; the first phase of a proposed tennis and swim center; acquisition of San Geronimo redwoods and a bay front park in Corte Madera tidelands, and funds for other site acquisitions.

In addition to the capital improvements budget, director Pierre W. Joske said he must still compute the salaries, services and supplies portion of the budget. Total cost of salaries is expected to jump because six more men may be needed to staff Stafford Lake when improvements are added, and McNear's Beach, if acquired by the county. The county parks and recreation department has a total force of 21 men, including those who maintain the Civic Center grounds and planter areas.

This year's parks and recreation budget totals $711,000. Next year's is expected to be close to a million dollars.

Frightened Off

A burglar, who tripped a burglar alarm at Marin Motor Sport at 1560 Fourth Street today after midnight, apparently was frightened away before stealing anything, San Rafael police have reported.

Flood Channel Pact Is Signed

Marin Junior College District trustees last night signed an agreement that will permit a concrete flood control channel to cut through the center of the Kentfield campus.

There was a last-minute plea from Marty Kent Jones of Kent Woodlands, who battled against a channel in Tamalpais Creek last spring, to "set an example for Marin."

There was only a sprinkling of students in the audience, the ardor of the fight against the Corps of Engineers Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project apparently spent.

With college approval imminent and inevitable, Mrs. Jones battled to the end.

She told trustees that the stand at Tamalpais Creek was undertaken "to buy time for you people to change your mind."

The college must set an example, Mrs. Jones asserted.

Trustees approved the right-of-way agreement with the corps for the next phase of the project which will extend from College Avenue across the campus to upstream of Laurel Avenue.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, bristling because the college district has been accused of delaying the project, wanted to make sure there weren't any unresolved issues.

Then William L. Hess, assistant county director of public works, challenged some of the wording, and got into a discussion with Dale A. Fleming, college planning director.

Trustee Donald K. Felt said he thought the agreement had been thrashed out, and hammering it out in front of the board "was no way to draft an agreement."

When the group returned, the wording agreed upon, trustees asked again if anything was unresolved. Hess said only the relocation of utilities, and Fleming said work was proceeding on this matter.

Trustees also authorized placing in escrow $24,000 to cover the additional cost of a bridge across the creek, wider than provided for in replacement costs.

The right-of-way agreement included a commitment that the college district would grant an easement to the Ross Valley Sanitary District for a sewer line within the flood control easement.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

GRAND JURY—Took note of grand jury criticism that the college has been a haven for dissidents and that students have been assaulted, heard Supt.-President John A. Grasham that he is gathering material for a reply, and agreed to respond to the jury after Grasham reports.

ADULT EDUCATION—Approved as adult education courses, police supervision, in-service paperhanging, real estate investments and exchanges, commercial graphics and design, life sculpture A-B, dynamics of supervision in public service, and conservation, gardening and farming.

LEAVE—Granted Charles Herndon, financial aids officer, leave for the 1970-71 school year without pay.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENT—Approved the interdistrict attendance contract for 1970-71, same as the current agreement, which limits free exchanges with other districts to three students.

POLICY—Rejected a proposed change in policy which would have prevented the board from taking an official position on a social or political issue unless it was related directly "to Comunity College education."

RETIREMENT—Approved a change in the retirement policy which will permit an employee to work part-time after reaching the mandatory retirement age of 65.

CUTBACKS—Heard a report from Joseph Berruezo, assistant dean, vocational-technical education, on the effects of budget cuts on occupational programs at the college this school year.

SURPLUS SALE—Approved selling high bidders surplus equipment as follows, panel truck to Frank E. Short, Fairfax, for $778; Volkswagen van to William R. Smith, San Francisco, $175; and dental chair to Patti Arana, P.O. Box 444, Ross, $51.

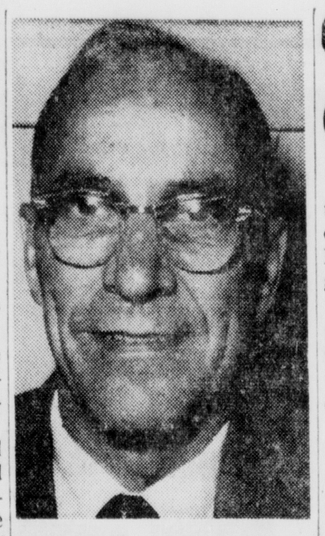
STATE FUNDS—Authorized application for matching state funds for projects during 1971-72 in the district's 10-year building program including $2.1 million for site development at the north campus, $404,000 for a computer, remodeling of the chemistry and business facilities and Olney Hall, equipping Harlan Center and the proposed new library, and remodeling of the art building.

CONFLICTING REQUESTS—Received a request from the Ross Valley Sanitary District to use a three-and-a-half acre area behind the physical education complex near Corte Madera Creek, for a sanitary pumping station, an area also being proposed for an ecological study area. Trustees took no action and indicated they would favor a public hearing be held by the district.

Trustee Charles W. Gray was absent.

No Charge Filed

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Keith George Van Bree, 44, of San Rafael, who was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and a parole violation.



PAUL (DUTCH) CLYMER
To end long career

Longtime Instructor Will Retire

After two years there, he took a leave of absence to study for a master's degree at Columbia University.

When he returned west in 1935, he joined the staff at the College of Marin to teach math and to help coach football and basketball and serve as head track coach.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said the college Alumni Association, in a drive to obtain scholarship funds, will name it the Paul Clymer Scholarship Fund.

Farm Students Elect

College Trustees Deadlock On Granting Of Six Sabbaticals

Marin Junior College District trustees, indicating a tightening of the reins on sabbatical leaves, last night deadlocked on granting six leaves for 1970-71.

The sabbatical leave system, funding in light of a financial pinch and the proposed studies to be undertaken on leave were challenged prior to the vote.

Two weeks ago trustees voted 2-2 on the leaves, and last night they voted 3-3, with a third vote expected at their next session.

Voting to grant the leaves were Donald K. Felt, who had criticized the content of the proposed leaves, Robert E. Oliver and Theodore C. Wellman.

Opposing were Harry J. Moore, Elizabeth M. Deedy and President Robert E. Rogers. Absent was Charles W. Gray.

Felt said he didn't believe there was any requirement for a junior collge instructor "to have a year's vacation every seven years."

He said he bedieved in the concept of a sabbatical leave as an experience to expand intellectual horizons and undertake further study but the majority didn't suggest programs "that serve the kind of need, kind of purpose, I think they should serve. One looks like a barely disguised vacation. It's very upsetting."

Moore pointed out that during the current school year there have been important cuts in capital outlay, transportation, hiring of teachers and supplies.

"How much more do you cut into these without causing severe difficulties?" he asked. "I want to know before I approve (leaves) where is that money coming from."

Oliver said the administration could make efforts to cut the additional costs by reducing replacements, reducing courses and "using the faculty to the fullest extent."

Mrs. Deedy stressed that there was "extreme urgency financially," and leaves had to be considered in relationship to the total budget.

Felt proposed that a board committee be formed to redefine the purposes of the sabbatical leaves, consider the methods of choosing instructors for leaves and methods of assuring that the district's interests will be served by the leaves.

Trustes voted unanimously to form the committee, and Rogers appointed Mrs. Deedy, Wellman and Felt to it.

Grasham said he might have some budget figures for trustees to consider soon and possibly a meeting could be held Thursday or Feb. 3 to review them and the sabbatical leaves.

Westby Gangs' Rumble Halted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police arrested 20 youths and seized molotov cocktails, knives and at least one gun Thursday night when they headed off a fight between two gangs.

Officers said the gangs, one from the Mission District and the other from the Ingleside, massed in a park and were "ready to go when the first patrol car showed up and scattered them."

About 25 policemen chased after the 50 youths who fled.

Jail Sentence For Burglary

Albert Wells, 29, of Sebastopol, was sentenced yesterday to serve 10 consecutive weekends in the Sonoma County Jail for burglary.

Superior Court Judge Kenneth M. Eymann declared the offense a misdemeanor and suspended a two-year prison term. Wells was also placed on probation for two years.

Wells had pleaded guilty to the Dec. 27 burglary of the Home Appliance Co., 5665 Santa Rosa Avenue, Rohnert Park. Wells and two Cotati policemen were injured when Wells collided with a police car in attempting to escape.

Youth Arrested Inside Home

Paul Phillips, 18, of no known address, was booked into Marin County jail today for investigation of burglary, marijuana possession and vagrancy after sheriff's deputies arrested him in a Mill Valley home.

Deputies said Phillips was discovered about 5:20 a.m. by Reg Field in the Field home at 914 Valley View Avenue. Officers said Field held the youth, who appeared to be under the influence of drugs, until help arrived.

No bail has yet been set for Phillips, who was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

2,000 Homeless In Brazilian Floods

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — More than 2,000 persons were reported homeless today in the interior of Sao Paulo State in floods that followed intense rainstorms.

Hardest hit was the town of Amparo, 55 miles north of Sao Paulo. The rising Camanducaia River forced hundreds to flee their homes. Flood victims took shelter in private homes, schools,and the municipal market.

The Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep found in Wyoming is the foremost among wild sheep races in the United States.

Monte Carlo Coupe

$3,123* luxury.

You've undoubtedly been invited to examine and drive personal luxury cars before. But we'll bet this is the first time you've been invited to see and drive one priced at $3,123*.

At that price, Monte Carlo is only slightly higher than many models of our Chevelle, America's most popular mid-size car.

Yet Monte Carlo's a car of thickly padded seats that use the flat "S" springs found in fine furniture. Rich cloth or custom-knit nylon fabrics. An instrument panel with the look of Carpathian burled elm. Plush deep-twist carpeting. And extreme quiet, thanks to an unusual amount of sound-absorbing insulation.

Monte Carlo is every bit the luxury car in other respects, too. For instance, you get a 350-cubic-inch V8, along with power disc brakes operating behind full wheel covers —all standard.

And if you think this car and its price make impressive reading, just wait until you try out the real thing at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Putting you first, keeps us first. CHEVROLET

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Monte Carlo, including Federal excise tax and suggested dealer new-car preparation charge. Destination charges, state and local taxes and optional equipment additional.

TURNPIKE BALANCING ACT

Somehow, driver Barbara A. Thoren of Guilford, Conn., managed to balance her car atop the center strip guardrail on the Connecticut Turnpike at East Lyme, yesterday. Although all four wheels of her chariot spun free in the air, she was not injured. (AP Wirephoto)

Clarification Asked On Employee Status

Too many county employees are in the "managerial" category and thus ineligible for membership in bargaining units, the manager of the Marin County Employees Association charged yesterday before the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Randall M. Prevo asked for a stricter definition of "managerial employees" so that only the department head and his top assistant would be managerial, and all others would be free to join employee bargaining units.

He also suggested that the smallest bargaining be not less than 5 per cent of the total employees, or about 60 persons, and that the county and the bargaining unit be required to submit to compulsorey arbitration instead of voluntary arbitration in case of unresolved disputes.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney argued against Prevo's proposals. He said managerial employees must include confidential secretaries and other employees who have a confidential relationship with the county board of supervisors.

For example, said Maloney, some of his deputies and deputies in the county administrator's office are on the county negotiating team that bargains with employee groups and unions. If they were members of employee groups, "then they would in effect be negotiating for their own salaries."

Prevo replied that he agrees with Maloney on confidential secretaries, but too many others are barred from the county employees association. "The 150 people we cannot represent have been disenfranchised. That's unfair and we are most dissatisfied with the present definition," declared Prevo.

Maloney said the county has negotiated for two years, and no impasse has been reached. "I don't think the need has been justified."

The Personnel Commission, headed by Chairman Bella Aaron, set the next meeting for 3 p.m. March 13 at the Civic Center to discuss the issues raised by Prevo.

Other questions raised yesterday and continued for discussion next month include these:

EXTRA-HIRE — The need to cut down on the use of extra-hire personnel on a long term basis, so that such employees will not be denied permanent status.

EVALUATION — How to set up a procedure whereby department heads and supervisors will make periodic evaluations of employee performance, and whether employees may appeal such evaluations.

RESIDENCE — Can the Treasurer-Tax Collector require employees to live in Marin County? Prevo asked for the county counsel's opinion on this.

Bombing Case Reward Swells

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A reward fund topped $25,000 today as city and law enforcement officials sought to halt bombing attacks on Bay Area police.

Police drafted plans to fence and floodlight precinct stations in the wake of two bombings — one fatal— and the discovery of a booby trap wired to a policeman's car in nearby Vallejo.

City flags flew at half staff as services were planned today for Sgt. Brian V. McDonnell, 45, who died Wednesday.

McDonnell and seven other officers were injured Monday night when a time bomb made of galvanized pipe, bullets and steel fence staples exploded in the Park Station, near the Haight-Ashbury District. One officer remains hospitaiized.

Acquittal In Burglary Trial

A 42-year-old Vallejo man was acquitted yesterday by a Marin Superior Court jury after his second trial on a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito residence Nov. 19.

Released was Emmett Maiden. A jury which convicted a co-defendant, Michael Gerald Abrams, 30, of San Francisco, on Jan. 19, was unable to reach a decision on whether Maiden was guilty.

The men were arrested as they sat in a car across the street from a residence at 182 Bulkley Avenue, which had been burglarized.

IF YOU happened to peek into that interesting-looking little shop in downtown Larkspur called House of Hoops you might see a bride trying on the dress the shop's proprietor has made especially for her. Here, a bride of last month, Mrs. Lee Lyon (Jari Fowler) is modeling the outfit Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung made of off white velvet for the skirt and chiffon and lace for the blouse. Miss Simone, left in the mirror, is wearing a special occasion outfit she made for herself. Third from the right in the mirror is Mrs. John Given (Rhonda Esplin) who is modeling a pink bridesmaid dress. Seated in the center is Jari's sister, Gail, wearing the outfit she wore as Jari's bridesmaid, also made by Miss Simone. And standing, center right, is Betty Eitzen wearing a bright bridesmaid dress.

PULLING CHIFFON off a roll in the cutting room of her shop is Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, whose only rule about making the bridal gown she also designs is that the future bridegroom doesn't see it until the wedding day.

Bridal Gowns Her Design Specialty

There's a shop in downtown Larkspur called House of Hoops that gets most of its business from people who come in because they can't figure out what the name means.

In the windows they see a display of antique looking handmade blouses, skirts and a pair of white lacy pantaloons draped over tapestry-covered Queen Anne chairs.

Actually, the young woman who runs the shop, Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, may be inside putting together a one-of-a-kind wedding dress that she and a prospective bride designed. Or, she may be fitting one of the bridesmaids, or maybe making a cocktail dress for someone's special occasion.

The shop's name comes from the time over a year ago when Miss Simone, the name she uses, decided to open up shop as a wholesale petticoat maker. After signing the lease she learned the store front could only be used for a retail business so she put some of the petticoats in the window to sell.

The demand for bridal petticoats in downtown Larkspur wasn't too great, but she gradually started making gowns.

BRIDES NEEDN'T always wear white Miss Simone says. "A girl should wear whatever is becoming to to her." "In fact, a girl recently came to her to finish a navy crushed velvet wedding dress she had started for herself.

Prospective brides who see the shop or hear about it from a friend come because they want something totally different from any other bride and because "bridesmaids don't want to look like bridesmaids," she said.

"I think when a bride comes in she is thinking of how she will look coming down the aisle," Elizabeth says. "The girls usually come in with an idea and walk out with just the opposite."

Born in Hungary, she escaped in 1956 and came to San Francisco under the sponsorship of the Red Cross. She chose San Francisco because "it sounds so romantic," but mostly because "I wanted to be as far away from the Iron Curtain as I could." She left her mother, two sisters and three brothers and

Mrs. Phyllis Henegar Exchanges Vows With T. R. Stocks In Novato

Children of the bride and bridegroom served as bridesmaids and ring bearer at the wedding of Mrs. Phyllis A. Henegar and Thomas R. Stocks of Novato at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato on Valentine's Day.

Mrs. Henegar, the daughter of Mrs. Ann Wagner of Spokane, Wash., chose as her matron of honor Mrs. Gino Westcott of Novato and bridesmaids were Lindri, age 7, and Kyle Henegar, 8 years old, and Deborah Stocks, 10 years old, all of Novato. Ringbearer was the bridegroom's son, 11-year-old Thomas Stocks Jr.

John Stuber of Novato was best man for the bridegroom, and Gino Westcott ushered. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stocks of Deerfield Beach, Fla., are his parents.

The bridegroom attended high school and college in Illinois and is employed at Pacific National Life Insurance Co. in San Francisco.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Bitterness She Held Back For 10 Years Has To Be Released

DEAR HELEN,

I've held this back for 10 years. Maybe my letter will let off enough steam so that I can follow my husband's advice and say nothing, just quietly build our lives away from his mother and never tell her why. But oh, I want so badly to pour out the bitterness that's in me. Please help.

Mort and I had to get married 10 years ago, which made me a prostitute in his mother's eyes. We dearly loved each other then, and our love has grown.

In our second year of marriage, we made lots of mistakes. I got pregnant with the second baby, Mort lost his job. He'd already invested all our spare money($500) on college tuition and couldn't get it back. So he took a night job, and I got baby-sitting work. We cleared about $170 a month, and our rent took more than half of it. Mort wore a spring coat for below-zero weather; our daughter and I ate starches so he could get some protein to keep him going.

Our baby was born brain-damaged. In one week we had a $500 hospital bill. That meant weekly calls from the collection department and borrowing here to pay there until we went frantic.

Two months later the baby's seizures began. Between college and his job, Mort was working 16 hours a day. I had a 15-months-old daughter and a "dying" baby. For want of funds, I took him to the charity clinic. The degradation was horrible. They told me nothing. I'd walk the floor at night, not knowing which seizure would kill little Jerry. He lived.

My mother-in-law knew all this, yet she never offered to help. Mort, in desperation, finally asked her for his inheritance from his dad but she insisted it remain in stocks. We were so scared. I remember once telling her we were down to our last egg. It was the first and last time I ever mentioned our problems. She immediately remembered an appointment at the beauty parlor. I used that egg for a cake, as a morale builder.

Then I got pregnant again.

Through it all, our love held firm, but I developed a bitterness toward Mort's mother that is hard to hide, especially when she handed out $10,000 to his other brother as a down payment on a house. I've been nice to her, have ignored her barbs and try to overlook it when she obviously is repelled by Jerry's "fits," as she calls them.

Mort received his degree and has a fine job. We're out of the woods and will soon be transferred to another state. He says, "It's over. We survived. Don't make it worse with an open break." I feel she must hate her son, and why should he protect her? She hates him because of me, though all these years I've tried my level best to be a good and undemanding daughter-in-law. Now I want to tell her just what I really think.

Or do I? Now that I've written all this down, got it all out for the first time, maybe I feel as Mort does: We're strong people. She's the miserable one because she's selfish and vindictive. She's also lonely. Why should we bring ourselves to her level?

Thank you for hearing me out. You don't need to answer this. I guess I've answered my own problem — WISER

DEAR W.:

Your letter demands printing. It should be read by everyone with devastating problems, for it shows so plainly that just getting them down on paper is the first step, sometimes the only step needed, in solving them.

I'm glad you came to the right conclusion. Your mother-in-law knows, without being told, how wrong she is. Leave her—in peace.—H.

A BRIDE on St. Valentine's Day, Rhonda Esplin, now Mrs. John Given, left, looks at some of the veils made by Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, who also altered Rhonda's gown and made a special bridal slip and garter. Longer veils which flatter most brides are still in demand, Miss Simone said.

Virginia Tighe Is Bride In Marinwood Ceremony

Virginia Tighe and Steven Edward Hoover of Novato were married at St. Vincent's Church in Marinwood on Saturday.

Virginia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard I. Tighe. Her matron of honor was Mrs. Richard I. Tighe Jr. of Novato and maid of honor was Christina Gruye of Novato. Bridesmaids were Linda J. Cantrell of Anaheim, cousin of the bride, Christine R. Baczynski of Orange and Gayle A. Green of Granada Hills.

Richard I. Tighe Jr. brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Steven Conti of Davis, Stephen Hoover, of Kingman, Ariz., William Troutman of San Rafael and George Rederich of Los Angeles.

Following a wedding reception at the Officer's club at Hamilton Air Force Base, the couple went on a wedding trip to Canada.

The couple will live in Corvallis, Ore. where the bridegroom is a graduate student at Oregon State University.

The bride was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attended the College of Marin. She is also the sister of Kenneth, Janice and Valerie Tigh, all of Novato.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Hoover of Novato are the bridegroom's parents. He was graduated from San Rafael High School and the University of San Francisco.

Hungarian-Born Designer Turns Out Custom Bridal Gowns, Slips

has returned twice in unsuccessful attempts to get them out. Her mother, who had no trouble leaving the country because she is over 65, came for a seven month visit last year and taught Elizabeth some Hungarian folk art stitches she has used in several ruffled skirts, such as the ones for the wedding of Jari Fowler and Lee Lyon on Jan. 31 in San Anselmo.

ELIZABETH AND her 17 year old son, Gosep, have lived in Larkspur for 10 years and she thinks the Bay Area is "the best place to live in the whole world."

As a young girl in Hungary, Elizabeth was on a swimming and diving team that practiced every day at dawn and in the evening. She competed nationally and almost made an Olympic team. "I was just skin and bone because there wasn't enough to eat," she recalled of her life on the farm where the products her family produced were taken away by the state and distributed.

Having no skill when she came to the Bay Area, Miss Simone started working for a sportswear manufacturer, sewing in the shops along with other immigrants. Later she worked for a bridal slip manufacturer, started designing them and then bought the business.

Her background, she says, "is all what I am today. I wish I had time to learn more from some of the places I was." The best way to learn dress designing, she says, is from the bottom. "You can't learn how to design by sitting down and scratching."

She is teaching Marika Miller, a College of Marin student who escaped from Hungary with her brother two years ago, dressmaking and she says that Marika has already done some designing.

A SPECIALTY is naturally the petticoat Miss Simone makes to go with the gown. She said that brides don't realize how much they pick up their skirt when walking around and dancing at the reception. She likes to make pantaloons because "it's much more fun" for the bride to wear them. Her only strict rule about making the dress is that the bridegroom doesn't see it before the wedding. She will even keep it hidden from the bridesmaids if requested.

Not all of the bridal gowns Miss Simone makes are completely original. She recently remade a 30-year-old wedding dress that the bride's mother had worn. And she often remakes gowns that brides order from manufacturers.

About the only thing Miss Simone has time to make for herself is an occasional party dress for a special event such as the dark green velvet gown with gold braid trim she is finishing to wear to the Hungarian ball this month in San Francisco.

Special features you'll enjoy:

William T. Ortman who came to San Rafael at the turn of the century as a boy, has written another of his recollections of those early days in Marin County for tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine. This time he tells the story of a San Francisco disaster — the sinking of the SS City of Rio de Janeiro. It was a Washington's Birthday tragedy of 1902. And Ortman has personal recollections of the vent.

Sterling Sherwin is probably this country's most prolific writer of cowboy songs. He also pours forth a steady flow of verse, although he rejects the title of poet. And rhyme and song are only two of the gifts of this multi-talented Marinite. For tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement, editor Don Keown has written a special feature about Sherwin — whom you might know as John Milton Hagen of Mill Valley.

Marin Greeks Set Dinner Dance To Celebrate Their Mardi Gras

Trio Orfeo will provide the music for Greek and international dancing Sunday evening at the Greek Apokriatico Mardi Gras dinner dance at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Serving of the dinner with Greek epicurean touches such as panakopitka and homemade baklava will begin at 6 p.m. Chefs Spiro Halikas and John Papadopoulos are preparing the dinner.

Awards will be given for the best costume, and Dottie Christo of Terra Linda and John Cadoux will reign as Apokraitico queen and king at the party to benefit the year-old Greek Orthodox Church of Marin County.

Mrs. Chris Christo of Terra Linda, chairman, will be assisted by the members of the Marin Ladies' Auxiliary, Philoptochos Society. Mrs. Thano Johnson is food chairman, and Mrs. Christo and Mrs. Peter G. Kavanjas of San Anselmo are reservations chairmen.

"SPRING FASHIONS FOR Children" will be the subject of a show presented by the Marin Section of the National Council of Jewish Women at the Holiday Inn in San Rafael on Monday at 2 p.m.

This is the first event sponsored by this recently organized community service group, of which Mrs. Murray Rayden of Greenbrae is acting president. It will benefit Ship-A-Box, a nationwide effort of the Council, which provides educational toys and other materials for children's institutions in various parts of the world. The ticket for admission will be one such toy, or the money with which to buy one. Mrs. Harold Schnurer is chairman.

Modeling fashions will be children of members including Cathy and Jimmy Auslen, Danielle and Jeffrey Cain, Lisa and Valerie Cohn, Nancy and David Lang, Lauren and Andrea Sheft, all of Tiburon, and Danilu Schnurer of Larkspur. Mary and Cathy Rayden of Greenbrae will sing and play guitar. Babysitting for pre-schoolers will be provided and refreshments will be served.

MRS. GEORGE Angus of Novato will direct the Marin County Heart Sunday Campaign of the 1970 Heart Fund Drive for a second consecutive year with Mrs. Ralph Bagley of Fairfax as co-chairman.

Mrs. Angus has been a heart volunteer for the past 14 years in Marin and Redwood City; Mrs. Bagley has served in 12 Heart Fund drives both in Marin and Los Angeles.

Acting as regional chairmen will be Mmes. E. D. Meyers, R. C. Berreman, R. C. Frees and George Peterson for the central region; H. C. Petros and R. J. Jacques for Southern Marin; Joseph Cox, western region; Phillip Box and Charles Stewart, northern region.

Heart Sunday will be observed March 1, and volunteers will begin calling on their neighbors Monday.

CHRISTINE ARNSBARGER

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

Fat Content

When buying ground beef, choose the type right in fat content for the dish you are making. There are four varieties in many stores —ground beef, up to 30 per cent fat; ground chuck, 10-20 per cent fat; ground round, about 10 per cent fat, and ground sirloin, less than 10 per cent.

Quick Facial

Don't say you don't have time for a facial. While running your bath water, slap some kind of cream on your face. Then take a hot washcloth (wrung out) and hold it over your face for a few minutes. It's the quickest way to get a good face cleaning and it relaxes you at the same time.

Old McCarthy Senate Foe Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. (AP) — Ralph E. Flanders, a former U.S. senator and one of the first Republicans to denounce the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, died Thursday at Springfield Hospital. He was 89.

Flanders entered the Senate in 1946. At that time, he was chairman of Jones & Lamson Machine Co. of Springfield, a firm he started in as an apprentice machinist. He also was a former president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

In a Senate speech, he said McCarthy, who in the early 1950s became a controversial figure charging Communist inflation of government positions, belonged to "a one-man party whose name is McCarthyism, a title he has proudly accepted."

Eurasia Bridge Project Begins

ISTANBUL (AP) — Work was started today on the Eurasia Bridge, the first span across the Bosporous, as Turkish warships fired salvos and flag-decked ferries and liners sounded whistles.

President Cevdet Sunay and Premier Suleyman Demirel took time out from a political crisis to attend groundbreaking ceremonies.

The bridge, more than a mile long, will connect the European and Asian continents. It is being built by a British-German syndicate at a cost of $33 million and is to be completed in 1973.

It will be the world's fourth longest bridge, Turkish officials said.

TV REVIEW

Skelton Is Hired By NBC

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS dropped Red Skelton from next season's schedule at least partly because its research departmnet statistics indicated that 42 per cent of his 32-million viewers were 50 years old and over; 34 per cent were between 18 and 49, and the rest 17 and under.

NBC immediately hired Skelton because its statistics showed he ranked 29th in its list of "demographic appeal to audiences in the 18 to 49 age group" and was No. 8 in the popularity list.

These confusing viewpoints indicate how complicated television's numbers game is becoming as audience research gets more sophisticated. And television has become more youth conscious since advertising agencies began hunting for entertainment programs with appeal to young, growing families —the big consumers.

CBS and NBC released their fall schedules within minutes of each other Thursday, and except for the switch of networks by Skelton, they contained few real surprises.

CBS will drop five shows, including Jackie Gleason's hour and "Petticoat Junction," and add six. NBC will drop five, including "My World and Welcome to It," and add five.

NBC, as anticipated, decided to end "I Dream of Jeannie," "The Debbie Reynolds Show" and "Daniel Boone."

Apollo Station To Check Eclipse

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The silvery glow of the full moon will fade sharply, disappear and then return in the predawn hours Saturday. (9:22 p.m. today to 3:25 a.m. tomorrow, PST.)

This lunar eclipse will be unlike any other in history. For the first time, thanks to a group of five scientific instruments set up on the moon's surface by the Apollo 12 astronauts, mann will be able to astornauts, man will be able to "see" and measure the jolting "shock" the eclipse causes.

Scientists plan an all-night vigil in Houston's Mission Control Center, starting late this evening, to watch jiggling needles record on moving charts the events taking place a quarter-million miles away on the lunar surface. They think they know what will happen.

Gunmen Snatch $200,000 Gems

NEWPORT BEACH (UPI)—Gems worth $200,000 were taken from three showcases at a Fashion Island jewelry store Thursday be two well-dressed holdup men.

The men entered the store pretending to be customers and then drew pistols when everyone had left. The bandits tied up store manager Douglas Marsh and hustled him into a backroom where they took his keys.

The men fled with the gems in paper sacks.

$900,000 Suit Filed Against Rolling Stones

OAKLAND (UPI)—Fourteen landowners in the area of the Altamont Raceway have filed a $900,000 damare suit against Britain's Rolling Stones rock group and the promoters of their concert at the track last Dec. 6.

The festival, which drew 300,000 persons, resulted in one slaying and three accidental deaths.

In the suit filed Thursday, the plaintiffs charged that the massive crowd trespassed and destroyed their "property, improvements and fixtures," and "also destroyed and rendered certain portions of their property unfit for dwelling and farming." This is the second suit arising from the rock festival.

ART REVIEW

Ruth Asawa Show Has Airy Form

BY LAURA DEVENDORF

Common metal wire under Ruth Asawa's facile touch becomes an airy fantasy of form. It may allude to thorny winter-emptied shrubbery, deep sea vegetation, nets, an Oriental headdress or lantern, or tightened solid versions of these fragile structures.

Examples of all these sculptural ideas are found in Miss Asawa's shows in both Domenican College's library and San Marco Gallery, weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through March 13.

SPIKEY SCULPTURES

Like refugees from some leaf-stripped winter landscape, the artist's spikey sculptures have all the bleak delicacy of their natural counterparts. Beginning with thickened branches of tied wire strands, they spread and burst into brittle twigs of freed wire ends, some with crystal beads shimmering on their tips which add to their chill fragility.

Wire can also seem soft when crocheted into rounded, see-through hanging forms some of which are open and flared like variations on a dancer's tutu while others are self-contained shapes within other shapes within columns or rounded walls.

Even heavier versions sustain Miss Asawa's gift for lightness, especially a tree of tied wires, buds and blossoms, its wood base burned in swirls of shadow, or the several spiney deep sea growths in electroplated wire and cast bronze.

MAJOR PIECES

These are the major pieces but by no means all of the show. Miss Asawa was the sculptress on the Ghiradelli Square mermaid fountain and although this isn't a very exciting work it is interesting to see samples of the molds and forms from which it was cast.

Miss Asawa has also included work by children whom she teaches and this is not the quaint addendum that it sounds. These are thoroughly imaginative and charming plaques of baker's clay which range from a fanciful version of Noah's ark to an amusing school portrait of the students in front of Alvarado Elementary School. All, are a solid compliment to the spirit of this artist who shows a final facet of her artistic range in a group of soft, floral watercolors. These paintings are gentle, understated and like most of the work Miss Asawa does, right on the essence of the thing.

School Bonds Foes Criticized

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Taxpayers who withold approval of educational bonds as a reaction to campus disorders are actually playing into the hands of revolutionaries, Dr. Norman Topping, president of University of Southern California said Thursday.

"These same people will also advocate a harsh hand in dealing not only with student violence, but with legitimate student efforts to achieve a balance of power with administration and faculty," Topping said.

Topping said the avowed purpose of radical groups is "to alienate the sources of support for higher education," and he warned the general public not to overreact to campus disorder.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"COMPUTER WORE TENNIS SHOES" — Zany comedy about a none-too-bright student who by misconnecting wires in a computer is shocked into becoming a whiz kit. Amusing and attractively done.

"FUNNY GIRL" — Partly fictionalized biography details Fanny Brice's rise to fame. Big musical is lavishly mounted.

"ITALIAN JOB" — A wildly satirical comedy about a gang of thieves who hijack a shipment of gold with an assist from a computer. Imaginative nonsense.

"IT'S TOUGH TO BE A BIRD" — Beautiful, informative, highly amusing featurette combines live action, photo-animation and cartoon to show that man is so busy killing birds that many species are on the brink of extinction.

"OLIVER!"—A musical spectacular with superb settings and acting. Vividness of some of the violence of story may be frightening to very young children.

"2001: SPACE ODYSSEY" A long epic space adventure that is a fantastic and overwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID" — True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"DOWN HILL RACER" — A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by an equally absorbing story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"JENNY" — Jenny, pregnant and unwed needs a husband and Delano has 30 days to find an exemption. They enter into a marriage of convenience, the complications are that he has a steady girl friend and he also smokes marijuana. Story presented in an honest, quiet manner. Well acted. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"SECRET OF SANTA VICTORIA" — Anthony Quinn is perfectly cast as the drunken mayor of an Italian village, whose major problem is to keep a million bottles of wine out of Nazis' greedy hands. Filmed in a hill town, weather-beaten villagers add authenticity in the earthy battle of wits and wills. Dialogue risque, pace drags in spots, bedroom scenes relatively well handled.

"STERILE CUCKOO" — Tale of a first love told with insight that is a tribute to director Alan Pakula. Liza Minnelli gives an outstanding performance as a lonely mixed up kooky girl. Her affair with her boyfriend becomes her grasp on life, but since he does not love her, must make a painful decision.

"TOPAZ" — Title is code name for a Russian spy ring operating within the French government. Events are historically true. Hitchcock's craftsmanship is superb as usual, acting is perfect. A valid point about the futility of violence is made.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"PRIME OF MISS JEAN BRODIE" — Superb drama about unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a private school for girls. She lives vicariously and indoctrinates her students with her political philosophy. Film needs thoughtful adult evaluation to uncover the sham of its sick characters.

ADULTS ONLY

"ANGEL, ANGEL DOWN WE GO" — The experiences of an emotionally disturbed 18-year-old girl are played against the background of decadence in the society of her amoral parents. Her attempt to escape by joining a pack of rock singers gives her a taste of free sex and dope.

Nihilestic humor is often as tasteless as the nudity and obscenities.

"DEVIL'S EIGHT" — Crime, sex, sadistic brutality and gutter dialogue are combined to make this mediocre production about a Federal Agent who trains a group of convicts to break up a ring of bootleggers.

"EASY RIDER" — Far-out cross-country trip of two hippy motorcyclists creates a vision of America that is by turn beautiful and horrifying. Poetically photographed but has overlong LSD sequence.

"MIDNIGHT COWBOY" — Off-beat hardhitting story of a male prostitute and a crippled hustler who meet in New York. Sordidness is tempered by skill and compassion, told in an uncompromising way.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Paradise Shopping Center Due To Be Site Of Fondue Venture

A new restaurant planned to open about March 1 is the Fondue Pot, to be located at 5615 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

The site is where the Anderson and Co. music store used to be, in the Paradise Shopping Center. Don Fandre and York Fischer of Sausalito, who now operate French Quiche, doing their baking and delivering from Alfie's in Tiburon, long have been looking for a restaurant location of their own and have found it here.

They are remodeling and bringing in new kitchen equipment and will redecorate in an old European style, with a large fireplace. Both lunches and dinners will be served seven days a week, with hours from 10 a.m. until the bars close.

Food specialties will include fondues (cheese, beef and seafood), beef tartare, quiche, "Pizza Europa," assorted breads, cheeses and salads and they have applied for a wine and beer license. The preparing of the quiche products (which they supply to restaurants and stores) will also be transferred here from Alfie's.

THERE HAS BEEN a sale of Gary's at 928 Grant Avenue, Novato by Gary and Vivian Wowker to Charles E. Andersen, who is presently in the Air Force. Doris Stack is new manager.

For the time being the name Gary's will be retained, along with the same hours and food operation. When the wine and beer license is transferred, the new name will be The Silver Slipper.

THERE IS ALSO a new name scheduled for Gordy's Chat and Chew at 879 Fourth Street, San Rafael. This will be known as Barbara's.

New owner Barbara Casey, who bought from Gordon and Gladys Dresser, probably will make few other changes and the same hours from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays will be retained. She has handled a similar food operation for about six years at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Gordy has sold out for health reasons.

AT THE SUGGESTION of one of our readers and in view of many requests received, we are making available a limited number of extra copies of our recent Dining and Wining Guide for those who would like to have them sent to friends.

Send names and addresses of persons to whom you would like to have copies mailed, along with 30 cents for each name (which includes the cost of mailing), direct to the I-J Circulation Department.

AS A RESULT of one of his recent trips to Portugal, Kirby Atterbury of the Caprice in Tiburon has gone all-out in his wine recommendations and acquisitions for Porto (designated as the authentic wines of the Duoro River Valley, as distinguished from plain Port).

He has selected a number of vintages from 1955 to 1966 and in so doing has added his name to the labels. Form information on the wines of Portugal, some of which may be entirely new to you, ask for Kirby's brochures on Vinhos do Porto.

RUBINI'S IN FAIRFAX plans on closing for dinners this Sunday - Washington's Birthday - to make a full three-day holiday for the staff. It will open again Wednesday evening, Feb. 25, and with the new dining room addition there's lots of extra room for overflow corwds.

NOTES ON MY VISIT to the Ancient Mariner, which opened last week at Strawberry Town and Country Village:

Excellent beef (I had the teriyaki steak). A good bleu cheese salad dressing and also a fine Japanese rice wine vinegar. Use either one alone or both together. Fast table service.

Decor here has been vastly improved at considerable expense. New table tops are solid oak and about two inches thick. Back bar and some other wall areas are finished attractively in cork. Layout and seating arrangement have been completely changed, softening the former almost stark appearance of the dining room.

IT SEEMED TO ME that last week's anniversary party at Lin Fa Gardens in Northgate was better attended than ever. Dining room tables were well filled by dinner patrons viewing the Polynesian entertainment. Crowded, too, was the Mai Tai Room where Gary Schneider and his performers were at the organ bar. But then, Gary's microphone antics are always in demand.

UNITED AIR LINES top chef John Wolfsheimer will demonstrate the art of cooking for large groups Monday at the annual Sonoma County Commercial Gas Cooking Workshop. This show will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. and Wolfsheimer's demonstrations will be at 2:30 and again at 7:30 p.m.

The affair is sponsored by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Frozen Fresh Foods, Tiny's Food Products and Marco Supply Co. And it will be held at Marco's at 1110 Petaluma Hill Road.

A Sonoma County restauranteur will be honored as the outstanding food service operator for 1970. The six finalists are the Hilltopper, Mark West Springs Lodge and the Highland House, all of Santa Rosa; Chesney's Carriage House in Rohnert Park; Petaluma Inn, Petaluma; and the Rex in Geyserville.

BAD ERROR — MY FAULT: If you went looking for Warren Lubitch and Doug Karr doing a piano and banjo duet at Pinky's Pizza after last week's column, you obviously didn't find them there. Which isn't strange, since they have been up the highway at Shakey's Pizza all the time—and still are (on Friday and Saturday nights). Sorry about that.

The position of the salt at the tables was something of a status symbol in those days, according to wine and food writer Philip Harding, for this commodity was hard to get and about the most important grocery item around. Salt shared with incense and wine the status of being a prime economic and religious requirement.

Cakes of salt have even been used for money. And in some cultures salt was employed to seal a bargain. The Arabs had a phrase for it: "There is salt between us."

Because it was at such a premium, the ancient custom was to place one salt cellar on the table to take care of everybody, no matter if the table was 25 feet long. Naturally the top dog and his cronies had it a little closer to their end of the board, says Harding.

"Below the salt" was no place for a social climber. But then you weren't as likely to have ulcers.

Some species of bamboo, a giant perennial grass, bloom only once every 120 years. In many parts of Asia farmers believe that the flowering of bamboo heralds a famine.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Uncle Sam Allows Numerous Deductions For Medical Costs

Medical expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You can deduct any sums that you spent for ". . . the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance), or for transporation primarily for and essential to medical care. . . ."

Your costs for drugs and medicines count to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You can deduct one-half of the premiums you paid for medical care and hospitalization insurance, but not more than $150.

This applies only to prepaid medical care insurance such as Blue Cross, Blue Shield, etc., and not to ordinary accident and health insurance where you collect a flat daily, weekly or monthly benefit.

The balance of your medical care insurance is added to your other medical expenses and is subject to the 3 per cent limitation.

IF A PRESCRIPTION

Almost anything is deductible as a medical expense if your doctor prescribed it.

The Pill if prescribed by a doctor and is necessary for the preservation of the wife's health.

Guide dogs and their upkeep.

Monthly Life Care fee paid to a retirement home, that part for medical care if it can be proven how much that part is.

Autoette or wheelchair, where used for the alleviation of sickness or disability and not for commuting to work.

CLARINET LESSONS

Clarinet lessons, prescribed for a tooth defect. It is also possible to get two deductions for one expenditure via the medical expense deduction.

Suppose you are laid up for a long time and you purchase a motorized hospital bed, a wheel chair, etc., and tney cost $500.

You deduct the cost as a medical expense.

Then you recover.

Give them to a charity and deduct the fair market value as a contribution. Be sure to see IRS Publication 561, Value of Donated Property.

CHECK THE RULES

In any of these areas be sure to carefully check the rules to be sure they apply to your situation before you take the deduction.

Costs of travel, transportation, rental of special sickroom equipment, etc., as well as doctor bills, nurses, hospital costs and other expenses directly connected with your illness or accident are deductible.

Deductible medical expenses can be for yourself or any of your dependents.

A dependent must have been your dependent either at the time the costs were incurred or at the time they were paid. You can deduct medical costs you paid for a dependent even though you may not be able to claim the dependent as a tax exemption. For instance: you help support your mother who worked part time and made over $600. Because she made over $600 you cannot claim her as a dependent. However, if you furnished over one-half of her support, you can still deduct the medical costs you paid for her.

TRAVEL COSTS

Under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5 cents a mile for the use of your car for transportation to secure medical care, plus parking, bridge tolls, etc.

It does not matter when these costs were incurred. They are deductible in the year paid. You cannot deduct costs that you owe. They must be paid to get the deduction.

If part of your medical costs were reimbursed, that is, if your insurance company paid a part of them, then you can deduct only the part you actually paid and that was not reimbursed to you.

Blaze Flares In School Facility

SAN BRUNO (UPI)—Seven fire-fighting units brought under control today a blaze that swept through the industrial material center at North Brea Elementary School.

Five San Bruno units, one from South San Francisco, and one Millbrae unit answered the call at 6:57 a. m.

Arraignment In Marijauna Case

John Pope, 30, of San Francisco, has been arraingned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of possessing marijuana and a pipe for smoking it when arrested Sunday night on the Nicasio-Point Reyes Road.

A companion, arrested with him, Lorene Rufina Kaatz, 25, also of San Francisco was not charged Wednesday.

Katz was told to return to court next Thursday to enter a plea to the charges.

Sheriff's deputies said they stopped Pope's car because it had no license plate and he was speeding. They said they saw a plastic bag of hashish between the driver's seat and the door and then found a brass pipe under the seat.

Richardson Bridge Widening Is Backed

I-JSpecial Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Installation of 84 concrete piles in Richardson Bay to widen the Richardson Bay Bridge to eight lanes yesterday won unanimous approval from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

But approval came only after more than an hour of debate among commissioners about providing a bicycle and pedestrian walkway along with one of the two new traffic lanes.

In the end, the state Division of Highways agreed to incorporate in its application three conditions. The first was to negotiate during the next 12 weeks with public and private bodies about financing the cost of such a walkway, the second was to renew the BCDC permit if no contract has been let for construction within 12 months, and the third was to design the new lanes so a walkway could be added later.

The division estimated that the proposed five-foot-wide walkway would cost $40,000 if part of the widening project, but noted state law barred use of gas taxes for such a walkway.

San Francisco Supervisor Robert Mendelsohn led an unsuccessful move to condition approval on inclusion of the walkway in the widening project, but lost a hand vote, 9-13.

His move was opposed by Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum, who said the widening project was "absolutely vital. The last thing we want is holding them (the state) up on it."

The $40,000 would be better spent getting a bicycle path around Richardson Bay, Wornum suggested. "We can do more with kindness than with threat," he added.

Without tight conditions on the approval, Mendelsohn insisted, the state "will just go ahead" and forget the walkway.

Alameda County Supervisor Emanuel P. Razeto termed Mendelsohn's proposed condition a "petty obstacle," saying "We should not lose ourselves in the wilderness of paths."

Tiburon Mayor Branwell Fanning sided with Mendelsohn, arguing the issue was whether the BCDC had control over state projects using the bay.

Jerry O'Shea, assistant engineer for the division's District 4 office in San Francisco, said work on the $3 million project was expected to begin next November.

Mendelsohn urged proponents of the walkway "to climb on O'Shea's back for the next 12 weeks," or risk losing the chance of having it built in the foreseeable future.

Col. Charles R. Roberts, San Francisco District engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, noted in closing that a walkway also would need a permit from his office.

Prince Charles May Join Navy

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, 21-year-old heir to the British throne, has decided to do a hitch in the Royal Navy.

Buckingham Palace announced Thursday he will serve four months with the Royal Air Force after graduating from Cambridge University in June and will enter Dartmouth Naval College in September 1971.

"He will go into the Navy under the graduate entry scheme for a period of three to five years," the announcement said. "Then he will decide whether he wants to serve for a further period.

Charles' father, Prince Philip, grandfather, King George VI, and great grandfather, King George V, were all Royal Navy men.

Not An Oil Slick But Detergent

Was it really an oil slick" reported floating in the bay yesterday by a San Rafael-Richmond Bridge attendant? No, it was detergent, the Coast Guard reported yesterday.

Source of the bubble slick is still unknown, the Coast Guard said, but it is under investigation. The foamy substance had disappeared by the time a cutter reached the area, one mile north of the bridge, it added.

Smothers Brothers Show Attacked By Police Chief

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police Chief Edward M. Davis has scored the Smothers Brothers television special aired Monday night, calling it "putrid entertainment" because of its "pro-dope, anti-police theme."

Davis released the text of a letter of protest Thursday he wrote to Julian Goodman, president of the National Broadcasting Company which carried the show.

"When American television encourages young people to violate felony statutes," Davis said, "I think you make yourselves highly vulnerable to stringent government regulation."

The chief said he especially objected to a scene showing men in police uniforms as a choir.

"They were in full police-type uniforms, with sidearms, badges and cap pieces. It was a very realistic costuming effect; members of my family believed them to be policemen.

"Part of the dialogue had the leader of the choir stating he had attended the Woodstock Festival and that he smelled something wonderful in the air, and that he hoped whatever it was it would continue to keep growing.

"He was obviously talking about the growing and the use of marijuana."

Winter Sports Litter Warning

NEW YORK (AP) — Ice fishermen and snowmobilers have been urged to pack along a litterbag with their other equipment.

Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., reminded winter sports enthusiasts that any litter they drop carelessly can cause real problems when the snows melt away.

"Snowmobiles have carried trash into wilderness areas that were thought to be practically unreachable, while the leftovers of ice fishermen can become a hazard to summer bathers," he said.

"A litterbag takes up very little room," he concluded, "but will help make outdoor activities far more enjoyable and safe the year around."

ALL INDIANS BUT NO CHIEFS?

No one is standing still as a sixth grade class at Laurel Dell Intermediate School, San Rafael, works feverishly to complete an art project. Teacher Walter Benson's class hopes the Totem pole will be placed in front of the school, and has promised school officials it would be completed today. The project was carved by the boys from an old telephone pole and painted by the girls. The totem pole stands 12 feet high.

Cautious Transit Fund Talk

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Cautious encouragement to Golden Gate Bridge District hopes for federal transit grants was given today by the head of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

Carlos C. Villareal, in a breakfast meeting in the St. Francis Hotel with 11 of the district's 18 directors, promised his office "will be in a position to do business with you."

But he stressed that the money end of their relationship depended on congressional approval of a $10 billion program to aid public transportation in the next dozen years.

SENATE APPROVAL

The program has been approved by the Senate, 84-4, and now is headed for hearings in the House of Representatives, which Villareal said was reluctant to give up any of its power to make annual appropriations.

"We're going to need all the help we can get to get it out of the House," he said.

But the year-by-year aid that would be guaranteed under the program was needed so agencies like the bridge district can depend on federal aid, Villareal said.

Villareal, who ranks just below Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, praised the district's plans for getting into bus transit immediately. "You can't afford to wait," he said of its long-range plans for rapid transit.

"Buses can be made attractive," Villareal insisted, and equipment is available to "dramatically reduce" pollution from buses.

STEAM DISCUSSED

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said that bus specifications being drawn by the district will require use of such equipment. The district may also seek bids for steam or turbine powered buses, he said.

Villareal commented that "we strive not to compete with the automobile, but to complement it. This is indeed an automobile-oriented society, and will be from now until doomsday."

He said that 10,000 more cars are used in this nation each day, even after deducting the number junked.

Asked by Luehring what the prospect was of federal funding toward the district's long-range transit program, which may cost from $300 million to $700 million, Villareal said the chances were "very attractive. You're obviously doing a great job in planning--keep it up, and don't give up."

PRESIDENT TOP TOPIC

Sonoma Staters Quiz Chancellor

By BONNIE BARD

State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke paid his first visit in two years to Sonoma State College yesterday for a series of wide-ranging discussion groups with faculty, administrators, students and the advisory committee.

All groups showed interest in what part he expected them to play in the selection of a replacement for President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., who resigned effective in June to join the chemistry department.

The one recurring question went unaswered--was President Nichols fired? Each time the question drew the same Dumke response, "I am not at liberty to discuss what takes place in executive sessions of the State College Board of Trustees."

Dumke said the process of selecting a new president would be long and tedious to find the right leader.

He said a selection committee, referred to as a "rainbow committee" because of its mixed membership, will nominate three possible candidates to the board of trustees for the final decision.

The committee is made up of two trustees, a state college president, two members of Dumke's staff and three representatives of Sonoma State. Dumke said that the local representatives could also include a student if the faculty wished.

Students offered suggestions as to the type of president they wanted with the athletes asking for a man who realized the value of inter-collegiate athletics and others who urged avoiding an authoritarian such as S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State.

Gregory Jilk of Petaluma, student body vice president, asked Dumke what he thought of the students' request to have the trustees name the new library in honor of Emiliano Zapata.

"It's crazy," Dumke said. "If you want to name it after a Mexican revolutionary, why pick a bush-leaguer like Zapata? Benito Juarez was the one great Mexican revolutionary."

In his press conference, Dumke was asked how much responsibility will be given to the campus presidential selection committee.

The chancellor said the group would only be advisory because only the rainbow committee should actually solicit applications for the job.

"If you have a large number of people all searching for a president, it begins to look like the college can't find one and everyone is in a panic," he said.

Personally, he said he was looking for a good manager. "The old concept was that a president should have chalk dust on his coattails," he said, "but maybe that isn't important anymore."

Dumke said that in many cases, a large college needs a person with more sophisticated command of management practices than a professor would have.

When asked about the firing of football coah Lloyd Helegon, Dumke said he was aware of the controversy, but had felt no pressure himself except from the news media. He said Helgeson's appeal is under study, but has not yet received official attention from his office.

Dumke said he felt that athletic programs should be removed from the grasp of the students with funding basically coming from the material and services fee rather than student government funds.

"Athletic programs should be beyond the whim of the students when they're playing with people's professional lives," he said, referring to the colleges that have curtailed or done away with intercollegiate sports.

Dumke said he felt that the concept of student government was in the process of change and could go two ways.

He said that it could be made more significant and effective because students aren't satisfied and many campus leaders are frustrated. The alternative would be to abandon government altogether.

He said he hoped the latter wouldn't happen because some recognized and accepted form of government is needed for communication.

Union Acts Condemned By Chamber

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to San Francisco Typographical Union 21, condemned the tactics which the chamber said the union has used to settle its dispute with the Independent-Journal.

The letter, signed by Donald A. Beacock, chamber president and chairman of its board of directors, said that the chamber feels that methods of labor negotions have "become so sophisticated and protective of the rights of labor and management, that a return to the passe methods of physical violence, personal intimidation, mental harrassment, and destruction of property might be used only by those having some doubts as to the validity of their demands."

The chamber's letter also criticized the union for "accepting assistance in violence from some of our young people who protest for the sake of protest."

Violence and threats against members of the business community and the public "whose only connection with the Independent-Journal is that they use it to support their businesses or to improve their intellect" were also denounced.

The letter said that "as management has come a long way toward recognizing its responsibility to the public and to labor, so must labor now face the fact that it has a similar responsibility--one of not seeking power for the sake of power, but to see that the power it has achieved does not corrupt."

Kudos To Mental Center?

Marin Community Mental Health Center has been nominated for one of three national awards to be presented by the American Psychiatric Association with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Donald T. Brown, regional director for the state Department of Mental Hygiene, nominated the health center in a letter to the American Psychiatric Association.

"After only a few months of becoming fully operationa the center achieved a major objective and now virtually no acutely mentally ill patients from Marin County have to leave the community for treatment," wrote Dr. Brown.

Three awards are given annually to psychiatric programs considered most deserving of recognition by the achievement awards board of the national association.

Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the mental health center, said that in the first 12 months of operation, the number of Marin mental patients admitted to state hospitals was cut by 85 per cent, and admission of alcoholics to state hospitals was reduced by 40 per cent. Furthermore, said Wilson, the center reduced the overall number of hospital admissions, including those patients who were admitted to its own new inpatient service, by 31 per cent.

The mental health center offers 28 inpatient beds and partial care for up to 50 patients who are financially dependent on the county for psychiatric care.

Belvedere Race Now Is Four-Way

Willard G. Pittman, 59-year old food broker, filed papers yesterday for the April 14 Belvedere City Council election, turning the race into a four-way contest.

Pittman, of 456 Belvedere Avenue, owns the W. G. Pittman Co. in Tiburon and has been a Belvedere resedent 10 years. He is former president of the Northern California Food Brokers Association and belongs to several local conservation groups.

"If elected, I will pledge my efforts toward the maintenance of the beauty of the City of Belvedere, with particular emphasis on conservation and the resistance to urbanization," he saed.

Sausalito Bloc Opens Trustees Recall Try

Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education last night announced a campaign to recall two trustees of Sausalito School District: David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith.

Barbara Nelson, chairman of the group, said Freedheim and Mrs. Freebairn-Smith were chosen as targets because they "have either initiated, supported all [illegible] have brought [illegible] menting with little children. To a question from Gabe Jackson, community worker for the school district, as to who would replace the two, Mrs. Nelson said CEIE has two potential candidates but is not yet ready to name them. To further questioning later, she said it is hoped that start of the recall movement will bring forth candidates "who may not even be members of our organization now."

The announcement came at a public meeting of CEIE in Campbell Hall of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Of the approximately 80 who attended, it was obvious that a rather large portion were sympathetic neither to CEIE nor to the recall.

Mrs. Nelson and co-chairman Robert Leon based the recall move on the Marin County Grand Jury report finding fault with the school board for what it called irresponsibility and neglecting "the basic charge of educating little children."

Daniel Knapp, a San Francisco State College professor (who identified himself only after repeated demands from other members of the audience) challenged the grand jury report as not factual. Knapp said he had made a study of the situation "in the last couple of days" and "much that you have been told here tonight is not factual."

Robin Tyler, a teacher at Martin Luther King School, challenged the "integrated" in the organization's title, noting that none of the four black persons in the audience was a member of CEIE. "The reason you're so uptight is because there are so many black people at MLK," she said. "The people who think as you do are taking their kids out of your school and making it an all-black school."

Stuart Miller accused CEIE of "using an issue dishonestly," declaring, "I happen to know, Mrs. Nelson, that you are one of the candidates." This, Mrs. Nelson denied.

Miller claimed that low reading scores at Martin Luther King School, cited by the grand jury, are because it is a 50 per cent black school and "we know as a fact that black students read more poorly than white students."

"I do not believe that Negroes are geneticaly inferior to whites," shot back Herbert Recktenwald, moderator of the question period.

Mrs. Nelson announced that recall petitions would begin circulating immediately.

Before the recall announcement, the meeting heard Michael Culbert, executive editor of the Berkeley Gazette, describe the six years of violence and confrontations in Berkeley which he called the staging ground for "the new American revolution."

In every case, said Culbert, honest concerns--the Vietnam war, civil rights, technology, ecology, bigness of institutions, philosophy and religion — have been dishonestly used by the so-called "New Left."

Five Hurt In Series Of 101 Accidents

Five persons were injured in a series of auto accidents on Highway 101 in Marin yesterday and early today.

All of the injured declined hospital treatment.

At 7:30 a.m. yesterday, Craig Moyer, 43, of 414 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, complained of a whiplash and headache after the car in which he was riding was struck in the rear by another auto near the Tamalpais Drive overcrossing of the freeway in Corte Madera, the California Highway Patrol said.

Moyer was a passenger in a car driven by James C. Jacobsen, 42, of 1305 Berry Drive, Petaluma. The other driver was Dorothy A. Thompson, 46, of 726 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Dorothy G. Aberlin, 25, of San Francisco, said she would see her own doctor for a head pain suffered when her auto was involved in a three-car wreck near the Tiburon Boulevard overcrossing at 5:05 p.m. yesterday. Other cars involved were driven by Sam M. Corritore, 54, of 1766 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, and Edward J. Nielson, 47, of Barrington, Ill.

The highway patrol said the accident was triggered when Corritore's car skidded in front of Nielson's vehicle.

At 8:50 p.m. yesterday, cars driven by Sharon M. Smalling, 26, of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, and Jerome H. McClenahan, 29, of 1553 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, collided two miles north of Novato. The Smalling woman said she would see a private physician for a cut lip.

John Azevedo, 45, of 107 Grande Vista, Novato, suffered a cut nose and scraped knee at 3:15 a.m. today when his car left the intersection of the freeway and South Novato Boulevard and wrecked a fence. The patrol said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

A car driven by Jerome H. Dunn, 33, of 47 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo, overturned near the Tamalpais Drive overcrossing at 4 a.m. today. Dunn said he would see a private physician for treatment of unspecified injuries. Details of the accident were unavailable.

Three Suspects Hear Dope Counts

Three young men arrested earlier in the day after their car was stopped by Calfironia Highway Patrol officers for erratic driving were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on drug and other charges.

Frank Garcia, 21, of no known address, was charged with drevving while under the influence of amphetamine (speed), possessing amphetamine and narcotics paraphernalia and having a loaded .22 Magnum Derringer pistol in his car.

Paul Einar LaFabregue, 23, of San Francisco, was charged with using and possessing speed and having paraphernalia.

Asst. Dist. Gary W. Thomas said in court yesterday that the men's car contained what appeared to be equipment for making drugs.

In additeon to handling public relations for the bond measure, the committee will also write arguments for passage of the issue tobe sentto voters inadvance of the election.

The bond measure would provide funds for new sewer lines and a connection with the Rohnert Park sewage disposal plant.

Park Architect Hunt Slated In Sausalito

The Sausalito Recreation Commission agreed last night to begin seeking an architect to plan construction of the proposed Tiffany Park, according to Norman Wohlschlaeger, city director of public works. The city council has already authorized the commission to go ahead with plans for the park, he said.

The commission also hear reports on an anti-litter campaign, bicycle trails and progress on Princess Street Park construction.

Water Candidate's Name Spelled Zwart

Herman C. Zwart,42, president of Zwart Associates in Sausalito, who has announced his candidacy for a seat on the Marin Municipal Water District Board was erroneously identified in yesterday's Independent Journal

Zwart, who resides at 85 Helens Lane, Mill Valley, is seeking to represent Division 4, a seat held by incumbent William A. Marcus of Kentfield whose term is expiring.

All guaranties not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the Contract.

2.6 CONTRACT BONDS: A Performance Bond and a Labor and Materials Bond, executed on the forms provided herein, or approved equivalents, shall be furnished by the successful Contractor at the time of signing the Formal Agreement. 2.8 ALTERNATES: The Board of Supervisors shall reserve the right to accept any or all alternative or additive bids called for in the Proposal Form, or any combination thereof, and their order of listing in the bid form shall in no way indicate the order in which the bids may be accepted.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any irregularities therein. The competency and responsibility of bidders and of their proposed subcontractors will be considered in making the awards. Where, and if, unit bid prices are called for, the unit price shall govern in case of extension error. Each bid shall include a complete list of subcontractors proposed for each portion of the work.
No portion of contracts or subcontracts shall be assigned, transferred or sublet without consent of County.
If Contractor fails to specify a subcontractor for any portion of the work, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such portion himself. He shall not be permitted to subcontract that portion of the work, except in cases of public emergency or necessity, and then only after finding of awarding authority has been publicly recorded.

2.12 ACCEPTANCE OF ALTERNATES AFTER CONTRACT IS AWARDED: Notwithstanding the owner's ability to accept alternates after the contract has been awarded, the low bid will be based upon the base bid and those alternates indicated for acceptance at time of awarding of the contract.

McLain Gets Ready To Tell His Side Of Story

NEW YORK (UPI)—Denne McLain, the beleaguered Detroit pitcher under suspension for "bookmaking activities," prepared to tell his story in public today while Commissioner Bowie Kuhn continued his investigation of the gambling scandal that will determine how long the suspension lasts.

McLain, the first baseball player to be suspended for involvement in gambling in 46 years, left New York after a 5½ hour conference with Kuhn Thursday when he was notified of the suspension. His destination was the Tiger training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

The 25-year-old pitcher, who became baseball's first 31-game winner in over three decades in 1968, said he would answer the questions of the press regarding the incident today or Saturday at a conference.

McLain has yet to reveal what he said to Kuhn in conferences last Friday and Thursday or to a Detroit grand jury on Wednesday, but friends have quoted him as saying he was "duped" and "my only crime was stupidity."

Shortly after McLain left, Kuhn read a 174-word statement to the press in which he said, "Mr. McLain's involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities and his associations at that time leave me no alternative but to suspend him from all organized baseball activities pending the completion of my review."

ADMISSIONS

He added, "It should be made clear that the action taken today is based substantially on certain admissions made candidly to me by Mr. McLain and not on allegations contained in a recent magazine article, many of which I believe would prove to be unfounded."

Dick Johnston, executive editor of Sports Illustrated which claimed in a copyrighted article this week that McLain was a backer in a Flint, Mich. bookmaking operation, rebutted Kuhn's assertion that many of the article's charges would be unfounded.

"if the article isn't true, I wonder what he suspended him for," Johnston said. Johnston said the magazine has not been asked for a retraction by anyone and would not give one if asked.

"ABSURD"

When McLain arrived at the Tampa, Fla. airport Thursday night en route to Lakeland, he said the magazine article was "absurd" and added, "I hope the people will not believe anything."

Kuhn said he could not say how long the investigation would take and gave no indication of whether he was thinking in terms of a suspension of days, months, or even life. McLain had signed a $90,000 contract with the Tigers and claimed to make over $200,000 a year overall.

Danny And Lowell, Cream Of The Crop

"Drug-Crazed Youths Attack Family."

I dearly hope the news media can tear itself away from the violence in the streets long enough tonight to devote some ink and tape to an affair that will take place at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

I refer to the 10th annual Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete awards dinner at which two San Rafael High School classmates will be among 22 Bay Area honorees.

"Study Slated On Overcrowded Juvenile Halls."

I know juvy halls are bursting at the seamy seams, the streets are becoming wall/to/wall drug outlets, police stations are getting blown up, businesses are being vandalized, etcetra, but the Bay Area's scholar-thletes deserve equal time.

Here is a group of young men we'd like our youngsters to emulate. Messers and Mesdames Leland H Jordan and Jason E. Widmer of San Rafael should be the envy of all parents everywhere because their 17-year-old sons, Danny and Lowell, respectively, have earned their spurs in some pretty solid company.

"Policeman Dies Of Bomb Attack Wounds."

In short, they are outstanding students and citizens who have found time to excel in the field of athletics. They are the cream of the crop.

Gov. Ronald Reagan will be there tonight to join in the applause along with other civic and sports leaders, parents, friends and just plain admirers, among whom you should count yourselves.

"Thieves, Vandals Hit Two Schools."

That San Rafael High produced both Marin County Athletic League scholar-athletes speaks well for my alma mater.

The two Mighty Bulldogs are among the smallest honorees in size, but among the tallest by more important standards.

Lowell Widmer, age 17, stands 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, including 3 pounds of freckles, 18 pounds of brains, 32 pounds of intestinal fortitude.

"Youth Arrested With Stolen Goods."

In a land of behemoths, you keep looking for a key on Widmer's back to wind up before every play. There are some who insist Santa Claus left Lowell under Coach Bob Muster's tree. Another explanation for Widmer's success is that the enemy simply couldn't locate him.

Lowell's vitals: Two-time All-MCAL quarterback, also played safety, 3.40 grade point average, honor roll, active in student government and Fellowship of Christian Athletes, also outstanding in basketball.

"Teen Pot Pushers Nabbed."

Daniel Jordan, age 17, 5-9, 165, guard-linebacker. Grade Point Average: 3.0. Scholastic Honors: California Scholarship Federation; Commendation for National Merit Scholarship Test; President of CSF; Student Congress. Football Honors: All-MCAL selection; co-captain of varsity; also plays basketball and baseball.

"Rioting Students Assault Profs."

I think we should all stand to salute young Lowell Widmer and Daniel Jordan who in some circles may be considered square.

Where, oh where, did you go right?

San Marin Junior Is No. 1

Time used to be when you could win the Marin County Athletic League individual basketball scoring title easily with anything over 20 points a game.

Bill Secor of Tamalpais High School and Jeff Meeker of Drake are both averaging 21 points or more a game, but they aren't even close to getting the crown. Not the way San Marin junior center Dana LaFerriere is going with a 26.1 average.

All three get another chance to fatten-(or lower)-their averages tonight in MCAL games which will find San Marin visiting Drake, Marin Catholic at Novato, Redwood at Terra Linda and San Rafael at Tamalpais.

The San Marin-Drake battle will feature Meeker and LaFerriere in a game that, for what it's worth, will break a tie for fifth place. Marin Catholic will try to stay out of the league cellar in its game againts last-place Novato, while Tamalpais will be eyeing second place against San Rafael.

Redwood, which will win the title sooner or later, can actually do it tonight, but may find it heavy going against a suddenly tough Terra Linda squad which currently is sole possessor of second place.

Fatal Wreck Mars Action At Daytona Beach Track

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 250-mile race for small sporty sedans was on tap at Daytona Beach today, but the resort area was still agog at the blazing lap speeds being turned and saddened by the fatal wreck that marred one of two 125-mile events Thursday.

Cale Yarborough, making an impressive return to racing after almost losing his life in a wreck last December, won the first of the two sprints at a speed of 183.295 miles an hour in a Mercury. It was the fastest race ever run anywhere.

A three-car wreck at the midway point of the second race cost the life of Talmadge "Tab" Prince, a 32-year-old Dublin, Ga., auto dealer who was making his first start in a race for the 4,000-pound 600-horsepower stock cars.

Prince, who had raced sprints and late model sportsman cars for 10 years, apparently lost control when his engine blew going into the Daytona speedway's high banked west turn. The car went into a wild spin sideways and was struck broadside by Bill Seifert of Skyland, N.C., in a Ford.

Prince was killed instantly, according to track physician Dr. A. A. Monaco. Among his injuries was a broken back and compressed spinal cord.

Seifert was hospitalized with a concussion and bruises. He was reported in good condition.

SECOND RACE

Charlie Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., driving one of the new winged Dodge Daytonas, won the second race. His speed was cut to 147.734 m.p.h. because of a 13-lap slowdown needed to clear the track of debris from the wreck. Buddy Baker, driving another Dodge, came in second.

Yarborough's race was run without incident and he and DODGE'S Bobby Isaac battled bumper-to-bumper for the lead much of the way. A quicker pit stop by Yarborough gave him the advantage in the final dash for the checkered flag and he finished five and one-half seconds in front.

FRONT ROW

Yarborough and Baker had won the two front row positions for Sunday's $205,000 Daytona 500 in time trials Feb. 8 and their starting spots were not affected by the 125-milers. But the other 38 starters earned their assignments in these races.

Tiny Lund, 41-year-old veteran from Cross, S.C., who earned an eighth starting position in the 500, had the pole in today's 250-miler for NASCAR's Grand American cars, sedans of the Camaro, Mustang and Javelin class and powered by lighter 302-cubic inch engines. The race uses a track and road course of 3.81 miles.

Funseth Leads The Pack

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—There is nothing better to ward off a chill on the golf course than to drop a few long putts. Rod Funseth is looking for another dose of that remedy today.

Funseth, a journeyman of 15 years on the tour who in that time has picked up only one first place check, had his share of long ones fall Thursday and came through a day of cold temperatures and high winds to grab a three-stroke lead after one round of the $100,000 San Antonio Open.

Mike Hill and John Schlee, who have not won a tournament in their combined six and a half years on the tour, were knotted in second place having fired even-par 70s.

"I wore two thick sweaters, a long-sleeved shirt and a T-shirt," said Zarley. "And I was still cold."

The winds blew steadily at 35 miles per hour, and the temperature rose from an early-morning 40-degree level to the mid-50s.

Late Baskets Throw WCAC Into Scramble

By UP INTERNATIONAL

A couple of last-gasp baskets have turned the West Coast Athletic Conference race back into a great three-way battle. One of the last-second swishers was tossed up by Bruce Chapman. His 20 foot bomb with six seconds to go gave Nevada Las Vegas the 72-70 upset win over Santa Clara. Chapman hit 21 points and the Rebels held the Broncs' great center, Dennis Awtrey to 16. Santa Clara emerged with a 7-2 WCAC record and UNLV a 6-4 mark. But nobody bets against the Rebels when they are at home in the Las Vegas Center arena.

Meanwhile, Joel Parisho's last-gasp layup gave UOP the 78--77 nod over a tough Loyola team that almost pulled the upset on the Tigers' floor. That left UOP tied again with Santa Clara with a 7-2 mark. The Broncs and Tigers also both have 17-4 season's record.

And USF climbed back into the race with a 91-66 win at Nevada Reno behind a 22-point burst by Pete Cross. Pepperdine nipped St. Mary's 80-71 by hitting 22 free throws to the Gales' 9.

The hysteria resumes Saturday night with USF at Nevada Las Vegas in a game neither can afford to lose while the co-leaders would seem to have it a bit asier. Santa Clara is at Nevada Reno and UOP hosts Pepperdine. Loyola calls on St. Mary's.

Now the girls are getting into the act.

Joining the Mill Valley Blazers track and field team, now in its second year, will be the Blazerettes, an age-group track team composed of Marin County girls 9 through 17.

The girls team, according to John Garber of the sponsoring Mill Valley Parks and recreation Department, will be a member of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and compete against teams from other areas of Northern Calfiornia.

First sign-ups forthe Blazerettes will be next Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Tamalpuis High School track in Mill Valley.

Feeney Opens S.F. Office

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The National League sent one of its teams to San Francisco in 1958. The league headquarters arrived today.

Chub Feeney, newly-appointed successor to retired Warren Giles, opened shop as National League president in a plush office in the Mills Building.

The league had been headquartered in Cincinnati where literally tons of correspondence, records, and memorabilia had gathered. These will be placed in a warehouse there until public relations director Dave Grote has a chance to go through them and sort them out.

TALKS WITH HORACE

Juan Reported Arizona Bound

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—Juan Marichal, the San Francisco Giants' premier right hander, is reported on his way from the Dominican Republic to the team's pre-spring training camp.

Marichal is the lone unsigned Giant, but is traditionally one of the last to ink his yearly pact. His magnificent won-lost mark would indicate that his usual late training start doesn't hurt his ability.

And the Giant brass seem unusually serene this time around about the prospects of Marichal's signing.

Manager Clyde King said that team president Horace Stoneham had been in contact with Marichal and had been told he would arrive in camp shortly. One thing delaying Marichal is the fact that the Dominican Republic is in mourning for a Dominican Airways DC9 superjet that crashed into the ocean last Sunday night with the loss of 97 lives.

By AL GIDDINGS

'Pigeons' Have The Last Laugh On The Old Pros

I had the opportunity to work at the San Francisco office of the Department of Fish and Game last week and found it to be an unbelievably busy place.

My chores were to handle the radio, answering on the average of 75 phone calls a day and meeting the public who want information about fish and game. After that, I was told to take the weekend off, which is a rarity.

So, Frank Sue and I took Norm Quadros of Mill Valley out in search of sturgeon Saturday. We figured we had a pigeon as Quadros has never caught a sturgeon, so we made a bunch of bets.

But, wouldn't you know it: Norm caught his first sturgeon while Frank and I got skunked Quadros wanted us to keep quiet as he had goofed his son Tony's first sturgeon the previous week while trying to gaff it at the boat. But I think Tony should know his dad is now a pro.

Sunday, Bob Wilson and I took out Lee Fey who runs the resort at Webber Lake in the Sierra. His biggest fish in his 60 or so years of life was a seven-pound trout. Again Wilson and I thought we had a pigeon, but the little lady called "Luck" got involved again. Lee not only got the first, but also the biggest and the most. He was as hot as a firecracker catching and releasing sturgeon.

Of course he used a spinning rod which gave him the advantage of being able to long-line us. Long-lining is casting back the farthest. When a sturgeon smells the bait from downstream, naturally as it swims up for the bait. The farthest bait out will be the pickup.

If you've been losing bets then maybe your rival has been long-lining you. Marty Medin and Frank Sue do that to me all the time.

Anyway, after an hour and 20 minutes on one fish, Lee finally landed the thing. We quit with three sturgeon and took off for Loch Lomond in San Rafael. Lee's fish was a six-footer, possibly 100 pounds. We couldn't weigh the fish but were told that a scale would be put in at Loch Lomond soon. Now, that's great!

SOME OF the boats between the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and the White Buoy had bass along with some sturgeon. With the bay waters slowly warming and clearing, the bass should be biting pretty soon. Joe Mello, one of the champs of the bay, is winding up steelhead fishing and is oiling up his bass reels. That's a good sign.

YOUNG CHRIS NARDI of Novato has invited me along on a salmon fishing trip next Monday. The salmon fishermen outside the Golden Gate from Sausalito have been having a good early season. Some limits have been reported, with nearly every angler taking one or two fish. I hope the weather is right Monday.

MOLLY MELLO landed six steelhead up at Walker Creek one day this week. Five of the fish were spent, one was fresh. Molly released the downstreamers.

With the steelhead season closing Feb. 28, you had better get out there.

I HAVEN'T heard any discussions, nor have I received any questions on the new opening of trout season.

A new section of the Fish and Game Regulation states that the lakes and resorvoirs of Marin and some other counties will open March 1 for trout. The limit will be five until the regular opening on May 2 when the season opens more-or-less statewide except for some coastal counties in the north.

Check the new 1970 angling regulations that go into effect March 1. From the regs, it looks as though all the lakes and resorvoirs in Marin open March 1, then the streams open May 2. Without catchable plants, the lakes will be slow, and I suppose the real opening day will be when a fish planting truck is seen going to the lakes. This is surely a great change.

Marin, Sonoma Cars In Oakland Exhibit

Five Marin-Sonoma county area vehicles will vie during the 22nd annual National Roadster Show that opens a 10-day run today at the Oakland Coliseum.

The delegation includes three entries from San Rafael and one each from Sonoma and Mill Valley, according to show general manager Mel Fernandes.

San Rafael entries include an 180-m.p.h. dragster by Fred Stoke, 34, contractor of 22 Roosevelt Ave. and his partner, Larry Azevedo, and a custom go-cart and a mini-cycle with sidecar, both by Frank A. Volta, 52, claims adjustor of 5 La Cresenta.

Sonoma will be represented by a street rod roadster built around a 1923 Model "T" body by Joseph M. Tynan, 23, a diesel shop mechanic of 1405 Denmark Street.

The Mill Valley entry will be a full competition coupe built from a 1970 Maverick by John W. Bissinger Jr., 44, architect of 482 Green Glen Way.

Show doors at the Coliseum's Exhibit Hall will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and Feb. 23, the Washington's Birthday holiday, during the 10-day run.

Young Marin Bowling Ace Sets Sights On Pro Tour

By RALPH CHATOIAN

For some, bowling is just a night out, away from a wife and house full of kids. For others, it's a serious proposition.

The tall, dark-hared DeYoung did at 19 is what 99.9 per cent of other bowlers don't do in a lifetime—rolled a 300 game in league competition. He did that on Halloween night, 1968, in the 840 Scratch League at Nave Lanes.

Now, with old age creeping up on him, (he'll be 21 Oct. 10) Terry, a lefthander, has hopes of going against the best of them in the Professional Bowlers Association tour.

REAL TEST

He got his first real test of bowling for pay last season in the Professional Central California Bowlers and did fine, winning one tournament, at Concord's Clayton Valley Bowl, and finishing high enough in others to finish the year fourth on the money list with $2,030 earned. In 10 tournaments on the PCCB tour this year, he's made $800.

He came up through the ranks of the Nave Lanes junior bowling program, headed at that time by veteran Marin bowler Frank "Skip" Helbing. In his first handicap junior league, Terry averaged 117. He was 12. The next year he went up to 160.

"I had my own ball that year," Terry said. "I started really practicing a lot. I guess the competition part of bowling got in my blood."

AVERAGE ZOOMED

At 14 his average had zoomed to 180 and junior bowling simply lacked the competition he needed. So at 15 he was already bowling in adult scratch leagues. He now carries a 201 average.

He got a part-time job at Nave Lanes when he was in high school and instead of pay got to do as much practice bowling as he wanted. "That's the deal I worket out with Bob Nave. It allowed me tobowl three or four days a week," he said.

"One Monday afternoon I got a phone call from Walt Silva (retired Sausalito tavern owner) and he said he wanted to sponsor me in the PCCB," Terry recalled. "That was great. He would pay all the expenses and we would split the winnings. I never see any of the money I win. Walt puts it in a trust fund for me."

JITTERY START

De Young admitted being jittery in the first four tournaments and finished out of the money each time. "I didn't have the confidence I needed," he recalled. "Then I finally started winning a little and then won that one at Clayton Valley Bowl. After that I had the confidence."

As far as his plans along the PBA tour, Terry says, "That's up to Walt. Maybe a year from this summer. I don't know."

With two years of College of Marin behind him, De Young wants to stay out of school for awhile, and work and bowl. "It takes money to bowl quite a bit (he's currently bowling in four leagues) and I can always go back to college if I can't make it in bowling. Right now I want to bowl."

RIGHT TO LEFT

Terry's dad, a retired Air Force Lieutenant colonel, started him off in bowling when he was barely old enough for school in Grand Rapids, Mich. Since his father, Bud, now living in Petaluma and one time a 200 average bowler, was transferred from base to base, Terry rarely stayed in the same town for more than a few months. When he started bowling, Terry used his right hand.

He switched to the portside he was 9.

Hank Aaron Signs $250,000 Pact

ATLANTA — Hammerin' Hank Aaron, the durable Atlanta Braves outfielder who expects to reach the exclusive 3,000-hit plateau early this season, is now a $125,000-a-year baseball player.

The Braves' 36-year-old superstar, who needs only 44 more hits to become the ninth major leaguer ever to reach that goal, signed a two-year contract yesterday estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

"I hope my signing this two-year contract puts an end to any talk about my retiring at the end of this season," Aaron said.

Braves President Bill Bartholomay said Aaron's new contract was the largest ever given to a Braves player and added, "I am delighted to have the honor once again to sign the best ballplayer in the game today."

Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio— C. Charlie Nicklaus, father of professional golfer Jack Nicklaus, died late yesterday in Riverside Hospital after a brief illness. He was 56.

Nicklaus, a prominent druggist, suffered cancer.

The elder Nicklaus, who began playing golf after World War II to help mend a broken bone, was instrumental in launching his son's career. The youngster, at the age of 10, would follow his father around the course, mainly at Scioto Country Club, where the elder Nicklaus later served as president.

BOGOTA, Colombia — Bert Greene and Dean Refran of the United States and Colombian Heraclio Velenzuela shot six-under-par 66s to finish in a first-round tie in the International Open Golf Tournament.

Basketball

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. — George Lehmann, a six-foot, three- inch guard with both National and American Basketball Association experience was sold by the New York Nets to the Miami Floridians Thursday for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Bowling

MILWAUKEE — George Pappas of Charlotte, N.C., splattered 1,275 pins in his six-game block last night to cling to a 38-pin lead in the $70,000 Miller Open bowling tournament.

Billiards

LOS ANGELES — It's 12 down and three to go for Irving Crane as the Rochester, N. Y., auto salesman came within one game of clenching his fifth World's Pocket Billiards Championship in the round-robin tournament at the Elks Club.

Skiing

STRBSKE PLESO, Czechoslovakia — Russia's cross-country skiers won the men's 40-kilometer relay giving the Soviets their fifth gold medal of the World Skiing Championships.

RAIDERS BEST

Jim Otto Stands By Statement

WAUSAU, Wis. (UPI)—Jim Otto, perennial all-pro center of the Oakland Raiders, Thursday night stood by his earlier statement that the Raiders, not the Kansas City Chiefs, should have represented the American Football League in the Super Bowl.

"I am not apologizing for my earlier statement and I stay with it," Otto said. "Since Oakland beat Kansas City twice in the regular season, it was unfair to have to play a third game."

Kansas City won the third match 17-7 and later went on to the Super Bowl, beating the Minnesota Vikings for the championship of professional football.

Otto was interviewed Thursday night by Mark Zelich of WSAU-TV. He will be honored by his home town admirers at a dinner here Saturday night.

Otto also was critical of the merger of the professional leagues, saying he would have preferred a separate identity for the AFL.

"I know I'm outspoken, but I feel the pride all AFL people should feel," he said.

Mayo Smith 'Very Sorry' For McLain

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Mayo Smith, who has managed the Detroit Tigers during the last three seasons when Denny McLain became one of baseball's most celebrated pitchers, said Thursday he was "very, very sorry for Denny and his family."

McLain, suspended indefinitely by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, won 72 games and one World Series contest for Smith and the Tigers the last three seasons and Smith obviously hasn't forgotten those good times.

"These are times when a fellow is down and people have a tendency to kick him," Smith said, "but I know what he does and I know what makes him tick inside and what he does on a ballfield.

"All of us . . . you've made mistakes. I've made mistakes but I feel Denny in the long run will come out and continue his activities as a ballplayer."

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

Getting your body close to the floor should start at the very beginning of your approach. Don't try to accomplish it just by suddenly bending your left knee as you slide. I suggest a slight crouch as you push away and gradually get lower as you near the foul line. Your hand should be just a few inches from the floor as you let the ball go.

Another Tennis Upset

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Rod Laver and Cliff Richey, last survivors of the depleted seeded ranks, play quarter-final matches tonight in the U.S. National Indoor Open Tennis Championships.

Laver and Richey should win and advance to Saturday's semi-finals, but favoritism has been almost fatal in the $50,000 tournament.

Six other seeded players are already on the sidelines. Australian Tony Roche joined the list Thursday night when a sore elbow forced him to default his quarterfinals match with Romania's Ilie Nastase.

VICTORY

Tiriac, a 30-year-old Romanian champion and onetime Olympic ice hockey player, broke Taylor in the opening game but failed to hold service in the 10th game when he had a chance to take the first set.

Taylor had little trouble after that in the match played before a crowd of 3,800 in the Civic Center. He broke Tiriac's service two more times, once at love, while rolling through the second set.

COMER

In the semi-finals, Taylor is expected to have much more difficulty with Nastase, a 23-year-old who is regarded as a coming star in the game. Nastase defeated Taylor in two previous meetings.

Richey, the No. 2 seeded American, has drawn newly-married Jim Osborne in the quarterfinals. Osborne has been commuting from nearby Ocean City, where he is honeymooning with his bride of a week.

The 1971 USGA Junior Amateur golf championship will be held at the Manor Country Club, Rockville, Md.

HERE COMES FINLEY

Key A's Players Remain Unsigned

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Charlie Finley, the owner, is supposed to be here today when the Oakland A's open their spring training camp, and for one big reason—to start signing some players.

With the opening of camp, 14 players still are unsigned, among them Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Rick Monday, Chuck Dobson, Don Mincher, Dick Green, Diego Segui and Al Downing.

New manager John McNamara doesn't need anyone to tell him that the unsigned players are the heart of his club, picked by some to win the American League West this year.

Finley seems farthest apart in his salary discussions with Jackson and Bando, who could bloom into super stars this year, and if not this year, then next.

Jackson hit 47 homers and drove in 118 runs last year. He worked for $23,000 after holding out in spring training. Bando played for about $20,000 and for that he hit 31 homers and drove in 114 runs.

Finley, reportedly, has offered Jackson $40,000 for 1970 and Bando $35,000. Both players have dismissed those offers without serious comment.

"DO BETTER"

"He'll have to do better than that," said Jackson.

"I know what I'm worth and it's not what he offered me," said Bando.

Obviously, Finley has his work cut out for him, when and if he shows up here. He said earlier he would make it for the opening.

Three second liners, meanwhile, signed Thursday to give the club 26 players under contract.

They were utility infielder Bobby Johnson, who hit .343 in 51 games last year; spare outfielder Jose Tartabull, who batted .267 in 75 games, and rookie catcher Gene Tenace, who hit .158 in 16 games.

Legislation To Help Those 'Sitting Ducks'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Republican assemblyman who is a duck hunter plans to launch a legislative effort Monday to outlaw what he called "suicide" duck hunting clubs in California.

Assemblyman George Milias, chairman of the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, disclosed Thursday he will introduce a bill prohibiting the shooting of any domesticated migratory game bird, such as "flighted mallards," for commercial purposes.

The Gilroy Republican said the shooting of "flighted mallards" was unsportsmanlike and is a "blight" on hunters and fish and game laws.

Flighted mallard clubs are rare in the West but California has at least three.

Such waterfowl are trained from ducklings to fly a certain route to food upon call and to return to their cages. Private gun clubs charge members for shooting the ducks during these flights.

"The ducks have no sporting chance whatsoever," Milias said. "They're domesticated from the time they're born, live in captivity, fed to a plump stage then forced to fly in front of the hunter."

The lawmaker said he will submit the bill Monday.

North Has His Grounds For Grumblings Against Partner

"It's nice to know that there are still good bridge players in this world," dummy announced at the end of the hand shown today. "It would be even nicer," he added, "if I ever got one of them as my partner." The complaint is a familiar one, but North had ground for his grumbling.

DRAWS TRUMPS

West led the jack of diamonds, and East covered dummy's queen with the king. South won with the ace and drew three rounds of trumps. East carefully discarded the nine of diamonds and the five of spades, thus showing control of diamonds and discouraging a spade lead from his partner's side of the table.

Declarer led the deuce of clubs from dummy and played the ten from his hand, skillfully passing the trick to West. But West got out with the deuce of diamonds to East's seven, and East returned the nine of spades, allowing West to defeat the contract with two spade tricks. Down one.

MUST START EARLY

South should see before he plays the first card from dummy that East is the dangerous opponent since only if East leads spades will declarer lose two spade tricks. South should not play the queen of diamonds from dummy at the first trick because that will allow East to gain the lead in diamonds. West cannot have the king of diamonds because if he wanted to make a doubtful opening lead he would try spades (which his partner has raised) rather than lead away from the king of diamonds out of a clear sky.

A LOW DIAMOND

If South plays a low diamond from dummy at the first trick, East must also play low, and South refuses the trick. Now South can draw trumps, pass a club to West, and keep East out of the lead. No matter what happens, South can regain the lead to run dummy's clubs and thus get rid of his losing spades.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Good Defensive Stocks For An Uncertain Market

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. During 1969 I purchased Anaconda Co. and Breeze Corp. They have acted poorly and Anaconda has reduced its dividend. Breeze eliminated its dividend altogether. I am thinking of selling and buying Southern Pacific.—W.P.

A. Anaconda derives 60 per cent of earnings from its copper mines in Chile. Government nationalization of some of these properties is scheduled to take place over a period of several years. This type of political situation is subject to rapid change, leaving Anaconda in a precarious position. Breeze Corp. reported reduced sales and earnings in 1969 as a result of Defense Department cutbacks. About 60 per cent of sales go to the government.

Your plan to sell these issues has merit, but I question the wisdom of purchasing Southern Pacific, which still derives 50 per cent of revenues from its rail operations. Earnings have made little headway in the last five years and increased labor costs will probably continue as a restrictive factor. Permanent resolution of the railroad industry's labor-management differences is doubtful although interim truces are usually arranged from contract to contract.

Although each industry has its own peculiar problems the defensive characteristics of the food stocks have appeal in an uncertain market. In this group Quaker Oats and Consolidated Foods are attractive.

Q. On your recommendation I have accumulated shares of Concord Fabric at an average price of about 18. The shares have dropped steadily; should I continue to average down?—L.W. Do you still feel Concord Fabrics warrants retention? —H.B.

A. The drop in Concord's share price reflects uncertainties in the general market and the economy and in the textile industry itself. The vagaries of fashion, which affect buyers' choices of textiles, are particularly unsettled now. In this atmosphere buyers are reluctant to make large commitments and this has exerted pressure on profit margins. Barring large inventory write-offs, 1969 earnings should be in line with the $1.38 reported in 1968. First-half 1970 may be sluggish but contributions from two recently added knit goods divisions should benefit full year comparisons. Selling now at 9x 1969 projected results, Concord offers good value as a recovery candidate.

French Venture

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Warner & Swasey has formed a joint venture with the French firm of R. S. Stokvis et Fils to make automatic bar and chucking machines in France.

HEADS FLINTKOTE DIVISION—Mel J. London of Greenbrae has been appointed president of the Calaveras Division of the Flintkote Co. He joined the company in 1945, became marketing vice president in 1959 and has been vice president and general manager of the division since 1968.

Discovery Well

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Great Basins Petroleum Co. has brought in a gas discovery well three miles south of Banta Station, San Joaquin County. The well flowed at a rate of 2.255 million cubic daily from a depth of 3,900 feet in the blewett sands. It was drilled to 8,171 feet. Great Basins has a 43 per cent interest in the venture.

Market Is Sluggish Near Close

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at 2 p.m., with an hour to go, was off 1.25 to 756.67 after having been down 2.84.

Advances and declines were about even among individual issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Oils, which have been strong this week after a long period of depression, responded favorably to President Nixon's deferment on action on proposed oil import changes. Advances included Jersey Standard 7/8 to 54 1/2, Texaco 1 3/8 to 27 5/8, Atlantic Richfield 3 3/8 to 66 3/4, Phillips Petroleum 1 1/2 to 23 1/4; Amerida Hess 1 7/8 to 26 3/8, and Standard Oil of Indiana 2 5/8 to 42.

Chrysler fell 2 3/8 to 26 5/8 after disclosing it expected a loss of $10 million to $40 million in this quarter.

UCB Sets Mark In Net Earnings

United California Bank's consolidated net operating earnings for 1969 reached a record high of $29,321,523, an increase of 18 per cent over the $24,768,610 earned during 1968.

Net operating earnings per share were $4.85, compared with $4.11 in 1968. Fourth quarter net operating earnings were $7,255,030 OR $1.20 a share. In 1968 fourth quarter earnings were $6,592,213 or $1.09 a share.

Deposits at year end were $4,140,786,245, up 10 per cent over the $3,765,607,866 a year ago.

Shell Plans Hike

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shell Chemical Co. has announced plans to boost prices of more than 50 organic chemicals made by its industrial chemicals division by approximately 6.5 per cent.

Included in the price increases, which take effect March 1 on spot business and April 1 on contract orders, are isopropyl alcohol, neodol registered alcohols and derivatives, hydrogen peroxide, glycerine, glycol ethers and ethylene ethers.

College Committee System Comes Twice Under Fire

There is an old gag that says a camel is an animal "that looks like it was put together by a committee." We feel this is an unjustified slur on the camel, a beast that is extremely well adapted to its desert life, however unprepossessing it may appear.

But if a camel looks like the result of one committee, think what kind of a creature would emerge as the result of the work of 15 or 16 committees, each largely autonomous and going its own way!

YET COLLEGE OF MARIN, according to the reports of two investigative bodies this month, is being run by that many committees in pretty much that fashion.

The two investigative groups were an accreditation team from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and a special committee of the Marin County Grand Jury. Their investigations were along different lines, for different purposes, but both of them ran into the committee system by which the school is operated.

The grand jury group found that 15 or 16 committees exist "with students participating in all but one or two," and that "testimony varied as to whether their function was to 'recommend' or 'dictate' policy." It recommended that a trustee be a member of each committee.

THE EVALUATION TEAM went much farther. It found that the faculty committee system as it exists at College of Marin "provides three independent avenues to the board," that it leaves the college president and dean of instruction in a "rubber-stamp role" in selection and evaluation of faculty, and that it hampers the president. It recommended:

"That a reevaluation of the committee structure be undertaken, with consideration given to streamlining procedures. . .

"That areas of responsibility and lines of communication be drawn and specified so as not to diffuse the authority and responsibility of the chief administrative officer with respect to his relationships to the teaching faculty, the administrative staff, the students, and the board of trustees."

It followed this up with the assertion that "it is absolutely imperative that the faculty give the incoming president a chance to succeed."

THESE ARE STRONG words from a college accreditation committee. The implication is plain that the faculty committees have not given previous presidents a chance to succeed. To this a heartfelt "amen" no doubt would be given by a gentleman named William K. Ramstad, who served 10 hectic months in 1967-68 as the college's superintendent-president.

When Ramstad took over the job in July, 1967, he said he felt the faculty should have more responsibility in administrative decisions. Ten months later he was ousted after a faculty revolt over not enough "teaching power" in such decisions.

Ramstad little knew, when he made that remark in July, 1967, the potential of the assorted committees that had started growing up among the faculty under his predecessor. Since then, their number and power has increased. And so have troubles at the college.

The generally mild-spoken report of the evaluation team leaves little doubt how its members felt about this. It called the committee system time-wasting, inefficient, and raising "serious questions as to centers of responsibility." And it stressed, not once but twice, that the new president must have freedom to act if he is to succeed.

It is interesting that the grand jury committee, which was not investigating the faculty setup at all, ran into this same committee problem in its brief inquiry.

WE FEEL SURE the board of trustees wants John A. Grasham to succeed as college president, and that it will not ignore the importance of overhauling the faculty committee system to make this possible.

After all, the board wouldn't want the College of Marin to wind up looking like a cameleopard (or worse, as that creature was the result of only one committee plus Baron Munchausen).

Student Appreciates Newspaper's Stand

I would like to commend you and your staff highly. You are not only putting out a great paper, but you're also sticking to your decision. I think this is terrific.

I was never one to even consider the teen-age vote. I attended the Governor's Conference on Youth. The kids wanted to take apart in politics but didn't seem informed enough. But after seeing the way "adults" acted on Feb. 14, I think anything could be an improvement. At least the "younger generation" can act mature

Courts Have Power To End Disgrace

Hats off to the I-J and its management and staff for having the "guts" to stand up and be counted on a matter of principal, no matter what the cost.

The cause of the impasse in negotiations—"make work" vs "featherbedding"—is a very costly thing in time and materials. Doing unnecessary work that has to be destroyed just doesn't make any sense at all. Whether they know it or not the subscribers and advertisers in the I-J pay for it.

Physical violence and wanton destruction of private property is intolerable, and the unions and their officers should be held accountable.

I do believe the courts and police have the power to cause this situation to be controlled and thus prevent a recurrence of last Saturday's Valentine's Day disgrace.

Psychiatrist Hits Supervisors' Action

I am and have been for the past two years a staff psychiatrist at the Community Mental Health Service. I am writing this letter to voice my concern at the hasty and thoughtless action taken by the board of supervisors regarding the conflict in community mental health during their Feb. 10 meeting.

In firing Dr. Leon Wanerman from his post as interim director and replacing him with the county coroner, the board has lost the services of an unusually talented and dedicated individual who created a children's psychiatric service which is a model of innovative and quality programming. These talents could have been used in bringing order to the chaotic countywide situation.

It is my opinion that in reaching the present "compromise" the Board did not act in good faith. . .

It is also now clear why it is so difficult to effectively accomplish quality service under government control. Mr. Thomas A. Campanella's reward for disregarding all professional advice and implementing the unworkable plan which led to the present mess was to be allowed to try again. In private industry he most likely would have been fired. His present solution is a rehash of the old failure. . .

I hope the board was not prophetic in appointing the coroner to serve as administrator of the mental health program: after all, he does have experience in postmortum (sic) studies.

Laboratory Dog Affectionate, Well

I am writing to thank the Independent-Journal for bringing us Benjamin, the former University of California, Davis, laboratory beagle. My husband and I wrote to Caron Galantiere and offered to give the dog a home, as did 14 others. We were selected as Benjamen's new parents because of the fact that we knew beagles very well, having bred and raised them for 15 years.

He has been with us for a week now and has fit right in with no problems. He spends his days playing in the yard with the other dogs and sleeping on the sun porch. In the evenings he makes himself comfortable on the sofa and watches TV until bedtime. He is a very lovable and affectionate dog despite his adversities, and we are happy to have him.

We were delighted to learn that he does have partial hearing and does respond when called by a whistle. He is able to bark, but sounds as though he is very hoarse and has laryngitis.

The people from whom we got the dog are great humanitarians and work extensively to help animals. Benjamin was saved from the gas chamber at the pound by them and given a protective home. When circumstances forced them to find a new home they asked the I-J for help.

Although the dog has been used extensively as a laboratory dog, he is, in no way, mutilated, is not afraid of a veterinarian, and does not seem emotionally affected . . . He is in excellent condition and came to us from people who obviously cared very much about him.

About Time To Ask Whether Busing Has Helped Integration

By Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—It is small wonder that many people including Governor Ronald Reagan, are becoming more and more disgusted with the practice of busing school children away from their neighborhoods for the sole purpose of achieving integration.

The governor has asked the state board of education to determine whether the practice of busing ever has done any good for the cause of integrating the white and black races.

THE LOS ANGELES city school system estimates that if it carries out court orders to adopt a complete policy of busing students, it will cost about $42 million next year, a sum which could be put to good use in the schools to provide better quality education for students of all colors.

The lunatic fringe of educationists which advocates busing apparently thinks the taxpayers' money makes no difference, and that money comes from a bottomless barrel in the citizen's back yard.

The state board of education also might set out to determine whether the millions of dollars of educational money being poured into this project is going to further the freedom of the people of this state and nation to live the kind of life they want to live.

THE PRACTICE of busing is becoming obnoxious, as people are once again deprived of a right, this time a right to raise their own families and provide an education for their own children.

Enough experience has been had with this pernicious practice since it was started several years ago to have developed many facts, and it should be the aim of the state department of education and the state board of education to bring forth those facts to determine whether the people, once and for all, should demand that an end be put to forced integration through the medium of the children.

There is an old, old saying: "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink!"

Nixon Changes His Tune To Justify ABM Spending

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

The Pentagon's plans for spending the 600 million dollars in new money which Mr. Nixon has recommended for the ABM will be awaited with interest, but enough has already been said by Mr. Nixon and others to make clear what is at stake.

A year ago President Nixon told the nation that he had concluded cities could not be protected by the ABM, and therefore he was proposing the Safeguard system only to protect the sites of Minuteman offensive missiles. Today, however, he is back at the old Pentagon stand of area defense. He now wants ABMs to protect the cities after all.

A year ago Mr. Nixon called for a limited system that would protect only two missile sites, and when asked whether this would be enough he said yes, he had concluded that by protecting only two sites "we will preserve a credible deterrent, and that will be decisive insofar as the enemy considering the possibility of a first strike." Yet now, suddenly, protecting two missile sites is not enough after all. A year ago the President argued that his limited ABM system would not be provocative to the Russians, but acknowledged that a system addressed to area defense would be. Yet now he proposes to proceed with area defense, after all.

Throughout the whole ABM controversy the Pentagon has shifted its rationale from year to year and month to month, the only constant being a fierce and unremitting determination to commit untold billions of dollars to an ABM system by one means or another. We fear Mr. Nixon has bought the whole bill of goods. For the sake of preserving what may be the last chance to check the arms race, the Senate should defeat him on the ABM this year.

THE DRUMMONDS

Chaos Predicted To Follow Collapse Of Soviet Communism

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—Three questions instantly cry out for answers in light of the expert-supported prediction that the Soviet Russian regime may collapse in 10 to 15 years:

—What kind of government would most likely emerge?

—What would be the world impact?

—What should be the attitude and the actions—if any—of the United States toward encouraging or helping to avert such an event?

There is no neat answer to any of these questions, but there is expert judgment on all of them.

THE NEAREST to a consensus is that a military dictatorship would most likely follow the disintegration of the present Kremlin leadership but that whatever comes to power first is not likely to last very long.

The reason for this forecast is that there are so many elements within Russian society today which are so hostile and dissatisfied that the pent-up mood of revolution would not be long contained by guns without reform.

Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, director of the Research Institute on Communist Affairs at Columbia University, sees the present regime's partial suppression of demands for liberalization as building up still greater hostility and intensifying the desire for still more freedom.

He foresees that repressionist brutality would "create a prerevolutionary crisis" within the Soviet Union and within the Eastern European bloc. This is why Brzezinski shares the view of other Kremlinologists that "the next few years are likely to witness a very profound struggle for the very soul of modern Russia."

IT MAY WELL be that the continued deterioration of the quality of Soviet Communist leadership from Lenin to Stalin to Malenkov to Khrushchev to Brezhnev—a deterioration for which no relief is in sight—fits a prediction by Marx himself which the Russian Communists never cite.

It was Marx's view that every political and social system is fit only for a certain level of production and thought and then, becoming visibly inappropriate, bursts again into revolution.

This is almost exactly the political situation which the anti-Kremlin Russian historian Andrei A. Amalrik now sees in the making and leading up to the regime's violent downfall in the next 10 to 15 years.

His view is that the present regime is not strong enough to reform itself and too weak to defend itself.

Hence, his prediction that the Red army will seize and hold power for a period, that liberal forces within the Soviet Union will not have either the strength or the unity to take power and, then, this firm forecast:

Even if the liberals should be able to take over the government, "They would not be able to keep it. Thus, the Soviet Union would dissolve into anarchy, hate and violence."

AMALRIK, Brzezinski and Robert Conquest, the British Soviet expert, are all appraising trends which point toward this cataclysmic end. If they are correct, should the United States try to do anything about it?

The United States could encourage the Sino-Soviet feud, but a Sino-Soviet war would be a peril to the peace of the whole world and no one could be sure that nuclear weapons would not be used nor that nuclear fallout would not engulf the earth.

But undoubtedly many small nations would count themselves seriously endangered it there were not two relatively equal powers to hold each other in check.

The role of the United States would be most uneasy—that of being a lone world power in a world of fearful and competing smaller powers with responsibilities for taking sides and keeping the peace far beyond anything in the past. Vietnam might look like a lark.

If the Soviet Communist regime is "tottering toward death," as Amalrik predicts, we can't wisely affect it either way. The best we can do is to get ready to face the consequences perhaps not too far in the future.

What Constitution Says Isn't What Happens

By ROY McGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The constitution gives Congress the privilege of controlling the national purse. With that authority goes the duty of exercising it in an orderly manner.

To a large extent, Congress has abandoned its privilege of control to the President. As for order in appropriating money to run the government, there hasn't been much lately.

This state of affairs has led both Democratic and Republican leaders to pledge better efforts. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield sees "no realistic chance" of passing all money bills for fiscal 1970 before the next fiscal year begins July 1.

PART OF THE FAULT undoubtedly lies with the President; part lies with the unyielding position of the House of Representatives that it must originate appropriation bills; part lies with the nature of legislative bodies.

The Constitution is unequivocal on giving Congress control over the purse. It says that no money may be spent by the federal government except as appropriated by act of Congress. But it doesn't exactly work like that.

Of an over-all total of $218 billion proposed for spending in the business year starting July 1, Congress is asked to appropriate only $148.1 billion.

The rest will be collected and spent by the executive branch with little if any current congressional control. It represents outlays and income for such things as highways, Social Security pensions, and medicare costs, pensions, interest on debt, etc.

THE PRESIDENT cannot be faulted for that situation; Congress agreed to the setup.

But the President can be faulted for not getting the departmental budge requests to Congress sooner. Last year, for instance, it was April before President Nixon submitted his requests.

This year, the President got the requests in on Feb. 2 for fiscal 1971. But judging by the past, there will be numerous revisions and requests for supplemental funds.

REP. GEORGE MAHON, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has promised faster action this year. He has worked out a schedule whereby the House would pass all appropriation bills by June 15.

Mansfield has asked the chairmen of the various appropriations subcommittees in the Senate to move ahead without waiting for the actual documents to come over from the House.

The aim: At least to meet the statutory deadline of July 31 for passage of the bills, if not the fiscal year deadline of July 1.

The outlook: nil.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

Student unrest will not be quenched by subject matter. It is the teacher's mentality, not the student's, that tends to see all life's issues as reducible to a course syllabus — Richard W. Peck.

Grand Jury Tells Only Part Of Marin Reading Deficiences

In its report this week on the Sausalito School District, the Marin County Grand Jury said that Martin Luther King School is the only school in Marin County whose students' scores in the latest standard reading tests fell below average scores throughout the state.

HOWEVER, the grand jury failed to mention that, in reading tests in the first three grades in Marin Schools last spring, first grade pupils in Kentfield, Larkspur, Novato and Tomales Bay school districts also scored below the state median. So did second grade pupils in the Tomales Bay and Nicasio districts and third graders in the Nicasio and Sausalito school districts.

First and second grade pupils in the Sausalito school district were above state medians in their reading ability. And second graders in the Sausalito district recorded higher scores than their counterparts in the Fairfax and Lagunitas school districts.

No test scores are yet available to gauge the success of Principal Sidney J. Walton's present programs, which were instituted to correct what all recognized as serious deficiencies in the district's academic programs.

IN POINTING to what it termed "lack of academic achievement" in the Sausalito district, the grand jury used the following statement from a group identified as a "Marin parents club": "The reading program within the Sausalito School District system is obviously inadequate."

The organization quoted was formed last summer with the assistance of Vice Principal James T. Toliver Jr. to assess academic problems in the district and seek solutions.

Using the low reading scores mentioned in the grand jury report to demonstrate need, the parents group recommended hiring a full-time reading specialist for the district.

According to Verna Vargas, chairman of the jury's education committee which compiled the grand jury report, the statement was taken from a brochure prepared last August by Principal Walton to justify hiring the reading specialist.

District trustees assigned Mrs. Gene Willis, employed as a teacher of educationally handicapped, to conduct a remedial reading program, according to James T. Toliver, assistant to the principal at King School. But her success in improving the reading abilities of students cannot be measured until the results of tests given during the present school year are computed by the state.

Reagan In Lead, Pollster Reports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Poll reports that if an election were held today, Gov. Ronald Reagan would far outdistance any of three Democrats frequently mentioned as possible candidates against him next November.

Pollster Mervin Field said Reagan outpolled Assemblyman Jess Unruh, who has declared his candidacy, by a margin of 56 per cent to 36 per cent with 8 per cent undecided.

Reagan thus has just about held his margin over Unruh during the past three months. The figures for November, 1969, were 56-34 with 10 per cent undecided.

Reagan does even better in matchups with former Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty. He leads Brown 55-37-8 and Yorty 59-26-15, according to the poll. However, neither Brown nor Yorty is a declared candidate.

New Auto Smog Bills Readied

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—New cars would have to carry stickers stating how much smog they produce under a bill approved by the Assembly Transportation Committee.

The committee Thursday also approved on voice votes and sent to the floor bills that would:

—Give peace officer status to air pollution control officers.

—Increase the power of the attorney general to take action against violators of air pollution requirements.

The bills were among a package drawn up by a special subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Peter Schabarum, R-Covina.

Another bill approved and sent to the Ways and Means Committee would allow the Air Resources Control Board in two years to test each new car individually for emissions, rather than take the average for all cars of each model, as is now done.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

It's Great To Have Lived In 'Good Old Days' Of U.S.A.

Fusselman

Just to get away from violence and conflict for a while, I would like to tell you about something else. In September of last year I wrote, "Two hours of delightful music played out of doors at Tanglewood, where thousands come each summer to hear the Boston Symphony Orchestra play." Those two hours where devoted to listening to the final concert conducted by Erik Leinsdorf. When he finished, exhausted, they broke out of the spell he had woven around them and brought him back and back and back — unwilling to let him go.

Earlier that year, in July, I had written of the wonderful program by the Goldman band, being conducted by the son of Edmund Frankel Goldman, who for years had presented them on the New York City Mall. The final number on that Sunday evening was "The Stars and Stripes Forever", using the original score as written by the famous bandmaster John Philip Sousa.

WELL, ON TUESDAY morning of this week I woke up at 4 o'clock and was on the go all day. So, at nine that evening, thinking it had been a day, I turned on the television set. Tuning station after station — suddenly what a treat.

On channel 9, as were the two other programs, was a symposium on the forever dean of them all, bandmaster John Philip Sousa. It was superbly done, with other musical greats telling the story. There were intervals, one after the other, shown with sound of Sousa conducting over the years; the whole thing a gem of the first water. It will be repeated tomorrow evening (Saturday) at 7:30. Check your program to be sure I am right about the hour.

THIS ALL STRUCK a nostalgic note for me. Somewhere around 1909 to 1912 it was my good fortune to standing within six feet of the great march king. It was Tacoma, Wash. They had marched up Broadway to the Tacoma Theater, where they were giving a concert that evening. The band formed a half circle with Sousa — a long military cape hanging almost to his ankles, eyes gleaming and twinkling, baton swinging as no one else has ever equaled — conducting them in two stirring march compositions of his.

Then, just before World War I, he was again at Tacoma and put on a summer evening program in the 40,000-seat stadium — a horseshoe — shaped bowl facing Commencement Bay. What a scene, boats silently moving around on the water — a moon overhead — the spotlight on Sousa, way down there in the midst of his great band — cap on one side — baton swinging from the ground up, as if the man himself, was sending that music, from a whisper to a crescendo floating up into the softness of the night. Something never to be forgotten by those who listened.

My friends, it's good to have lived in the "good old days", believe me. There were so many things that can never be repeated. For instance, how many of you can remember the circus parades of the "Greatest Show on Earth" — with mounted, uniformed out-riders calling out in stentorian tones, "WATCH YOUR HORSES. THE ELEPHANTS ARE COMING"? It's doubtful that will ever be heard again in this country.

OH YES; this matter of County Comment: The supervisors didn't change the name, as Bruce and McInnis wanted. It is still the "Veterans' Memorial Auditorium".

Report Of Gun Threat By Ex-Con

A 40-year old ex-convict last night threatened to shoot a woman with the same gun she used to wound him Christmas Day, San Rafael police reported today.

Being sought by police on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and theft of the .22-caliber revolver used in both incidents is Robert John Fleeks, of no known address.

According to police, Geraldine E. Alexander of 109½ Shaver Street, said Fleeks grabbed her gun following an argument at her home at 9 p.m. and said, "I'm going to blow your . . . brains out."

Fleeks ran out a rear door when Mrs. Alexander started to call for help, police said.

Mrs. Alexander wounded Fleeks in the thigh Dec. 25 when he attempted to break down her front door, police said.

Fleeks had threatened Mrs. Alexander, according to police, after she gave them information allegedly linking him to a $1,700 burglary of Tone-Tex Specialities Co. in San Rafael last May.

Fleeks, who has a record of 29 arrests for various offenses, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court the week of April 27 on burglary charges, police said.

Dutton For Strict U.C. Police Rules

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There should be written and published rules to decide when the University of California calls in police to help control disturbances, says UC Regent Frederick G. Dutton of Sausalito.

Dutton responded Thursday to a report on the May 1969 "People's Park" riots by Roger W. Heyns, chancellor of the Berkeley campus where the disorders occurred.

Dutton and other members of the regent's committee on educational policy heard Heyns report, which said: "There is doubt as to whether or not the Berkeley campus or University-administration can or should attempt to make a detailed, official report which, presumably, would present conclusions."

Heyns noted that 169 persons were injured, including one person killed and another blinded.

But the university isn't staffed to conduct a full investigation, Heyns said, so it relies on reports made by law enforcement agenices, the county and federal grand juries.

Dutton said the university also ought to have an observer system to determine the scope of disturbances, should go on record saying that deadly weapons will not be used unless to meet equal force on the other side and should recognize mutual aid pacts between law enforcement agencies.

Health Group To Form Recruiting Committee

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board has agreed to form a recruitment committee to find a program chief for the Community Mental Health Center, according to board chairman Peter W. Palmer.

The board Wednesday accepted the general outline of a proposal by Thomas F. Campanella, assistant county administrator, to form a nine-member committee to screen applicants for the position, now held by Dr. Donald P. Wilson.

The recruitment committee, working in conjunction with a professional screening committee, will put three names before the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the Marin County Hospital District Board. The boards will make the final choice.

Chosen to represent the advisory board on the committee were Jack Williams, Martha Valliant, George Monrado and Dr. Richard W. Brunstetter.

Other committee members would be Ray K. Bolinger, administrator of Marin General Hospital, Dr. Bradford Simmons, hospital chief of staff, Allen Bruce, county administrator, Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county director of mental health; and a yet to be named representative of the Marin Psychiatric Society.

The board of supervisors has indicated it will vote not to renew Wilson's contract which expires July 1.

Board Approves Variance For Rebuilding Home

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments has unanimously approved a variance for Dan Monaco of San Francisco to rebuild a home he owned at 21 Buena Vista Avenue destroyed in a $25,000 fire Nov. 19.

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments also:

SHED — Granted a variance for a 10-by-10-foot shed to the rear of a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Gabel, 28 Buena Vista Avenue.

Troppmann Claims Hair Rule Fair

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Athletic director Robert Troppmann of Redwood High School said yesterday in U.S. District Court that Redwood's hair rule for athletes is fair and reasonable.

Troppmann, who was testifying in support of the school's long hair rule for athletes, said the judge's decision would have far-reaching effects for coaches and athletes all over the state.

Long hair, he said, interferes with swimming and can affect the fit of football helmet.

"I'd be the first to step in if a rule were unreasonable," he said.

But he didn't think the hair rule, which four Redwood athletes defied and were then tossed off the Redwood track team, was unreasonable.

The athletes claim that the hair rule does not apply to girl athletes and is therefore an arbitrary distinction based on sex and in violation of the U.S. Constitution.

Troppmann, president of the California Athletic Directors Association, supported his statements claiming one school required its athletes to shine their shoes and ride bikes or walk to school instead of riding in cars.

Professional football end, Reg Carolan of the Kansas City Chiefs, called by the plaintiffs, testified his coach streses good grooming, including short hair, to achieve "uniformity of thought for team members. It helps to get us all thinking alike."

He said, however, he didn't think a high school player should be so strictly bound to his coach's idea of good grooming.

Judge George B. Harris set closing arguments for today at 2 p.m. in the suit brought by Brian and Kevin Pusser, David Silverman, and Bryan Tracy. They are all students and athletes at Redwood High School.

Laird Fears Russ Gains In Weapons

U.S. Arms Budget Down Despite Risk To Ranking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird cautioned Congress today that the Soviet Union at its present rate of military development could downgrade the United States to a second-rate power by the mid-1970s.

In the annual defense review presented to a joint session of the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committees, Laird also predicted that the Chinese Communists would begin deploying medium-range nuclear missiles this year. He estimated they would have from 80 to 100 installed by the middle of the decade.

Warning of Russian arms development, Laird said:

"It is clear that the Soviet Union is embarked on an ambitious program to achieve a global military capability.

"The Soviets are continuing the rapid deployment of major strategic offensive weapons systems at a rate that could, by the mid-1970s, place us in a second rate strategic position with regard to the future security of the free world."

TO CUT BUDGET

The defense secretary said however that he intends to cut the U.S. military budget by 7 per cent this year. President Nixon's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 calls for $71.8 billion in defense spending compared to $77 billion for the current year, ending June 30.

Laird declined to state in the part of the testimony, made public as he went into the closed session, any estimate of the cost for the Vietnam War but it was likely that he would give a figure to the committees in secret.

The Pentagon has said publicly it expects Vietnam spending to drop below $1.5 billion a month by mid-year. At tines in the past, it has run well over $2 billion a month.

Laird's public statement spelled out Soviet and Chinese Communist weapon development.

The immediate Soviet threat, he said, comes from their rapid deployment of land and submarine-based missiles.

Laird concluded with this evaluation: "In the long term, one of the most serious threats confronting the United States is the large and growing military and research and development effort of the Soviet Union."

TIMED DISCUSSION

His public discussion of Vietnam was limited. He said Gen, Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, would give the committees a full report on the war, based on the visit to Vietnam by Laird and the general last week.

However, Laird said on the basis of the trip, he has concluded that the Vietnamization program is proceeding "on schedule or ahead of schedule in all major categories."

He said in recent years U.S. spending on defense, space and atomic energy research has remained steady while Soviet efpenditures have increased 10 to 13 per cent a year.

Now the Soviet Union is putting $16 to $17 billion into such work compared with $13

Hoffman Upholds Wiretap

CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Julius J. Hoffman ruled today that wiretapped conversations did not taint the government's case against five men convicted of inciting rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The judge refused to hear further arguments from the defense on the issue. His ruling denied a defense motion to make public the contents of the wiretap logs.

"I find the electronic surveillance conducted was expressly authorized by the U. S. attorney general to gather intelligence vital to the security of the government," the judge said.

"The surveillance was lawful and consequently not subject to disclosure," he added. "The hearing requested by the defense to determine if the surveillance tainted the government's case will be denied."

The courtroom and surrounding corridors were quiet in the absence of the defendants' families and friends. Only newsmen and court officers were permitted in the courtroom.

Five of the seven defendants were found guilty Wednesday of inciting riots at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Each man faces a maximum sentence of five years and a $10,000 fine.

The judge spent most of Thursday studying the wiretapping, logs, impounded prior to the start of the trial.

Two defendants who were cleared of all charges by the U.S. District Court jury of 10 women and 2 men were not required to be in court for the wire tap ruling.

But like their five co-defendants, John R. Froines, 31, and Lee Weiner, 31, have been sentenced by the judge on contempt charges and denied freedom on bail.

Froines was sentenced to 6½ months and Weiner received 2 months and 18 days. They will serve these sentences in the Cook County jail.

The defense lawyers, William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass, are free because Judge Hoffman stayed execution of their contempt sentences to May 4. Kunstler was sentenced to 4 years and 13 days;

Chrysler Sees Big First Quarter Loss

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp., which lost $4.4 million in the final quarter of 1969, said today it expects to lose between $10 million and $40 million in the first quarter of 1970.

The statement was made in a prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission announcing the proposed sale of $200 million in notes and debenture bonds.

In 1969, Chrysler had net earnings of $88.8 million, or $1.87 per share of common stock, down from a record of $290.7 million, or $6.23 a share, in 1968.

Chrysler, the nation's third largest automotive firm, blamed the continuing loss on decreased sales, increased costs and high interest rates.

On Jan. 27, Chrysler announced a debt financing program to increase working capital and retire some debt currently in the form of commercial paper.

The prospectus outlines an issue of $100 million in five-year notes and $100 million in 25-year sinking fund debentures.

Chrysler said its working capital in 1969 fell by $250.1 million, more than offsetting an increase of $243.2 million in 1968. Main components in the decline were reduced earnings and proceeds from long-term borrowing and increased expenditures for property, plant and equipment.

Chrysler said it hopes to have the bonds and notes ready for public sale the week of March 9, pending approval by the SEC. Tentative delivery date is March 24.

Dutton Leads Antituition Regent Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California President Charles J. Hitch told UC regents today that Gov. Reagan's proposed 1970-71 budget "does not provide for growth and this university needs to grow with the state."

Hitch's comments were prepared for delivery to regents, who also face the possibility of requiring tuition from next year's 101,000 students.

As the board concluded its two-day meeting today at the UC Extension Center, antituition arguments came from regent Frederick G. Dutton of Sausalito and several of student body presidents from the nine campuses plus faculties, campus and community groups.

One coalition of such groups, the "Movement Against Tuition," earlier in the week received a permit from the city to picket today's meeting with about 200 demonstrators.

On the regents' afternoon agenda were these major items:

— A recommendation from Hitch that the present $300 student fees, which are not considered tuition, be increased to $580 next year and to $660 the year after.

— A recommendation from Reagan, also a regent, that Hitch's figures be adopted for undergraduates but graduates pay $660 next year and $750 in 1971-72.

— A recommendation from the regents' educational policy committee that a third college, intended to meet the problems of minorities, be established at the San Diego campus.

'Santa Ana' Winds Continue To Play Southern California Havoc

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Another day of strong, gusty "Santa Ana" winds brought out small craft and travelers' warnings again today.

However, the weather bureau said today's winds would not reach the hurricane-like velocity of Thursday and would continue to drop off during the day.

At one point Thursday, wind gusts of 95 miles an hour —23 miles per hour above the minimum hurricane level-were reported at the Orange County Airport.

That facility was one of the hardest-hit areas as 18 small planes were blown from their moorings and damaged. Planes also were damaged at Hollywood-Burbank Airport, where a DC3 being towed from a hangar was tipped over on its nose, at San Fernando Airport, where a Cessna 180 was pulled from its moorings and overturned, and at Miro Airport near Cajon Pass.

The California Highway Patrol closed the main desert roads in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties to trucks, trailers and campers.

Thousands of utility lines, trees and signs were toppled throughout the Southland and there was widespread damage to plate glass windows in businesses and homes.

Power failure were common and traffic was often snarled because traffic signals were inoperative. In many areas Highway Patrolmen and local police had to direct traffic.

At sea, the winds whipped up eight foot waves which battered boats and damaged the old steamship pier and the ocean-front walk at Avalon on Catalina Island.

Spectacular Blaze Hits Oil Well Pier

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Fire fighters struggled today against isolated pockets of flame which persisted stubbornly after a spectacular blaze that hit an oceanside pier lined with at least 20 oil wells.

One fireman was trapped briefly and rescued by a boat but no one else was reported on the quarter-mile-long pier when it erupted in a series of flareups at separate wells Thursday afternoon.

Witnesses said each of the wells that became involved flared up spectacularly before automatic devices, which activate when lines are broken, shut off the pumping fuel flow.

Smoke was so thick for a time that two lanes of the nearby Pacific Coast Highway had to be closed to traffic. A fire official said damage may exceed $1 million. Some 600 to 800 feet of the wooden pier was ruined or destroyed.

First reports said a number of workers had been trapped for a time and then been rescued, but Ventura County firemen believed that was inaccurate. They said the oil well pumps worked automatically, thus requiring no full-time crews.

Firemen said they had the blaze contained to pockets of still-burning gas and oil after a several-hour battle and that oil well fire experts would help them gain final control today. The major danger was past, firemen said.

The cause was undetermined.

Mobil Oil, Atlantic Richfield and at least one other oil company reportedly operate the pier, fire officials said. The quarter-mile-long pier is located at Rincon Point just across the Santa Barbara County line in Ventura County.

County Fire Chief B. B. Haggard made the damage estimate.

Investors In Eichler Face No Returns

SAN FANCISCO (AP) — The trustee of the Eichler Corp. says 600 bondholders and 1,100 stockholders in the bankrupt home building firm probably will never recover any of their investment.

In a report to the U.S. District Court, Stuart M. Kaplan said the prospects are that liquidation may not pay all creditor claims totaling about $2 million.

U.S. District Court Judge Albert C. Wollenberg has approved Kaplan's liquidation plan, formally filed Thursday.

The company went into bankruptcy in 1967 a year after Joseph Eichler, widely known California builder who completed 5,000 homes and several high-rise apartments, sold his controlling interest.

The buyers were Charles S. Parr Sr. and Robert Bryson, both of Los Angeles.

When the company went into bankruptcy proceedings, Kaplan said, it held $10,000 in cash against $27 million in total liabilities and $2 million owed to trade creditors.

U.S., Peking Envoys Hold 'Businesslike' Session

WARSAW (AP) — In a meeting described as useful and businesslike, the U.S. and Communist Chinese envoys in Warsaw conducted Friday the 136th session of their 15-year-old secret ambassadorial talks.

The discussion between U.S. Ambassador Walter J. Stoessel Jr., and Lei Yang, Chinese charge d'affaires, and three aides each, lasted an hour.

The two diplomats told newsmen afterward that no date was set for the next meeting, but both sides agreed to be in touch soon to decide this question.

In brief prepared statements read to reporters, the two gave no indication of what was discussed. Stoessel said: "as in the past, we have both agreed that our discussions and the topics we covered will be held in confidence."

For the first time in the history of the talks—the only official contact between Peking and Washington—the session was held in the modern white marble U.S. Embassy.

The meeting the previous month, the first in two years of on-and-off talks that began in 1955, was held at the Chinese Embassy. The two sides formerly met in a Polish palace, but they suspected the building was bugged and their talks were being relayed to the Soviet Union.

The U.S. ambassador said the atmosphere was "businesslike" — the same term he used to describe the last meeting.

Stoessel added: "I believe these conversations have been and will continue to be useful for both our governments."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed today legislation to make available $30 million of Agriculture Department funds for the national school lunch program.

The bill was sent back to the House which voted to permit use of $100 million for the purpose.

Railroad Strike Delayed 10 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge Friday extended for another 10 days an order restraining railroad unions from striking and the railroads from imposing a lockout, thus postponing a threatened railroad strike.

The action came in the court of District Judge Howard Corcoran. Previous restraining orders have halted a coast-to-coast shutdown since Jan. 31.

WASHINGTON VIOLENCE — A Washington, D.C., plainclothes officer dodges a chunk of ice tossed by a protester demonstrating against the conviction of the Chicago Seven. The ice was hurled while the officer and a companion were arresting another demonstrator at George Washington University yesterday. Earlier, police thwarted a march to the Watergate apartment project where Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell lives.

More Uproar Over Chicago Seven Trial

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scattered demonstrations, skirmishes with police and a jail riot have broken out around the country in reaction to the conviction in Chicago of five persons for inciting riots.

In Boston's Hub Thursday, about 5,000 marched up Tremont Street smashing windows after a rally of 20,000 persons that began in the Common. Police clubbed about a dozen demonstrators. At least a dozen persons were arrested and four ambulances hauled away the injured, who included several policemen.

At Michigan State University in East Lansing demonstrators smashed 1,000 windows and fought with police, who arrested several.

Police arrested 123 persons in Washington, D.C. during several hours of skirmishes in the aftermath of a demonstration by about 300 outside the apartment where Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell lives. Police had dispersed the demonstrators but they moved into side streets, disrupted traffic and pelted police with rocks, bottles and chunks of snow. Police said three civilians and one policeman were treated for minor injuries.

In San Jose, Calif., prisoners in the jail rampaged after watching a television program about the Chicago case. Guards used fire hoses to quell the rioters and put out six fires which had been set.

About 50 youths smashed windows in a hotel and adjacent shop in Evanston, Ill.

Police arrested five persons among more than 500 who clashed with them near the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles. Windows were smashed in branches of the First Western Bank and a brokerage.

About 50 persons chanted "power to the people" outside the Baltimore courthouse. There were peaceful marches of 100 at the University of Wisconsin and 150 at Cornell University, and about 300 ralied peacefully at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Senate Passes Giant Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $35 billion education aid bill after defeating Southern efforts to attach a provision to ban the busing of students to achieve school integration.

But the Southern Senate defeat Thursday was offset somewhat in the House where Dixie forces won their fight to attach antidesegregation amendments to a new appropriations bill for the departments of Health, Education and Welfare and labor.

The House amendments prohibit forced busing of school children, legalize freedom of choice desegregation plans and make it harder to cut off federal funds to school districts not complying with integration orders.

The $19.4 billion HEW-Labor spending measure is embroiled in another controversy. President Nixon thinks it—like a $19.7 billion bill he vetoed last month—is still inflationary.

After rejecting Republican moves to trim the new version to make it acceptable to Nixon, the House approved the bill 315 to 81 and sent it to the Senate.

The massive federal aid to education bill—largest ever to pass either branch of Congress—sailed through the Senate 80-0 after the ban-the-bus amendment lost 49 to 36. The legislation, which goes to conference with the House, extends several major education programs for four years, expanding them in a way strongly opposed by President Nixon.

Chances the full $35 billion authorized will be appropriated in the 1971-74 period are slim.

Nixon has been seeking about one-third of money authorized for federal education grants. In the current year, the authorization total for all education programs is $9 billion. Nixon asked $3.1 billion and Congress voted $4.2 billion, but the President vetoed this as too large.

The Southern senators were not shut out completely in action on the education bill. Wednesday the Senate adopted an amendment to require the government to move as hard against segregated schools resulting from neighborhood patterns in the North as it has against officially segregated schools in the South.

The fate of this uniform national desegregation policy amendment of Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., now must be settled in the conference. There is nothing similar in the House version.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., the Republican Leader, and other senators predicted it would be dropped or sharply modified.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., sponsored the losing amendment to knock out the power of the federal courts to order busing to change a school's racial composition.

A second Erving amendment, to prevent any federal court or agency from denying any child the right to attend the public school nearest his home, also was defeated 58 to 24.

Two More U.S. Copters Winged In Vietnam Action

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces killed 166 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in sharp fighting yesterday but enemy gunners shot down two more U.S. helicopters, raising the toll to 16 in the past 10 days, military spokesmen reported today.

A total of 39 Americans and four South Vietnamese have been killed in the helicopter crashes, and 36-Americans and 52 South Vietnamese have been wounded.

The U.S. Command said 6,431 American helicopters and planes have been lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

U.S. B52 bombers ranged along the Cambodian and Laotian borders, attacking North Vietnamese supply depots, staging areas and gun positions. Some 40 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of bombs.

Military sources said "it is very possible" that such allied actions as the B52 raids and the seizure of nearly 200 tons of weapons and ammunition in the past two weeks may have pushed back the enemy command's timetable for an offensive in South Vietnam.

Most of the fighting during the past 24 hours was done by South Vietnamese troops backed by American helicopter gunships, bombers and artillery. It centered in the central Mekong Delta, and five government troops were killed and 39 wounded, field reports said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Wyeth's Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) —For President Nixon it was "something new in White House history." First Lady Pat Nixon said it was "a dream come true." And artist Andrew J. Wyeth, called it a "remarkable occasion."

The event was the first one-man art show ever held in the White House, featuring the works of Wyeth and a dinner in his honor with all of the Wyeth clan and many of the great names from the art world present to salute him.

No one seemed to enjoy it more than the Pennsylvania artist himself, who earlier in the day with the help of Mrs. Nixon unveiled the 21 canvasses hung on soft gold velvet panels in the East Room for a month-long public exhibit.

Nixon told the dinner audience that a very old man whom Wyeth painted said on viewing the picture, "I found something in that painting that I don't see in the mirror."

Sixpence Sticks

LONDON (AP) — Treasury Minister William Rogers said Thursday the British government is holding up its plans to abandon the sixpence as part of its conversion to the decimal currency system.

The little silver coin, worth six U.S. cents, is the most common piece of change in the Briton's pockets. Plans to scrap it next year after 419 years of circulation touched off protests from members of Parliament, shopkeepers and the general public.

Save Our Sixpence, a group campaigning to retain the coin, contended that if it was abolished, the price of most sixpenny items would rise. The London transport authority said if the coin was retained it would cancel plans to raise the minimum bus and subway fare from sixpence to 12 cents. Officials said the increase was necessary to pay for new equipment to handle other coins.

Rats Killed

SEOUL (AP) — South Koreans have killed 41.5 million rats in a recent nationwide pest control operation, the Agriculture-Forestry Ministry reported today.

The death toll, based on a body count, represents 46 per cent of an estimated rat population in Korea, according to the ministry.

Supports Gowon

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today that Nigeria's chief of state, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, had "some reasons for animosity" because of charges in the United States that his government was going to wipe out the defeated Ibos of Biafra.

Rogers told the staff of the U.S. Embassy that Americans should respect the extreme sensitivity of the Nigerian leaders to such allegations.

Rogers said Gowon "has some reasons for animosity ... because of charges that the Nigerians were about to engage in a bloodbath. I can't think of an accusation that could be more offensive."

The accusation that Gowon was not doing his best to channel relief supplies to the starving population in the conquered area was equally offensive to the Nigerian leaders, Rogers said. Gowon has refused to allow international relief agencies to operate in what was once Biafra and has insisted on all relief being handled by the overburdened Nigerian agencies.

Stoph Accepts

BONN, Germany (AP) — East German premier Willy Stoph today accepted West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's proposal that they meet for talks in East Berlin in March, the West German government announced.

Chief government spokesman Conrad Ahlers said a telegram from Stoph's office proposed that representatives of each government meet in East Berlin on March 2 to make arrangements for the meeting of the two government chiefs. Ahlers said his government would agree to this.

Stoph on Feb. 11 had invited Brandt to meet him on Feb. 19 or Feb. 26. Brandt this week proposed that they meet during the second or third week of March, saying he could not make it earlier.

Wine To Germany

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California wines will be shipped to West Germany starting Feb. 23 in the first such commercial operation in the history of the industry.

While the 118-year-old company makes a number of German-type white wines, exports for the present will be confined to the reds and roses, of which West Germany produces almost none.

Public Housing Issue Raises Fears

Opposition to public housing has been emotionally based, including fear of lowered property values, higher taxes and crowded schools.

This analysis of potential opposition to a June 2 ballot for 600 units of senior citizen and family housing was made this week by Margaret B. Azevedo, member of a citizens committee campaigning for the measure.

It should be recognized there is an instinct for protection of the immediate neighborhood, Mrs. Azevedo said in her report to the interim Executive Committee of the Special Citizens Committee on Low Rent Housing.

There is fear of large, multiple units which increase the density in single family housing areas, she said. At the Homestead Valley Senior Citizens project there was fear of higher taxes due to increased services to residents.

At Hilarita Housing Project in Tiburon, there was fear of lowered property values, Mrs. Azevedo reported. There is also fear of outsiders, low-income persons, single parents and those not paying their own way, she said.

She recalled that there was 72 per cent support and 28 per cent opposition when a measure was passed in 1964 for 200 units of senior housing in Marin.

On opposition to specific housing projects, Mrs. Azevedo said homeowners opposed the senior project in Santa Venetia, but primarily were concerned with height restrictions.

At Homestead Valley senior project the community generally accepted the concept of public housing, but preferred that it be elsewhere in the county.

Intense opposition to housing at the Hilarita project has diminished, but there is now a petition opposing a proposed senior housing project at Tiburon Wye and Knoll Road, Alto, she reported.

There hasn't been any organized opposition to leased housing which has been approved to date, Mrs. Azevedo said.

The Marin County Public Housing Tenants Union has opposed the residency requirements on leased housing units, set be some cities in Marin, saying it keeps Marin City tenants from moving into leased housing in those cities.

Mrs. Azevedo reported that nine cities have endorsed leased housing, but only five have residency restrictions.

The tenants union is seeking assurance that residency restrictions won't be applied to any public housing approved in the measure.

Executive committee members this week generally agreed methods should be established to give priority of funding to cities without restrictions and guarantee that 50 per cent of tenants be residents of the city involved, according to Frank Edlund, committee secretary.

The full committee will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday (Feb. 26) at the Venetia Oaks Housing Project, 263 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Appellate Court Favors Marin In Drydocks Case

Marin has the right to order removal of four large drydocks that are mired in Richardson Bay off Sausalito, the State Court of Appeals in San Francisco ruled yesterday.

The Appellate court upheld an order issued in Marin Superior Court in 1968, which means the present owner, J. Christopher Roberts of Sausalito must remove the drydocks. Roberts bought the property from the late Delmar D. Wise and his Diesel Engineering and Maintenance Co. of Sausalito.

Marin Superior Court ordered the drydocks removed because they encroach on public tidelands and directed Roberts to pay the county $50 per month, starting in April of 1968, and for as long as the drydocks remain.

Monkey's Owner Traps A Bobcat

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Robert W. Tiedemann managed to trap a 30-pound be-jeweled bob cat Thursday after he found the animal heckling his three pet monkeys.

The man discovered the cat in the backyard of his home and finally cornered the animal in an empty monkey cage.

The cat, described as "relatively tame" and wearing a jeweled collar was then turned over to the Department of Animal Regulations.

Israel Resumes Suez Air Raids

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets resumed their attack on Egyptian military targets along the Suez Canal today, the Israeli military command said.

A spokesman said the jets pounded Egyptian targets along the southern sector of the 103-mile waterway. The attack was an apparent response to the shooting down Thursday of an Israeli aircraft in a similar raid.

In Beirut, Lebanese Interior Minister Kamal Jumblatt predicted that violence will increase in the Middle East in the next two months. He returned from Cairo and a meeting with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Jumblatt told a news conference that the Arab countries must act "to make the Americans feel there is a direct threat to their interests in the Middle East" because Israel has depended primarily on U.S. support.

Larkspur Trustees Face Budget Pinch

The Larkspur School District board was told last night it could not expect an increase in funds in the 1970-71 budget.

Asst. Supt. Gilbert Slusher reported he told the board an anticipated loss of 60 students will keep the state's share of the $1,660,000 budget at about 20 per cent.

Slusher said the loss of the average daily attendance funds for the 60 students, and the higher cost of supplies and school repairs could cause the school to use more of its operational reserve funds than predicted.

The school district is currently negotiating informally with its teachers for pay increases, he added, and these hikes may not be covered by the new budget.

The board said it would continue to review new state legislation, student enrollment, and teacher requests at its next monthly meeting, Slusher reported.

The Larkspur School District Board also:

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS — Approved request from the cities of Larkspur and Corte Madera to use school buildings as polling locations for the April 14 elections.

SUMMER SESSION—Approved appointment of Al Kerras principal of district's summer session program to start in June. Kerr is the vice principal at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

RETIREMENTS—Approved retirement of three teachers. They are: Dona McKinney of Henry C. Hall School; Ottie Redway of Larkspur-Corte Madera School; and Joanne Fennell of San Clemente School.

POLICY—Approved county policy on who may use district schools after hours, and how much they should pay.

President's Proposal For Environment

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon unveiled today his fiscal 1971 budget plans to save the environment: A five-year program of waste-treatment grants at the 1970 level set by Congress, a determination to spend previously authorized land acquisition funds and a modest boost for air pollution control.

Nixon promised "major proposals to improve and protect our surroundings" in a forthcoming special message to Congress.

The environmental showpiece of his 1971 budget was a $4 billion, five-year program of federal grants to encourage construction of municipal waste treatment facilities.

To qualify, however, states and municipalities will have to come up with $6 billion in matching money.

To help them do it, Nixon proposed creation of "a new federal environmental financing authority" which will "purchase the obligations of state and local governments participating in these federally assisted programs and . . . issue its own securities to the public."

Thr $10 billion generated would meet the Interior Department's estimates of the amount needed to clean up the worst of the water pollution caused by municipal wastes.

For fiscal 1970 Nixon sought $214 million for waste treatment grants, but Congress voted him $800 million. The 1971 budget shows Nixon accepting the challenge with a commitment to spend that money and charging Congress, in turn, to commit itself to keep up the pace with $800 million a year for the next five years.

Other serious pollution sources—industry, farm run-off and soil erosion—are not reached by the municipal waste treatment grants.

Stepping up the program to acquire new park, wildlife and recreation lands, Nixon's 1971 budget proposes obligations to spend the full $200 million available to the Land and Water Fund plus $157 million left over in the fund from 1970.

In fiscal 1970, Nixon proposed obligating only $124 million.

Actual spending for such recreational resources in fiscal 1971 was estimated at $546 million, an increase of $99 million over 1970.

While Nixon sought new obligational authority of $106 million for the air pollution control program—an increase of $10.3 million—he pledged actual spending of $104.2 million, an increase of $24.5 million, an effort to close the gap between authorized and actual expenditures.

The water pollution programs are administered by the Interior Department, air pollution by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Under the heading of environmental control—another HEW responsibility—Nixon pledged development of criteria toward the development of standards to limit exposure of workers to coal dust, cotton dust, uranium radiation and noise.

The Interior Department was offered a chance to beautify the landscape with inclusion, for the first time, of a $1 million request for research on placing electric power lines underground.

tion and increased student fees, said the university needs to consider other forms of revenue than from the students.

Dutton said the university could raise more money "if adequate charges were made for research done with university facilities."

He said that agricultural research, "which now absorbs almost $30 million in funds annually," principally benefits "specific, very large corporate and land-owning groups."

The Sausalito attorney also suggested increased investment programs.

He called for re-evaluation of the use of regent funds, saying the university should decide what funds are to be used for "student purposes rather than the land purchases, technological projects and other worthwhile but non-student use of the money."

Dutton said the university "continues to pay millions of dollars" a year in electricity costs to Pacific Gas & Electric, but might see a "substantial" savings if it sought a public power allocation.

billion to $14 billion for the United States, Laird said.

Of the Red Chinese threat, Laird said that some time this year they would begin deploying missiles with a 1,000-mile range packing the nuclear power of the American A-bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

He also said U.S. intelligence experts expect the Chinese Communists to test fire this year a 6,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile which could pose a direct threat to the United States.

Although Laird's budget requests for the coming year are below last year's, he said "if the current Soviet buildup continues, we will need additional costly steps to preserve an effective deterrent."

Did Dog Handler Die In Traffic Dispute?

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Police said today they are still not sure what led to the slaying of Joe Zalaco, guard dog handler who was shot and killed Wednesday in San Francisco.

Inspector Telfred Slettvedt told the Independent-Journal that it may have been a traffic quarrel which led to Zalaco being shot twice by two men whose car had pulled up next to his vehicle.

Slettvedt said police are checking out "a few leads" and that they have some idea about the identity of the slayers' car, but he would not release the information.

He said there are several witnesses who saw Zalaco and the two men talking but who saw "no actual physical contact between them."

Zalaco's employer, Lorraine Ammenti, owner of Dog Power, Inc., today denied reports in the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner that Zalaco was driving dogs to the I-J at the time of the slaying. Zalaco was driving to her home at 302 Presita Avenue in San Francisco when he was shot, she said, not the I-J.

Slettvedt said Mrs. Ammenti's statement was correct.

He also said that newspaper reports that Zalaco was shot at Potrero Avenue and 25th Street at 7:30 p.m. were incorrect.

Zalaco was driving on Army Street toward Mrs. Ammenti's home when the shooting took place at about 6 p.m. near Potrero Avenue, he said.

Slettvedt said it was possible that the fatally wounded Zalaco was trying to drive himself to San Francisco General Hospital at 23rd Street and Potrero when he collapsed at 25th Street.

Mrs. Ammenti said the possibility that the shooting had anything to do with the I-J strike was "very remote."

"I don't think the pickets had anything to do with it," she said, noting that her firm had experienced no intimidation effort by the unions involved in Saturday's demonstration outside the I-J, despite the fact that the firm had supplied some dogs to Nor-Cal Security Service of Sacramento, which guards the I-J premises.The dogs had been ordered as a defensive measure in anticipation of a possible rush into the I-J building.

Father Reports Girl Bitten By Two Dogs

Willeam L. Rose of 150 Bungalow Street, San Rafael, reported his 15-year old daughter, Susan Lynee Rose, was bitten bytwo small black dogs yesterday at 4:45 p.m. at the Davidson Junior High School grounds,police reported today.

Rose said the dogs were owned by Robert J. Schilling, 246 Woodland Avenue, according to police. Rose said his daughter would be treated by the family physician, polece added.

California is the third-ranking state in production of cotton, hay and wheat.

Housing In School Area Pitch Made

High density housing will have less effect on school population than feared, the Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, was told last night by a developer.

Robert O'Neal, president of Young America Homes, discussed his firm's plans to build homes, townhouses and condominiums on North McDowell boulevard.

He said that while the density will be higher than usual, there will be fewer children per living unit. Superintendent Dean D. Magowan said the board had been concerned about a great influx of students should the city council approve the housing development.

O'Neal said that no ill effects had been found from a similar development in Santa Rosa.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

TEXT—Approved the use of the book "How We Are Born" as supplementary reading material in family life education classes.

AIDES—Approved an agreement with Sonoma State College to allow 20 psychology students to work in classrooms as teacher aides.

WORKSHOP—Approved a workshop on Tuesday for teachers to discuss physical fitness and methods of teaching modern mathematics. No classes will be held.

BUDGET—Heard a report that the budget committee is still considering the possibility of mid-year salary increases for teachers.

Adults Needed For Vote Drive

Adult volunteers are needed to help circulate petitions to lower the voting age to 18, the Marin County Youth Commission announced last night at a meeting at Civic Center.

Chairman Mark W. Tracy said the youth commission is coordinating the drive in Marin to circulate petitions to put the voting age question on the statewide ballot in November.

Next Monday, Washington's Birthday holiday, is the big day for the drive, said Tracy. Card tables will be set up at shopping centers to get signatures.

The youth need adult volunteers because both signers and circulators of the petitions must be registered voters.

State Takes Major Step To Purge DDT

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The Reagan administration took a major step toward purging California of DDT today but a pesticide expert warned that substitutes may pose a greater threat to human health.

As part of a campaign to abolish the controversial pest killer during the next year and a half, the Department of Agriculture proposed eliminating DDT on cotton Oct. 1 and on sweet corn May 1. Cotton growers are the biggest single remaining users of DDT in California.

Agriculture Director Jerry W. Fielder estimated that the newest proposed ban coupled with those adopted recently for other crops would reduce use of DDT by at least 75 per cent of its current level.

He estimated that certain cotton grown in parts of the San Joaquin Valley alone consumes half the DDT applied in California and predicted by the end of the year the remaining use of the pesticide will be about 2.5 per cent of what it was in 1960.

Also proposed for elimination was another persistent pesticide, DDD. The proposal is subject to protest but Fielder reported Thursday that he didn't "anticipate any opposition."

Sen. John A. Nejedly, the legislature's toughest DDT foe, said he was "encouraged" by Fielder's announcement.

He termed it a "strong indication" that there is no longer "any real opposition" to his bill to outlaw by statute DDT and other chlorinated hydrocarbon pesticides.

"Now there's even more reason for enactment," the Walnut Creek Republican said.

Conservationists and some public health authorities have warned that DDT has damaged fish and wildlife and constitutes a threat to human health. The public health fears have been challenged by other authorities.

The department reported that methylparathion, an organic phosphate, will be offered to growers as a substitute to fight the cotton bollworm. Another phosphate compound is undergoing state and federal registration and will be made available to corn growers late in March.

The department's proposed action will give cotton growers another full growing season before the conversion to an alternative. No such lead was given corn farmers.

The abolition plan followed recommendations of Dr. J. E. Swift, statewide coordinator of pesticides at the University of California.

He reported that even though phosphates have been employed in agricultural pest control on other crops for many years they "have to be used much more cautiously than DDT because most are much more poisonous to human beings."

He said their application must be done very carefully so that helpful insects are not killed along with harmful bugs.

In a telephone interview, Swift said researchers "assume that none of these will cause the same problems (as DDT) because they are short-lived materials and they break down relatively quickly."

"The substitution of the phosphate compounds for DDT requires they be used in a pest management scheme so that they will not completely disrupt the local environment by eliminating all the beneficial insect species.

"When these are eliminated, you may have more severe problems with the major and minor pests. In considering the adoption of substitute methods we also must give more concern and study to how these are going to be used."

Development of additional substitutes for other crops is continuing, he said, adding, "We think that by the end of the growing season there may not be any use for DDT."

In Fresno County, cotton grower Bill Rusconi said he believed the Oct. 1 deadline "is about as good as we could expect." But he added, "We must have a suitable substitute first because farmers simply cannot afford to have anything further upset our economy."

ABAG Raises Budget To $1.4 Million

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — A $1,391,511 budget for fiscal 1970-71 was adopted last night by the general assembly of the Association of Bay Area Governments.

The budget, up from the current fiscal year's $1,129,800, was approved by voice vote with only one dissent. It was cast by San Anselmo Vice Mayor James F. Reed, who said his council opposed the amount of the increase in the budget.

Just because federal money was available for additional planning programs was not a good enough reason for ABAG to get involved in them, he said.

Cite and county dues, which with federal funds finance the budget, were hiked from the current $232,374 to $247,686.

For the first time, the budget included $10,000 for lobbying expenses in Sacramento and Washington.

Marin Supervisor John F. McInnis, chairman of the regional planning committee, said completion of the regional plan, due by now, had been delayed by "needless red tape" to meet federal requirements. It should be done later this coming spring, he said.

Case Referred To Youth Court

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday referred the case of Dana Allen Minto, 18, of San Pablo, to the probation department to see if he is acceptable to juvenile court.

The youth was arrested Wednesday afternoon at the Top Hat Market in Mill Valley, where he was accused of shoplifting. Police said he had a pot cigarette with him.

He is to return to court March 5.

Tools Stolen

Tools valued at $100, a $35 tire and a $2 flare were stolen Wednesday between 5 and 9:30 p.m. from a car owned by James P. Giorvas, 120 Hawthorne Drive, Santa Venetia and parked at the Terra Linda High School parking lot, San Rafael police reported today.

Bomb Threat To Drug Store

"We've planted a bomb to go off in an hour. Beware!" a raspy deep male voice told clerk Angela J. Ince of Long's Drugs at 12:40 p.m., yesterday, according to police.

The store at 1707 Grant Avenue was emptied and police searched for a bomb. When no bomb was found and the time had expired, the store was reopened at 2 p.m., police reported.

The voice sounded as though it was coming through some type of machine, and belonged to a man 40 to 45 years old, the clerk told police.

Burglars Hit Lumber Firm

Burglars last night broke into Novato Lumber Co. at 7586 Redwood Highway, Novato, and took $149 in cash, Novato police reported.

The burglary was discovered by employee Charles Hodson when he opened the yard at 7:45 a.m., according to police.

On Feb. 11, the same firm was the victim of an attempted safe burglary. At that time, the burglars succeeded only in breaking the controls off the safe.

Famed Robber Seeks Welfare

NEW YORK (AP) — Bank robber Willie "The Actor" Sutton, who once estimated his criminal take at $2 million, has applied for welfare assistance.

At a Brooklyn welfare center Thursday, Sutton, 68, was promised $78 a month plus half the cost of his rent. Sutton said he was staying with Brooklyn relatives.

Victim Of Injuries Found Inside Car

John L. Umphreys, 64, of 206 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with multiple scrapes, bruises and a possible concussion after being found in his car in the Disco parking lot at 7:16 p.m., San Rafael police reported today.

Umphreys did not know how he sustained his injuries, police said.

Help Needed

Wanted: Grandmother. To help out at recreation center for handicapped children. Need the kind of person who could brighten a child's life for a few hours each week. Someone who can read a story, sing a lullabye, tie endless shoe laces. In return for your trouble you'll get nothing but love.

Square dance caller. About twenty people in a certain psychiatric ward need something to take their minds off their troubles. If you can lead square dancing—or any kind of folk dancing, you'll see a lot of smiles on faces unused to smiling.

Fix-It Man. What good is a television in a senior citizens' center if it doesn't work? Things go wrong, and we need someone to set them right every week or so. If you're handy that way, why not give a hand.

WOODCRAFTSMAN

Needed to help teach wood shop at recreation center for mentally handicapped children. It's not just that these boys need to learn carpentry. Even more, it's that they need the time and attention of a man they can look up to. All you need is a few spare hours a month. And the patience of Job.

Man with a Banjo. Or woman with a guitar. Or harmonica or hand organ. To lead song fests in psychiatric day care center.

¿HABLA ESPANOL?

Hospital staff needs to learn Spanish in order to communicate with large segment of their patients. If you could help with the teaching, you'd be helping a doctor find out whether a patient has a sharp pain or a dull pain. You'd be helping a nurse to know whether a patient wants a sleeping pill. After you've given a couple of lessons, they'll tell you just how you've helped.

IF YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT ANYTHING,

chances are someone would be glad to learn. More glad than you can imagine. Tutors are needed desperately in every section of the Bay Area. By people from five to 55, from Marin City to Chinatown, from West Oakland to East Palo Alto to the Western Addition. You'll know you're helping. But you'll probably never know how much!

Bridge teacher. To give lessons to out-patients under psychiatric treatment. Help get their minds back in working and playing order.

BIG SISTER. To be, perhaps, the most significant woman in a motherless girl's life. Very demanding job. Must make a long-term commitment. Maybe it'll end up being for life.

HALF-WAY HOUSE NEEDS HOST OR HOSTESS.

Most people couldn't take this job. And a lot of others wouldn't. It's greeting men who've just been released from prison and orienting them to their new surroundings as they reorient themselves to the outside world. You'll see some beautiful human dramas if you're man—or woman—enough for the job.

A contagious smile. That's what you need to bring a little sunshine every week into a convalescent hospital. If you're the person we need, you'll love the work.

Business Brains. Need men in sales, marketing or management fields to counsel minority businesses. The proprietors you'll be working with have the drive, brains and adrenaline it takes. Lend them some of your business savvy and they'll make it on their own.

Health Nut. To help out in gym program for retarded children. You'll have an attentive group of youngsters who'll love the activity you provide them.

Legal Aide.

Basketball coach who can play basketball. And football too. A bunch of kids and teenagers need some help with their games. Be a hero once a week.

Jewelry Maker. Teach your art to someone who will really benefit from it. Day-care center needs someone to help teach all sorts of arts and crafts. With your help, some patient will have a new ring for himself, or a very personal present to give somone who means something to him.

Day-tripper. Someone to help take young girls on field trips to museums, on camping trips in the mountains, on long hikes in the woods. Applicant for this job must be female. But there's also a real need for men to help with day trips for boys.

Amateur or Professional. To work with pre-schoolers in a Haight Ashbury nursery school.

Gallery-keeper. To act as host or hostess at child art museum. You'll pass out brochures, answer questions. Man the guest book, sell cards and books, and get a little younger each day.

Pepper-upper. Blood bank needs someone to greet donors, serve them hot coffee and warmly thank them for coming.

Baby-sitter. Some mothers can't afford to get out of the house even long enough to take a class once a week. They could bring the children along and leave them in the playroom if someone could baby-sit. Could you take a couple of hours a week to take care of some kids while their mothers go to class?

Artist.

To do spot jobs. Drawing for brochures, lettering signs, designing posters, whatever comes up. It's for an agency offering various services to families in need. You'll be given a free hand, so you and this agency can really help make a name for each other.

Sometime saleswoman. To work in hospital gift shop. You'll meet lots of interesting people, and hand over each day's profits to an organization dedicated to easing children's suffering.

Good cook. Share your talents. If you can teach some unwed mothers how to make a pie crust—the kind that flakes diagonally instead of horizontally—that's a real accomplishment. For them and for you.

Public Speaker. If you like having an audience, there are groups all over the Bay Area we'd like for you to talk to, to acquaint the public with our organization.

Pair of hands. To help patients too sick to write their own letters, and your companionship will give them something to write home about.

Knitting teacher. Give a constructive project to some teenaged girls who are wards of the court. Knowing how to knit will mean a lot of pleasant hours over the course of their lifetimes. And a lot of pretty sweaters. But the friendship of a person like you will mean even more.

Do You Make Mistakes in English?

There are hundreds of Chinese in San Francisco who can't speak any English at all. Which makes it pretty rough to get a decent job. You don't have to speak Cantonese to teach someone to speak English. You begin with "Hello. How are you?" and work up from there. It doesn't take much. Just get someone started. All by yourself you could change the life of a whole family.

Undiscovered talent. To act like a good girl Friday for theatre company. You'll have the lead role in the office and at the same time get to know show business backwards and forwards.

Sentry. Hold down the fort at the office while others are doing the footwork to save San Francisco Bay. If you can make order out of chaos, you can fill this chair, and help clean up a few things.

House Manager. To handle the headaches of some young people with emotional problems. Someone with a warm heart and cool head could put some kids who've gone astray back on the track. Maybe change an outlook or two. The more human you are the better you qualify.

Amateur Photographer/Ham. There's an appreciative audience waiting to see your travel slides. These people have missed a lot of the beautiful things because of a few personal problems. How about opening their eyes?

Teacher's Aide. When a handicapped child learns to dance they've seen a dream. Not only because it's harder for them than for other children, but because it helps them express their feelings. The ones that stay bottled up most of the time. Teaching a handicapped child to dance requires more than an instructor. If you can walk you can help these children get from the bus to class, and then they'll dance, and maybe sing too.

Recruiters.

Educational television station needs someone to help gather more member support. Call members who have not renewed, let them know their help is both needed and appreciated. You can do this job at home if you like. Your help will be both needed and appreciated.

Young man. To be an aide at veteran's hospital. Helping to lift patients, man the wheelchairs and gurneys, deliver meal trays, be a friend.

Quitters.

If you've quit smoking cigarettes, you know how much better you feel. If you can type and help out in our office, you can feel even better by helping others quit.

Good Driver. Latin-American artists' guild needs someone to deliver art to exhibition places, return it to studio.

Wanted: Someone who likes to type in a big way. To type reading materials for the visually handicapped. Large-letter typewriter works just like an ordinary typewriter. Except the pages go faster. This agency provides more books for the near-blind than anyone in the nation. The works you help put together will be read by thousands all over America who might otherwise not be able to read.

Volunteer Bail Bondsmen. People needed to interview prisoners. Gather information that will be considered for getting them bail.

Our job is finding the one problem you can do something about. The one person you can help out. You'll get paid in all the things money can't buy.

Arguments Heard In I-J Petition

The opening of a Marin Superior Court hearing growing out of last Saturday's violent demonstration outside the Independent-Journal was devoted yesterday to legal quarreling by the six attorneys in the case.

No testimony was taken. The hearing, before Judge Thomas F. Keating, stems from a petition by the I-J to hold four labor organizations and their officials in contempt for summoning the massive demonstration, during which the newspaper plant was bombarded with rocks, bottles and paint and protesters clashed with police.

The I-J contends the demonstration, called in support of striking San Francisco Typographical Union 21, violated an earlier Keating order against mass picketing, violence and threats to I-J workers, subscribers and advertisers.

Four attorneys--representing the typographers, Newspaper and Periodical Drivers and Helpers Local 921, the Marin County and San Francisco labor councils and six union officials--challenged the petition on grounds that the restraining order enjoined only the typographers, that none of the defendants was formally accused of participating in or encouraging violence, and that legal paper work surrounding the case was deficient.

I-J attorneys countered that, whether parties to the injunction or not, all defendants had legal "notice or knowledge" of the restraining order and that this was sufficient to bind them.

In its petition, the I-J said the officials urged thousands to attend the protest rally and that one of them, Jack Goldberger, president of Local 921, stated violence might occur.

Keating continued the hearing until 10 a.m. Thursday, indicating he might rule on the defense objections before then.

Boise Profits Up

BOISE (BW)—Boise Cascade Corp. has announced 1969 earnings of $84,010,000 — a 37 per cent increase after restating 1968 to reflect subsequent poolings of interests. Net income per common share rose 35 per cent to $2.85, compared with $2.11 for 1968. Net sales were $1,726,000,000, up 13 per cent over last year.

Judge Issues Jail Term In Pot Case

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court yesterday ordered David Roger Harris, 22, former Marinite now living in Sonoma County, to 15 months in jail for convictions of selling heroin and possessing marijuana.

After hearing testimony from a drug agent about Harris's involvement in drug sales, the judge rejected a plea from Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino that the man be sent to state prison.

Instead, Judge Wilson gave him a suspended state prison sentence and placed him on three years probation. He ordered him to spend six months in jail on the marijuana charge and nine months on the heroin sale.

Harris had earlier pleaded guilty to the two counts, and two charges of selling weed in 1967 were dismissed.

Harris was among persons indicted by the Marin County Grand Jury in February 1968, after a countywide drug roundup. He was not arrested for more than a year after the indictment, however, and said he did not know there was a warrant out for his arrest.

While out on bail after he was arrested, he was accused of selling heroin on May 23, 1969.

Six To Compete On Tiburon Ballot

Alvin R. Kuhn, M. Carlisle Becker and R. Gary Gray were the final entries yesterday into the race for three Tiburon City Council seats which will be vacated April 14. All three filed nomination papers shortly before the noon deadline.

They will challenge three other candidates, including Mayor Branwell D. Fanning who filed Wednesday. Two other council incumbents, William R. Bremer and Thomas E. Drohan, have indicated they will not seek reelection.

Kuhn, 44, a San Francisco stockbroker who has lived in Tiburon five years, said he is running because he feels his 19 years of business experience will be valuable on the council.

"I think the current city council has done a very fine job of studying and deciding the issues in Tiburon and I feel we are moving into the implementation phase of many of these decisions," he said. "I feel I have a background in management skills to contribute to this phase of development."

Kuhn, who lives with his wife and three children at 27 Tara Hill Road, is a former division sales and marketing manager with Crown Zellerbach Corp.

He is a member of the Sales and Marketing Executives Club of San Francisco, the Commonwealth Club of California and the Marin Estate Planning Council.

Fanning, a 44-year-old advertising executive, will be seeking his second term on the council. He has been mayor for the past year.

"I thought one of us ought to stay and see the important city projects through, particularly (implementation of) the downtown plan and acquisition of bicycle paths," Fanning said, referring to the loss of Bremer and Drohan.

In addition to those projects, the candidate said he saw the development of Angel Island and residential areas on the fringe of the city, as well as transportation as other crucial issues facing Tiburon in the next four years.

Fanning is tourist marketing director for the Compton Advertising Co. in San Francisco. He is a member of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission, Tiburon Peninsula Club and the Commonwealth Club of California.

He is married with three daughters and lives at 4 Burrell Court.

Becker, 34, of 1828 Centro West, has lived in Tiburon since 1965 and is a partner in the landscape architecture firm of Berridge, Becker and Julin, San Francisco.

He is a member of the Tiburon Peninsula Advisory Committee and the Tiburon-Belvedere Landmark Society.

He said he is a candidate because he would like a part in shaping policies "during the next few years which are going to be very critical years for Tiburon."

Gray, 38, an architect and planning consultant for Lester Gorseline and Associates of San Francisco, said he believes his experience in planning could be beneficial to the community.

Gray, of 1078 Paradise Drive, has lived in Tiburon five years and intends to raise specific issues during the campaign "after I have talked with those who will be affected by the programs I am considering.

Auto Troubles Delay Nader

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Ralph Nader, who has voiced his complaints about car defects in Senate hearing rooms and in a book, was late for an appearance Thursday because of an automobile breakdown.

The 34-year-old consumer crusader was to speak in the afternoon at Bucks County Community College but the car he was to travel in from New York City broke down.

Nader declined comment on the trouble saying he did not wish to embarrass the owner of the car. He said he does not own an auto because he does not want his ownership to be considered an endorsement for a particular model.

Tricia Nixon Ends Long Florida Stay

Shooting Victim Sues Sheriff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Daniel Porter, 18, Albany, filed a $200,000 damage suit Thursday in U.S. District Court against Alameda County Sheriff Frank Madigan charging he was shot "unlawfully" during the People's Park demonstration last May.

Porter's suit claimed he was "maliciously deprived of his constitutional rights" when he was "lawfully upon a public street."

Candidates Swell To 7 For Novato

Three more candidates entered the Novato City Council race yesterday filing their nomination papers just before the noon deadline.

Throwing their hats in the ring were incumbent Babe Silva and Wilfred H. Lieb, both previously announced candidates, and George C. Quesada, an unexpected entrant.

That makes seven candidates for two positions on the council in the April 14 election. The others in the race are: Mayor Harley A. McAskill, Betty Machado, F. Wayne Sartain and Joseph E. Bonomolo.

Quesada, 44, of 1860 Virginia Avenue, said that he did not make up his mind to run until yesterday morning when he took out papers and returned them before the deadline.

He is chairman of the Novato Planning Commission. He is also on the plan review committee, the downtown study committee and the city-county planning counci. He is a member of the Telegraph Hill Dwellers Association and Inverness Improvement Association.

A native of Dayton, Ohio, he took his bachelor's degree from the University of California at Los Angeles and his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley. He is a San Francisco architect and a member of the American Institute of Architects.

He and wife, Ellen, have no children. They have lived in Novato since 1967.

Quesada is a firm believer in planning. He said that it was the real issue of the coming campaign. "We must preserve as we develop and we must develop," he said.

"My actions as an architect and member of the various committees and commission on which I serve is a matter of public record; it properly reflects my philosophy of design and development," he said.

"I think that the downtown study, its impact and implementation compare with the candidates individual philosophy will determine who sits in city hall April 15," he said.

He believes in keeping down taxes, eliminating tax inequitites, proper annexation, better streets, parks, housing, and law and order.

Permit Granted For Air Route

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Pacific Southwest Airlines has been granted a temporary certificate to fly between San Diego and San Jose from Hollywood-Burbank Airport.

The California Public Utilities Commission announced Thursday it had granted the permit after ruling last August that PSA could not "tack on" its San Diego to Hollywood-Burbank flights to its Hollywood-Burbank to San Jose flights.

The previous ruling was issued on a complaint by Air California, which was flying between Hollywood-Burbank and San Jose and Oakland. Air California was later granted permission to abandon the route.

Hair-Trigger Burglar Alarms Bother Ross

Ross's meager four-man police force has chased 18 false burglar alarm calls in the last four months and the town council made plain last night that it doesn't like it.

The council — at Roy Farrington Jones urging — sent the matter to the town's community protection committee for study and indicated it would be willing to consider levying a fine against homeowners whose alarms go off falsely.

"That many false alarms in four months is entirely out of line," said Jones, who noted that more and more homeowners are installing burgular alarms in their homes.

"Have you ever seen the way the police driver to get to the homes?" he asked. "Some day somebody is going to get killed by a policeman on his way to a false alarm."

Jones said that the alarms are frequently tripped by kids, servants or visitors to the homes or the alarms are triggered by faulty wiring. He also urged the council to adopt an ordinance for both fire and burglar alarms which would require that any alarm placed in a Ross home would have to be inspected by the city to see that it is hooked up right.

Jones noted that every false alarm by a fire box costs the city a minimum of $100. He suggested a $25 fine for a person whose burglar alarm goes off accidentally.

Police Chief John F. Harris declined to say in public how many burglar alarms were in the town but said there "were plenty" with many more being hooked up each month.

The committee will consider a comprehensive ordinance which would regulate both burglar and fire alarms in the town and present it at the next council meeting.

The Ross Town Council Also:

VARIANCE — Approved a variance allowing Anthony F. Rose, Madrona Avenue, to add two bedrooms and a bathroom to his home, allowing a 30-foot rear setback while the town's ordinance requires 40 feet.

BURNING BAN — Held second reading and adopted an ordinance amending the town's municipal code on backyard burning so that it coincides with Bay Area Air Pollution Control District's laws.

PARKING — Held first reading of an ordinance which would limit parking on the west side of the post office parking lot to two hours. Approved by 5-0 vote.

TRAILERS — Helf first reading and approved an ordinance which would prohibit occupancy overnight in trailers and other vehicles capable of being lived in on public property. Took no action however on another section of this ordinance which would prohibit even the parking overnight of such vehicles on public streets.

PROBATION — Held first reading of an ordinance changing the probation period for new town employees from six months to one year. Approved by 5-0 vote.

ELECTION — Decided to vote for San Anselmo councilman Kenneth L. Anderson and Corte Madera mayor Edward W. Colthurst on the Council of Mayors and Councilmen's transportation committee.

BUDGET MEETINGS — Set March 12, April 9, May 14 and June 11 as dates for budget discussions for the 1970-71 fiscal budget.

Howard Oser Elected To Head Greenbrae Owners

Howard M. Oser has been elected president for 1970 of the Greenbrae Home Owners Association. Outgoing president Ronald O. Plambeck was named membership chairman, secretary Beth Reilly reported.

Other officers will be named at the first meeting of the newly-elected board of directors, which also includes Robert A. Geurts, John A. Russell, Stewart N. Boxer, Kermit V. Speeg, Col. Robert Nourse, David E. Simonds and Mrs. Reilly.

The membership discussed taking over maintenance of public areas such as street islands, from Schultz Construction Co. as the firm has asked, but left a decision to the board. Plambeck told the members at Wednesday's annual meeting that the most feasible plan would be to form a special services district for maintenance.

Guest speaker was Dale W. Luehring, general manager of the Golden Gate Bridge District, who spoke on commuter and transportation problems.

Injuries Minor In Auto Crash

A 69-year-old San Rafael woman sustained minor injuries yesterday when her car crashed into the side of the U.S. Post Office at 40 Bellam Boulevard, San Rafael police reported today.

According to police the accident occurred after Mrs. Elisabeth M. Rodin of 43 McNear Drive, hit the gas peddle instead of the brake and drove over the sidewalk into the building at 4:22 p.m. Two post office windows were broken in the crash, police said.

Mrs. Rodin told police she would go to Marin General Hospital for treatment but the hospital had no record of the case today.

Hike Sought On Motor Vehicle Fees

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Motor vehicle registration fees should be hiked $1 for one year to research ways to cut automative air pollution, the California State Automobile Association proposed yesterday.

The hike would be effective July 1 under the association's proposal. The research would be carried out by creating an Automotive Air Pollution Research Board.

The increase would raise about $13 million, the association estimated.

The associate association stressed, in a statement to the press, that "this is not to be construed as a request for diverting gasoline tax funds" now reserved by the constitution for highway purposes.

Office Entered

A ransacking thief, who attempted and failed to smash a cash register containing 50 cents, broke into the office of Valley Tow Service, 931 Second Street about 4:50 a.m. today, San Rafael police have reported.

I-J, Union Negotiation Talk Held

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Representatives of the San Rafael Independent-Journal and the striking typographical union met Thursday with federal mediators, but no progress toward settling the sometimes violent six-week-old strike was announced.

It was the first meeting between the parties since the strike was called by Local 21 of the union on Jan. 7.

Commissioner Jack Griffin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service issued a statement saying: "The meeting today was exploratory and resolved no issues. However, it was successful in reopening channels of communications."

The meeting took place in the mediation service's offices in the Federal Building. Griffin said, "The tone of the session was amicable and further meettors upon completion of some necessary research by the parties."

Griffin said the next meeting would not take place for at least two days. He also said both sides had agreed not to comment on the meetings.

County Park Outlay Hike

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission last night recommended approval of a $685,000 capital improvement budget for next year, up $250,000 from this year.

The recommendation will go to the county administrator and to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Included in the 1970-71 capital projects are improvements at Stafford Lake and at McNear's beach, which the county is in the process of buying; the first phase of a proposed tennis and swim center; acquisition of San Geronimo redwoods and a bay front park in Corte Madera tidelands, and funds for other site acquisitions.

In addition to the capital improvements budget, director Pierre W. Joske said he must still compute the salaries, services and supplies portion of the budget. Total cost of salaries is expected to jump because six more men may be needed to staff Stafford Lake when improvements are added, and McNear's Beach, if acquired by the county. The county parks and recreation department has a total force of 21 men, including those who maintain the Civic Center grounds and planter areas.

This year's parks and recreation budget totals $711,000. Next year's is expected to be close to a million dollars.

Frightened Off

A burglar, who tripped a burglar alarm at Marin Motor Sport at 1560 Fourth Street today after midnight, apparently was frightened away before stealing anything, San Rafael police have reported.

Flood Channel Pact Is Signed

Marin Junior College District trustees last night signed an agreement that will permit a concrete flood control channel to cut through the center of the Kentfield campus.

There was a last-minute plea from Marty Kent Jones of Kent Woodlands, who battled against a channel in Tamalpais Creek last spring, to "set an example for Marin."

There was only a sprinkling of students in the audience, the ardor of the fight against the Corps of Engineers Corte Madera Creek Flood Control project apparently spent.

With college approval imminent and inevitable, Mrs. Jones battled to the end.

She told trustees that the stand at Tamalpais Creek was undertaken "to buy time for you people to change your mind."

The college must set an example, Mrs. Jones asserted.

Trustees approved the right-of-way agreement with the corps for the next phase of the project which will extend from College Avenue across the campus to upstream of Laurel Avenue.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, bristling because the college district has been accused of delaying the project, wanted to make sure there weren't any unresolved issues.

Then William L. Hess, assistant county director of public works, challenged some of the wording, and got into a discussion with Dale A. Fleming, college planning director.

Trustee Donald K. Felt said he thought the agreement had been thrashed out, and hammering it out in front of the board "was no way to draft an agreement."

When the group returned, the wording agreed upon, trustees asked again if anything was unresolved. Hess said only the relocation of utilities, and Fleming said work was proceeding on this matter.

Trustees also authorized placing in escrow $24,000 to cover the additional cost of a bridge across the creek, wider than provided for in replacement costs.

The right-of-way agreement included a commitment that the college district would grant an easement to the Ross Valley Sanitary District for a sewer line within the flood control easement.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

GRAND JURY—Took note of grand jury criticism that the college has been a haven for dissidents and that students have been assaulted, heard Supt.-President John A. Grasham that he is gathering material for a reply, and agreed to respond to the jury after Grasham reports.

ADULT EDUCATION—Approved as adult education courses, police supervision, in-service paperhanging, real estate investments and exchanges, commercial graphics and design, life sculpture A-B, dynamics of supervision in public service, and conservation, gardening and farming.

LEAVE—Granted Charles Herndon, financial aids officer, leave for the 1970-71 school year without pay.

INTERDISTRICT AGREEMENT—Approved the interdistrict attendance contract for 1970-71, same as the current agreement, which limits free exchanges with other districts to three students.

POLICY—Rejected a proposed change in policy which would have prevented the board from taking an official position on a social or political issue unless it was related directly "to Comunity College education."

RETIREMENT—Approved a change in the retirement policy which will permit an employee to work part-time after reaching the mandatory retirement age of 65.

CUTBACKS—Heard a report from Joseph Berruezo, assistant dean, vocational-technical education, on the effects of budget cuts on occupational programs at the college this school year.

SURPLUS SALE—Approved selling high bidders surplus equipment as follows, panel truck to Frank E. Short, Fairfax, for $778; Volkswagen van to William R. Smith, San Francisco, $175; and dental chair to Patti Arana, P.O. Box 444, Ross, $51.

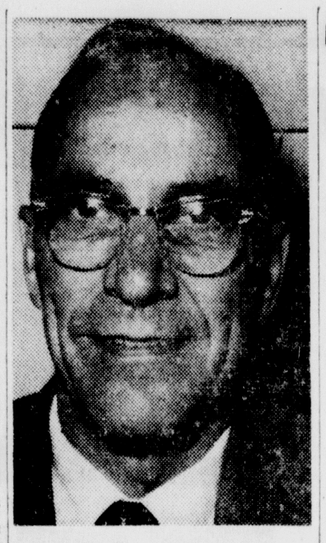
STATE FUNDS—Authorized application for matching state funds for projects during 1971-72 in the district's 10-year building program including $2.1 million for site development at the north campus, $404,000 for a computer, remodeling of the chemistry and business facilities and Olney Hall, equipping Harlan Center and the proposed new library, and remodeling of the art building.

CONFLICTING REQUESTS—Received a request from the Ross Valley Sanitary District to use a three-and-a-half acre area behind the physical education complex near Corte Madera Creek, for a sanitary pumping station, an area also being proposed for an ecological study area. Trustees took no action and indicated they would favor a public hearing be held by the district.

Trustee Charles W. Gray was absent.

No Charge Filed

No charge was filed yesterday in Marin Municipal Court against Keith George Van Bree, 44, of San Rafael, who was arrested Wednesday on suspicion of possessing marijuana and a parole violation.



PAUL (DUTCH) CLYMER
To end long career

Longtime Instructor Will Retire

After two years there, he took a leave of absence to study for a master's degree at Columbia University.

When he returned west in 1935, he joined the staff at the College of Marin to teach math and to help coach football and basketball and serve as head track coach.

Trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy said the college Alumni Association, in a drive to obtain scholarship funds, will name it the Paul Clymer Scholarship Fund.

Farm Students Elect

College Trustees Deadlock On Granting Of Six Sabbaticals

Marin Junior College District trustees, indicating a tightening of the reins on sabbatical leaves, last night deadlocked on granting six leaves for 1970-71.

The sabbatical leave system, funding in light of a financial pinch and the proposed studies to be undertaken on leave were challenged prior to the vote.

Two weeks ago trustees voted 2-2 on the leaves, and last night they voted 3-3, with a third vote expected at their next session.

Voting to grant the leaves were Donald K. Felt, who had criticized the content of the proposed leaves, Robert E. Oliver and Theodore C. Wellman.

Felt said he didn't believe there was any requirement for a junior collge instructor "to have a year's vacation every seven years."

He said he bedieved in the concept of a sabbatical leave as an experience to expand intellectual horizons and undertake further study but the majority didn't suggest programs "that serve the kind of need, kind of purpose, I think they should serve. One looks like a barely disguised vacation. It's very upsetting."

Moore pointed out that during the current school year there have been important cuts in capital outlay, transportation, hiring of teachers and supplies.

"How much more do you cut into these without causing severe difficulties?" he asked. "I want to know before I approve (leaves) where is that money coming from."

Oliver said the administration could make efforts to cut the additional costs by reducing replacements, reducing courses and "using the faculty to the fullest extent."

Mrs. Deedy stressed that there was "extreme urgency financially," and leaves had to be considered in relationship to the total budget.

Felt proposed that a board committee be formed to redefine the purposes of the sabbatical leaves, consider the methods of choosing instructors for leaves and methods of assuring that the district's interests will be served by the leaves.

Trustes voted unanimously to form the committee, and Rogers appointed Mrs. Deedy, Wellman and Felt to it.

Grasham said he might have some budget figures for trustees to consider soon and possibly a meeting could be held Thursday or Feb. 3 to review them and the sabbatical leaves.

Westby Gangs' Rumble Halted

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Police arrested 20 youths and seized molotov cocktails, knives and at least one gun Thursday night when they headed off a fight between two gangs.

Officers said the gangs, one from the Mission District and the other from the Ingleside, massed in a park and were "ready to go when the first patrol car showed up and scattered them."

About 25 policemen chased after the 50 youths who fled.

Jail Sentence For Burglary

Albert Wells, 29, of Sebastopol, was sentenced yesterday to serve 10 consecutive weekends in the Sonoma County Jail for burglary.

Superior Court Judge Kenneth M. Eymann declared the offense a misdemeanor and suspended a two-year prison term. Wells was also placed on probation for two years.

Wells had pleaded guilty to the Dec. 27 burglary of the Home Appliance Co., 5665 Santa Rosa Avenue, Rohnert Park. Wells and two Cotati policemen were injured when Wells collided with a police car in attempting to escape.

Youth Arrested Inside Home

Paul Phillips, 18, of no known address, was booked into Marin County jail today for investigation of burglary, marijuana possession and vagrancy after sheriff's deputies arrested him in a Mill Valley home.

Deputies said Phillips was discovered about 5:20 a.m. by Reg Field in the Field home at 914 Valley View Avenue. Officers said Field held the youth, who appeared to be under the influence of drugs, until help arrived.

No bail has yet been set for Phillips, who was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today.

2,000 Homeless In Brazilian Floods

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — More than 2,000 persons were reported homeless today in the interior of Sao Paulo State in floods that followed intense rainstorms.

Hardest hit was the town of Amparo, 55 miles north of Sao Paulo. The rising Camanducaia River forced hundreds to flee their homes. Flood victims took shelter in private homes, schools,and the municipal market.

The Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep found in Wyoming is the foremost among wild sheep races in the United States.

Monte Carlo Coupe

$3,123* luxury.

You've undoubtedly been invited to examine and drive personal luxury cars before. But we'll bet this is the first time you've been invited to see and drive one priced at $3,123*.

At that price, Monte Carlo is only slightly higher than many models of our Chevelle, America's most popular mid-size car.

Yet Monte Carlo's a car of thickly padded seats that use the flat "S" springs found in fine furniture. Rich cloth or custom-knit nylon fabrics. An instrument panel with the look of Carpathian burled elm. Plush deep-twist carpeting. And extreme quiet, thanks to an unusual amount of sound-absorbing insulation.

Monte Carlo is every bit the luxury car in other respects, too. For instance, you get a 350-cubic-inch V8, along with power disc brakes operating behind full wheel covers —all standard.

And if you think this car and its price make impressive reading, just wait until you try out the real thing at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Putting you first, keeps us first. CHEVROLET

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for Monte Carlo, including Federal excise tax and suggested dealer new-car preparation charge. Destination charges, state and local taxes and optional equipment additional.

TURNPIKE BALANCING ACT

Somehow, driver Barbara A. Thoren of Guilford, Conn., managed to balance her car atop the center strip guardrail on the Connecticut Turnpike at East Lyme, yesterday. Although all four wheels of her chariot spun free in the air, she was not injured. (AP Wirephoto)

Clarification Asked On Employee Status

Too many county employees are in the "managerial" category and thus ineligible for membership in bargaining units, the manager of the Marin County Employees Association charged yesterday before the Marin County Personnel Commission.

Randall M. Prevo asked for a stricter definition of "managerial employees" so that only the department head and his top assistant would be managerial, and all others would be free to join employee bargaining units.

He also suggested that the smallest bargaining be not less than 5 per cent of the total employees, or about 60 persons, and that the county and the bargaining unit be required to submit to compulsorey arbitration instead of voluntary arbitration in case of unresolved disputes.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney argued against Prevo's proposals. He said managerial employees must include confidential secretaries and other employees who have a confidential relationship with the county board of supervisors.

For example, said Maloney, some of his deputies and deputies in the county administrator's office are on the county negotiating team that bargains with employee groups and unions. If they were members of employee groups, "then they would in effect be negotiating for their own salaries."

Prevo replied that he agrees with Maloney on confidential secretaries, but too many others are barred from the county employees association. "The 150 people we cannot represent have been disenfranchised. That's unfair and we are most dissatisfied with the present definition," declared Prevo.

Maloney said the county has negotiated for two years, and no impasse has been reached. "I don't think the need has been justified."

The Personnel Commission, headed by Chairman Bella Aaron, set the next meeting for 3 p.m. March 13 at the Civic Center to discuss the issues raised by Prevo.

Other questions raised yesterday and continued for discussion next month include these:

EXTRA-HIRE — The need to cut down on the use of extra-hire personnel on a long term basis, so that such employees will not be denied permanent status.

EVALUATION — How to set up a procedure whereby department heads and supervisors will make periodic evaluations of employee performance, and whether employees may appeal such evaluations.

RESIDENCE — Can the Treasurer-Tax Collector require employees to live in Marin County? Prevo asked for the county counsel's opinion on this.

Acquittal In Burglary Trial

A 42-year-old Vallejo man was acquitted yesterday by a Marin Superior Court jury after his second trial on a charge of burglarizing a Sausalito residence Nov. 19.

Released was Emmett Maiden. A jury which convicted a co-defendant, Michael Gerald Abrams, 30, of San Francisco, on Jan. 19, was unable to reach a decision on whether Maiden was guilty.

The men were arrested as they sat in a car across the street from a residence at 182 Bulkley Avenue, which had been burglarized.

Bombing Case Reward Swells

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A reward fund topped $25,000 today as city and law enforcement officials sought to halt bombing attacks on Bay Area police.

Police drafted plans to fence and floodlight precinct stations in the wake of two bombings — one fatal— and the discovery of a booby trap wired to a policeman's car in nearby Vallejo.

City flags flew at half staff as services were planned today for Sgt. Brian V. McDonnell, 45, who died Wednesday.

McDonnell and seven other officers were injured Monday night when a time bomb made of galvanized pipe, bullets and steel fence staples exploded in the Park Station, near the Haight-Ashbury District. One officer remains hospitalized.

IF YOU happened to peek into that interesting-looking little shop in downtown Larkspur called House of Hoops you might see a bride trying on the dress the shop's proprietor has made especially for her. Here, a bride of last month, Mrs. Lee Lyon (Jari Fowler) is modeling the outfit Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung made of off white velvet for the skirt and chiffon and lace for the blouse. Miss Simone. left in the mirror, is wearing a special occasion outfit she made for herself. Third from the right in the mirror is Mrs. John Given (Rhonda Esplin) who is modeling a pink bridesmaid dress. Seated in the center is Jari's sister, Gail, wearing the outfit she wore as Jari's bridesmaid, also made by Miss Simone. And standing, center right, is Betty Eitzen wearing a bright bridesmaid dress.

PULLING CHIFFON off a roll in the cutting room of her shop is Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, whose only rule about making the bridal gown she also designs is that the future bridegroom doesn't see it until the wedding day.

Bridal Gowns Her Design Specialty

There's a shop in downtown Larkspur called House of Hoops that gets most of its business from people who come in because they can't figure out what the name means.

In the windows they see a display of antique looking handmade blouses, skirts and a pair of white lacy pantaloons draped over tapestry-covered Queen Anne chairs.

Actually, the young woman who runs the shop, Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, may be inside putting together a one-of-a-kind wedding dress that she and a prospective bride designed. Or, she may be fitting one of the bridesmaids, or maybe making a cocktail dress for someone's special occasion.

The shop's name comes from the time over a year ago when Miss Simone, the name she uses, decided to open up shop as a wholesale petticoat maker. After signing the lease she learned the store front could only be used for a retail business so she put some of the petticoats in the window to sell.

The demand for bridal petticoats in downtown Larkspur wasn't too great, but she gradually started making gowns.

BRIDES NEEDN'T always wear white Miss Simone says. "A girl should wear whatever is becoming to to her." "In fact, a girl recently came to her to finish a navy crushed velvet wedding dress she had started for herself.

Prospective brides who see the shop or hear about it from a friend come because they want something totally different from any other bride and because "bridesmaids don't want to look like bridesmaids," she said.

"I think when a bride comes in she is thinking of how she will look coming down the aisle," Elizabeth says. "The girls usually come in with an idea and walk out with just the opposite."

Born in Hungary, she escaped in 1956 and came to San Francisco under the sponsorship of the Red Cross. She chose San Francisco because "it sounds so romantic," but mostly because "I wanted to be as far away from the Iron Curtain as I could." She left her mother, two sisters and three brothers and

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Bitterness She Held Back For 10 Years Has To Be Released

DEAR HELEN,

I've held this back for 10 years. Maybe my letter will let off enough steam so that I can follow my husband's advice and say nothing, just quietly build our lives away from his mother and never tell her why. But oh, I want so badly to pour out the bitterness that's in me. Please help.

Mort and I had to get married 10 years ago, which made me a prostitute in his mother's eyes. We dearly loved each other then, and our love has grown.

In our second year of marriage, we made lots of mistakes. I got pregnant with the second baby, Mort lost his job. He'd already invested all our spare money($500) on college tuition and couldn't get it back. So he took a night job, and I got baby-sitting work. We cleared about $170 a month, and our rent took more than half of it. Mort wore a spring coat for below-zero weather; our daughter and I ate starches so he could get some protein to keep him going.

Our baby was born brain-damaged. In one week we had a $500 hospital bill. That meant weekly calls from the collection department and borrowing here to pay there until we went frantic.

Two months later the baby's seizures began. Between college and his job, Mort was working 16 hours a day. I had a 15-months-old daughter and a "dying" baby. For want of funds, I took him to the charity clinic. The degradation was horrible. They told me nothing. I'd walk the floor at night, not knowing which seizure would kill little Jerry. He lived.

My mother-in-law knew all this, yet she never offered to help. Mort, in desperation, finally asked her for his inheritance from his dad but she insisted it remain in stocks. We were so scared. I remember once telling her we were down to our last egg. It was the first and last time I ever mentioned our problems. She immediately remembered an appointment at the beauty parlor. I used that egg for a cake, as a morale builder.

Then I got pregnant again.

Through it all, our love held firm, but I developed a bitterness toward Mort's mother that is hard to hide, especially when she handed out $10,000 to his other brother as a down payment on a house. I've been nice to her, have ignored her barbs and try to overlook it when she obviously is repelled by Jerry's "fits," as she calls them.

Mort received his degree and has a fine job. We're out of the woods and will soon be transferred to another state. He says, "It's over. We survived. Don't make it worse with an open break." I feel she must hate her son, and why should he protect her? She hates him because of me, though all these years I've tried my level best to be a good and undemanding daughter-in-law. Now I want to tell her just what I really think.

Or do I? Now that I've written all this down, got it all out for the first time, maybe I feel as Mort does: We're strong people. She's the miserable one because she's selfish and vindictive. She's also lonely. Why should we bring ourselves to her level?

Thank you for hearing me out. You don't need to answer this. I guess I've answered my own problem — WISER

DEAR W.:

Your letter demands printing. It should be read by everyone with devastating problems, for it shows so plainly that just getting them down on paper is the first step, sometimes the only step needed, in solving them.

I'm glad you came to the right conclusion. Your mother-in-law knows, without being told, how wrong she is. Leave her—in peace.—H.

A BRIDE on St. Valentine's Day, Rhonda Esplin, now Mrs. John Given, left, looks at some of the veils made by Mrs. Elizabeth Simone de Jung, who also altered Rhonda's gown and made a special bridal slip and garter. Longer veils which flatter most brides are still in demand, Miss Simone said.

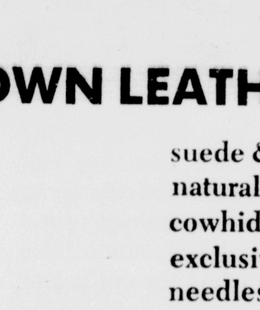
has returned twice in unsuccessful attempts to get them out. Her mother, who had no trouble leaving the country because she is over 65, came for a seven month visit last year and taught Elizabeth some Hungarian folk art stitches she has used in several ruffled skirts, such as the ones for the wedding of Jari Fowler and Lee Lyon on Jan. 31 in San Anselmo.

ELIZABETH AND her 17 year old son, Gosep, have lived in Larkspur for 10 years and she thinks the Bay Area is "the best place to live in the whole world."

As a young girl in Hungary, Elizabeth was on a swimming and diving team that practiced every day at dawn and in the evening. She competed nationally and almost made an Olympic team. "I was just skin and bone because there wasn't enough to eat," she recalled of her life on the farm where the products her family produced were taken away by the state and distributed.

Having no skill when she came to the Bay Area, Miss Simone started working for a sportswear manufacturer, sewing in the shops along with other immigrants. Later she worked for a bridal slip manufacturer, started designing them and then bought the business.

Her background, she says, "is all what I am today. I wish I had time to learn more from some of the places I was." The best way to learn dress designing, she says, is from the bottom. "You can't learn how to design by sitting down and scratching."



She is teaching Marika Miller, a College of Marin student who escaped from Hungary with her brother two years ago, dressmaking and she says that Marika has already done some designing.

A SPECIALTY is naturally the petticoat Miss Simone makes to go with the gown. She said that brides don't realize how much they pick up their skirt when walking around and dancing at the reception. She likes to make pantaloons because "it's much more fun" for the bride to wear them. Her only strict rule about making the dress is that the bridegroom doesn't see it before the wedding. She will even keep it hidden from the bridesmaids if requested.

Not all of the bridal gowns Miss Simone makes are completely original. She recently remade a 30-year-old wedding dress that the bride's mother had worn. And she often remakes gowns that brides order from manufacturers.

About the only thing Miss Simone has time to make for herself is an occasional party dress for a special event such as the dark green velvet gown with gold braid trim she is finishing to wear to the Hungarian ball this month in San Francisco.

William T. Ortman who came to San Rafael at the turn of the century as a boy, has written another of his recollections of those early days in Marin County for tomorrow's Independent-Journal Marin Magazine. This time he tells the story of a San Francisco disaster — the sinking of the SS City of Rio de Janeiro. It was a Washington's Birthday tragedy of 1902. And Ortman has personal recollections of the vent.

Sterling Sherwin is probably this country's most prolific writer of cowboy songs. He also pours forth a steady flow of verse, although he rejects the title of poet. And rhyme and song are only two of the gifts of this multi-talented Marinite. For tomorrow's I-J weekend supplement, editor Don Keown has written a special feature about Sherwin — whom you might know as John Milton Hagen of Mill Valley.

Christine is the sister of Wayne T. Arnsbarger of Fort Ord and Pamela J. Arnsbarger of San Rafael. She was graduated from Terra Linda High School and attends College of Marin. Mrs. Anna M. Nielson of San Rafael and Mrs. Coy Arnsbarger of Redwood City are her grandmothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Jones of San Diego are the future bridegroom's parents, and he is the brother of Mrs. James Fee and Douglas M. Jones of San Diego; Rodney L. Jones, who attends the U. S. Air Force Academy; and Richard E. Jones of Berkeley. He was graduated from Terra Linda High School, attended Riverside City College and is a student at College of Marin. Mark is employed at Holiday Inn in San Rafael.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

Fat Content

When buying ground beef, choose the type right in fat content for the dish you are making. There are four varieties in many stores —ground beef, up to 30 per cent fat; ground chuck, 10-20 per cent fat; ground round, about 10 per cent fat, and ground sirloin, less than 10 per cent.

Quick Facial

Don't say you don't have time for a facial. While running your bath water, slap some kind of cream on your face. Then take a hot washcloth (wrung out) and hold it over your face for a few minutes. It's the quickest way to get a good face cleaning and it relaxes you at the same time.

Old McCarthy Senate Foe Dies

SPRINGFIELD, Vt. (AP) — Ralph E. Flanders, a former U.S. senator and one of the first Republicans to denounce the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, died Thursday at Springfield Hospital. He was 89.

Flanders entered the Senate in 1946. At that time, he was chairman of Jones & Lamson Machine Co. of Springfield, a firm he started in as an apprentice machinist. He also was a former president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

In a Senate speech, he said McCarthy, who in the early 1950s became a controversial figure charging Communist inflation of government positions, belonged to "a one-man party whose name is McCarthyism, a title he has proudly accepted."

Eurasia Bridge Project Begins

ISTANBUL (AP) — Work was started today on the Eurasia Bridge, the first span across the Bosporous, as Turkish warships fired salvos and flag-decked ferries and liners sounded whistles.

The bridge, more than a mile long, will connect the European and Asian continents. It is being built by a British-German syndicate at a cost of $33 million and is to be completed in 1973.

It will be the world's fourth longest bridge, Turkish officials said.

TV REVIEW

Skelton Is Hired By NBC

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — CBS dropped Red Skelton from next season's schedule at least partly because its research departmnet statistics indicated that 42 per cent of his 32-million viewers were 50 years old and over; 34 per cent were between 18 and 49, and the rest 17 and under.

NBC immediately hired Skelton because its statistics showed he ranked 29th in its list of "demographic appeal to audiences in the 18 to 49 age group" and was No. 8 in the popularity list.

These confusing viewpoints indicate how complicated television's numbers game is becoming as audience research gets more sophisticated. And television has become more youth conscious since advertising agencies began hunting for entertainment programs with appeal to young, growing families —the big consumers.

CBS and NBC released their fall schedules within minutes of each other Thursday, and except for the switch of networks by Skelton, they contained few real surprises.

CBS will drop five shows, including Jackie Gleason's hour and "Petticoat Junction," and add six. NBC will drop five, including "My World and Welcome to It," and add five.

NBC, as anticipated, decided to end "I Dream of Jeannie," "The Debbie Reynolds Show" and "Daniel Boone."

Apollo Station To Check Eclipse

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—The silvery glow of the full moon will fade sharply, disappear and then return in the predawn hours Saturday. (9:22 p.m. today to 3:25 a.m. tomorrow, PST.)

This lunar eclipse will be unlike any other in history. For the first time, thanks to a group of five scientific instruments set up on the moon's surface by the Apollo 12 astronauts, mann will be able to astornauts, man will be able to "see" and measure the jolting "shock" the eclipse causes.

Scientists plan an all-night vigil in Houston's Mission Control Center, starting late this evening, to watch jiggling needles record on moving charts the events taking place a quarter-million miles away on the lunar surface. They think they know what will happen.

Gunmen Snatch $200,000 Gems

NEWPORT BEACH (UPI)—Gems worth $200,000 were taken from three showcases at a Fashion Island jewelry store Thursday be two well-dressed holdup men.

The men entered the store pretending to be customers and then drew pistols when everyone had left. The bandits tied up store manager Douglas Marsh and hustled him into a backroom where they took his keys.

The men fled with the gems in paper sacks.

$900,000 Suit Filed Against Rolling Stones

OAKLAND (UPI)—Fourteen landowners in the area of the Altamont Raceway have filed a $900,000 damare suit against Britain's Rolling Stones rock group and the promoters of their concert at the track last Dec. 6.

The festival, which drew 300,000 persons, resulted in one slaying and three accidental deaths.

In the suit filed Thursday, the plaintiffs charged that the massive crowd trespassed and destroyed their "property, improvements and fixtures," and "also destroyed and rendered certain portions of their property unfit for dwelling and farming." This is the second suit arising from the rock festival.

ART REVIEW

Ruth Asawa Show Has Airy Form

BY LAURA DEVENDORF

Common metal wire under Ruth Asawa's facile touch becomes an airy fantasy of form. It may allude to thorny winter-emptied shrubbery, deep sea vegetation, nets, an Oriental headdress or lantern, or tightened solid versions of these fragile structures.

Examples of all these sculptural ideas are found in Miss Asawa's shows in both Domenican College's library and San Marco Gallery, weekdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. through March 13.

SPIKEY SCULPTURES

Like refugees from some leaf-stripped winter landscape, the artist's spikey sculptures have all the bleak delicacy of their natural counterparts. Beginning with thickened branches of tied wire strands, they spread and burst into brittle twigs of freed wire ends, some with crystal beads shimmering on their tips which add to their chill fragility.

Wire can also seem soft when crocheted into rounded, see-through hanging forms some of which are open and flared like variations on a dancer's tutu while others are self-contained shapes within other shapes within columns or rounded walls.

Even heavier versions sustain Miss Asawa's gift for lightness, especially a tree of tied wires, buds and blossoms, its wood base burned in swirls of shadow, or the several spiney deep sea growths in electroplated wire and cast bronze.

MAJOR PIECES

These are the major pieces but by no means all of the show. Miss Asawa was the sculptress on the Ghiradelli Square mermaid fountain and although this isn't a very exciting work it is interesting to see samples of the molds and forms from which it was cast.

Miss Asawa has also included work by children whom she teaches and this is not the quaint addendum that it sounds. These are thoroughly imaginative and charming plaques of baker's clay which range from a fanciful version of Noah's ark to an amusing school portrait of the students in front of Alvarado Elementary School. All, are a solid compliment to the spirit of this artist who shows a final facet of her artistic range in a group of soft, floral watercolors. These paintings are gentle, understated and like most of the work Miss Asawa does, right on the essence of the thing.

School Bonds Foes Criticized

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Taxpayers who withold approval of educational bonds as a reaction to campus disorders are actually playing into the hands of revolutionaries, Dr. Norman Topping, president of University of Southern California said Thursday.

"These same people will also advocate a harsh hand in dealing not only with student violence, but with legitimate student efforts to achieve a balance of power with administration and faculty," Topping said.

Topping said the avowed purpose of radical groups is "to alienate the sources of support for higher education," and he warned the general public not to overreact to campus disorder.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and from Parents' Magazine, unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"COMPUTER WORE TENNIS SHOES" — Zany comedy about a none-too-bright student who by misconnecting wires in a computer is shocked into becoming a whiz kit. Amusing and attractively done.

"FUNNY GIRL" — Partly fictionalized biography details Fanny Brice's rise to fame. Big musical is lavishly mounted.

"ITALIAN JOB" — A wildly satirical comedy about a gang of thieves who hijack a shipment of gold with an assist from a computer. Imaginative nonsense.

"IT'S TOUGH TO BE A BIRD" — Beautiful, informative, highly amusing featurette combines live action, photo-animation and cartoon to show that man is so busy killing birds that many species are on the brink of extinction.

"OLIVER!"—A musical spectacular with superb settings and acting. Vividness of some of the violence of story may be frightening to very young children.

"2001: SPACE ODYSSEY" A long epic space adventure that is a fantastic and overwhelming experience. The ending is subject to any interpretation the viewer may put on it.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID" — True story of two bandits told in farcical tone but documentary in presentation. Film does not deny the violence attendant on their lives and deaths.

"DOWN HILL RACER" — A brilliant study of the development of a ski champion. Action sequences are complimented by an equally absorbing story about the dynamics of sports competition.

"JENNY" — Jenny, pregnant and unwed needs a husband and Delano has 30 days to find an exemption. They enter into a marriage of convenience, the complications are that he has a steady girl friend and he also smokes marijuana. Story presented in an honest, quiet manner. Well acted. (Boxoffice Magazine)

"SECRET OF SANTA VICTORIA" — Anthony Quinn is perfectly cast as the drunken mayor of an Italian village, whose major problem is to keep a million bottles of wine out of Nazis' greedy hands. Filmed in a hill town, weather-beaten villagers add authenticity in the earthy battle of wits and wills. Dialogue risque, pace drags in spots, bedroom scenes relatively well handled.

"STERILE CUCKOO" — Tale of a first love told with insight that is a tribute to director Alan Pakula. Liza Minnelli gives an outstanding performance as a lonely mixed up kooky girl. Her affair with her boyfriend becomes her grasp on life, but since he does not love her, must make a painful decision.

"TOPAZ" — Title is code name for a Russian spy ring operating within the French government. Events are historically true. Hitchcock's craftsmanship is superb as usual, acting is perfect. A valid point about the futility of violence is made.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"PRIME OF MISS JEAN BRODIE" — Superb drama about unethical and uninhibited conduct of a teacher in a private school for girls. She lives vicariously and indoctrinates her students with her political philosophy. Film needs thoughtful adult evaluation to uncover the sham of its sick characters.

"WILD REBELS" — Ruthless motorcycle hoodlums hold up banks just for kicks. Usual sadistic violence.

ADULTS ONLY

"ANGEL, ANGEL DOWN WE GO" — The experiences of an emotionally disturbed 18-year-old girl are played against the background of decadence in the society of her amoral parents. Her attempt to escape by joining a pack of rock singers gives her a taste of free sex and dope. Nihilestic humor is often as tasteless as the nudity and obscenities.

"DEVIL'S EIGHT" — Crime, sex, sadistic brutality and gutter dialogue are combined to make this mediocre production about a Federal Agent who trains a group of convicts to break up a ring of bootleggers.

"EASY RIDER" — Far-out cross-country trip of two hippy motorcyclists creates a vision of America that is by turn beautiful and horrifying. Poetically photographed but has overlong LSD sequence.

"MIDNIGHT COWBOY" — Off-beat hardhitting story of a male prostitute and a crippled hustler who meet in New York. Sordidness is tempered by skill and compassion, told in an uncompromising way.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Paradise Shopping Center Due To Be Site Of Fondue Venture

A new restaurant planned to open about March 1 is the Fondue Pot, to be located at 5615 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera.

The site is where the Anderson and Co. music store used to be, in the Paradise Shopping Center. Don Fandre and York Fischer of Sausalito, who now operate French Quiche, doing their baking and delivering from Alfie's in Tiburon, long have been looking for a restaurant location of their own and have found it here.

They are remodeling and bringing in new kitchen equipment and will redecorate in an old European style, with a large fireplace. Both lunches and dinners will be served seven days a week, with hours from 10 a.m. until the bars close.

Food specialties will include fondues (cheese, beef and seafood), beef tartare, quiche, "Pizza Europa," assorted breads, cheeses and salads and they have applied for a wine and beer license. The preparing of the quiche products (which they supply to restaurants and stores) will also be transferred here from Alfie's.

THERE HAS BEEN a sale of Gary's at 928 Grant Avenue, Novato by Gary and Vivian Wowker to Charles E. Andersen, who is presently in the Air Force. Doris Stack is new manager.

For the time being the name Gary's will be retained, along with the same hours and food operation. When the wine and beer license is transferred, the new name will be The Silver Slipper.

THERE IS ALSO a new name scheduled for Gordy's Chat and Chew at 879 Fourth Street, San Rafael. This will be known as Barbara's.

New owner Barbara Casey, who bought from Gordon and Gladys Dresser, probably will make few other changes and the same hours from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays will be retained. She has handled a similar food operation for about six years at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Gordy has sold out for health reasons.

AT THE SUGGESTION of one of our readers and in view of many requests received, we are making available a limited number of extra copies of our recent Dining and Wining Guide for those who would like to have them sent to friends.

Send names and addresses of persons to whom you would like to have copies mailed, along with 30 cents for each name (which includes the cost of mailing), direct to the I-J Circulation Department.

AS A RESULT of one of his recent trips to Portugal, Kirby Atterbury of the Caprice in Tiburon has gone all-out in his wine recommendations and acquisitions for Porto (designated as the authentic wines of the Duoro River Valley, as distinguished from plain Port).

He has selected a number of vintages from 1955 to 1966 and in so doing has added his name to the labels. Form information on the wines of Portugal, some of which may be entirely new to you, ask for Kirby's brochures on Vinhos do Porto.

RUBINI'S IN FAIRFAX plans on closing for dinners this Sunday - Washington's Birthday - to make a full three-day holiday for the staff. It will open again Wednesday evening, Feb. 25, and with the new dining room addition there's lots of extra room for overflow corwds.

NOTES ON MY VISIT to the Ancient Mariner, which opened last week at Strawberry Town and Country Village:

Excellent beef (I had the teriyaki steak). A good bleu cheese salad dressing and also a fine Japanese rice wine vinegar. Use either one alone or both together. Fast table service.

Decor here has been vastly improved at considerable expense. New table tops are solid oak and about two inches thick. Back bar and some other wall areas are finished attractively in cork. Layout and seating arrangement have been completely changed, softening the former almost stark appearance of the dining room.

IT SEEMED TO ME that last week's anniversary party at Lin Fa Gardens in Northgate was better attended than ever. Dining room tables were well filled by dinner patrons viewing the Polynesian entertainment. Crowded, too, was the Mai Tai Room where Gary Schneider and his performers were at the organ bar. But then, Gary's microphone antics are always in demand.

UNITED AIR LINES top chef John Wolfsheimer will demonstrate the art of cooking for large groups Monday at the annual Sonoma County Commercial Gas Cooking Workshop. This show will be held from 2 to 9 p.m. and Wolfsheimer's demonstrations will be at 2:30 and again at 7:30 p.m.

The affair is sponsored by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Frozen Fresh Foods, Tiny's Food Products and Marco Supply Co. And it will be held at Marco's at 1110 Petaluma Hill Road.

A Sonoma County restauranteur will be honored as the outstanding food service operator for 1970. The six finalists are the Hilltopper, Mark West Springs Lodge and the Highland House, all of Santa Rosa; Chesney's Carriage House in Rohnert Park; Petaluma Inn, Petaluma; and the Rex in Geyserville.

BAD ERROR — MY FAULT: If you went looking for Warren Lubitch and Doug Karr doing a piano and banjo duet at Pinky's Pizza after last week's column, you obviously didn't find them there. Which isn't strange, since they have been up the highway at Shakey's Pizza all the time—and still are (on Friday and Saturday nights). Sorry about that.

The position of the salt at the tables was something of a status symbol in those days, according to wine and food writer Philip Harding, for this commodity was hard to get and about the most important grocery item around. Salt shared with incense and wine the status of being a prime economic and religious requirement.

Cakes of salt have even been used for money. And in some cultures salt was employed to seal a bargain. The Arabs had a phrase for it: "There is salt between us."

Because it was at such a premium, the ancient custom was to place one salt cellar on the table to take care of everybody, no matter if the table was 25 feet long. Naturally the top dog and his cronies had it a little closer to their end of the board, says Harding.

"Below the salt" was no place for a social climber. But then you weren't as likely to have ulcers.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER J. WIKEL

Uncle Sam Allows Numerous Deductions For Medical Costs

Medical expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You can deduct any sums that you spent for ". . . the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance), or for transportation primarily for and essential to medical care. . . ."

Your costs for drugs and medicines count to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

You can deduct one-half of the premiums you paid for medical care and hospitalization insurance, but not more than $150.

This applies only to prepaid medical care insurance such as Blue Cross, Blue Shield, etc., and not to ordinary accident and health insurance where you collect a flat daily, weekly or monthly benefit.

The balance of your medical care insurance is added to your other medical expenses and is subject to the 3 per cent limitation.

IF A PRESCRIPTION

Almost anything is deductible as a medical expense if your doctor prescribed it.

The Pill if prescribed by a doctor and is necessary for the preservation of the wife's health.

Guide dogs and their upkeep.

Monthly Life Care fee paid to a retirement home, that part for medical care if it can be proven how much that part is.

Autoette or wheelchair, where used for the alleviation of sickness or disability and not for commuting to work.

CLARINET LESSONS

Clarinet lessons, prescribed for a tooth defect. It is also possible to get two deductions for one expenditure via the medical expense deduction.

Suppose you are laid up for a long time and you purchase a motorized hospital bed, a wheel chair, etc., and they cost $500.

You deduct the cost as a medical expense.

Then you recover.

Give them to a charity and deduct the fair market value as a contribution. Be sure to see IRS Publication 561, Value of Donated Property.

CHECK THE RULES

In any of these areas be sure to carefully check the rules to be sure they apply to your situation before you take the deduction.

Costs of travel, transportation, rental of special sickroom equipment, etc., as well as doctor bills, nurses, hospital costs and other expenses directly connected with your illness or accident are deductible.

Deductible medical expenses can be for yourself or any of your dependents.

A dependent must have been your dependent either at the time the costs were incurred or at the time they were paid. You can deduct medical costs you paid for a dependent even though you may not be able to claim the dependent as a tax exemption. For instance: you help support your mother who worked part time and made over $600. Because she made over $600 you cannot claim her as a dependent. However, if you furnished over one-half of her support, you can still deduct the medical costs you paid for her.

TRAVEL COSTS

Under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct 5 cents a mile for the use of your car for transportation to secure medical care, plus parking, bridge tolls, etc.

It does not matter when these costs were incurred. They are deductible in the year paid. You cannot deduct costs that you owe. They must be paid to get the deduction.

If part of your medical costs were reimbursed, that is, if your insurance company paid a part of them, then you can deduct only the part you actually paid and that was not reimbursed to you.

California rules are now the same as the federal.

Blaze Flares In School Facility

SAN BRUNO (UPI)—Seven fire-fighting units brought under control today a blaze that swept through the industrial material center at North Brea Elementary School.

Five San Bruno units, one from South San Francisco, and one Millbrae unit answered the call at 6:57 a. m.

Enduring Hiker

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Chuck Betcher, 23, a Colorado College student from Aspen, is only the fourth person on record to hike along the Continental Divide in Colorado from the Wyoming to the New Mexico boundary.

Some species of bamboo, a giant perennial grass, bloom only once every 120 years. In many parts of Asia farmers believe that the flowering of bamboo heralds a famine.

Arraignment In Marijauna Case

John Pope, 30, of San Francisco, has been arraingned in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of possessing marijuana and a pipe for smoking it when arrested Sunday night on the Nicasio-Point Reyes Road.

A companion, arrested with him, Lorene Rufina Kaatz, 25, also of San Francisco was not charged Wednesday.

Katz was told to return to court next Thursday to enter a plea to the charges.

Sheriff's deputies said they stopped Pope's car because it had no license plate and he was speeding. They said they saw a plastic bag of hashish between the driver's seat and the door and then found a brass pipe under the seat.

Richardson Bridge Widening Is Backed

I-JSpecial Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Installation of 84 concrete piles in Richardson Bay to widen the Richardson Bay Bridge to eight lanes yesterday won unanimous approval from the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

But approval came only after more than an hour of debate among commissioners about providing a bicycle and pedestrian walkway along with one of the two new traffic lanes.

In the end, the state Division of Highways agreed to incorporate in its application three conditions. The first was to negotiate during the next 12 weeks with public and private bodies about financing the cost of such a walkway, the second was to renew the BCDC permit if no contract has been let for construction within 12 months, and the third was to design the new lanes so a walkway could be added later.

The division estimated that the proposed five-foot-wide walkway would cost $40,000 if part of the widening project, but noted state law barred use of gas taxes for such a walkway.

San Francisco Supervisor Robert Mendelsohn led an unsuccessful move to condition approval on inclusion of the walkway in the widening project, but lost a hand vote, 9-13.

His move was opposed by Marin Supervisor Michael Wornum, who said the widening project was "absolutely vital. The last thing we want is holding them (the state) up on it."

The $40,000 would be better spent getting a bicycle path around Richardson Bay, Wornum suggested. "We can do more with kindness than with threat," he added.

Without tight conditions on the approval, Mendelsohn insisted, the state "will just go ahead" and forget the walkway.

Alameda County Supervisor Emanuel P. Razeto termed Mendelsohn's proposed condition a "petty obstacle," saying "We should not lose ourselves in the wilderness of paths."

Tiburon Mayor Branwell Fanning sided with Mendelsohn, arguing the issue was whether the BCDC had control over state projects using the bay.

Jerry O'Shea, assistant engineer for the division's District 4 office in San Francisco, said work on the $3 million project was expected to begin next November.

Mendelsohn urged proponents of the walkway "to climb on O'Shea's back for the next 12 weeks," or risk losing the chance of having it built in the foreseeable future.

Col. Charles R. Roberts, San Francisco District engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers, noted in closing that a walkway also would need a permit from his office.

Prince Charles May Join Navy

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, 21-year-old heir to the British throne, has decided to do a hitch in the Royal Navy.

Buckingham Palace announced Thursday he will serve four months with the Royal Air Force after graduating from Cambridge University in June and will enter Dartmouth Naval College in September 1971.

"He will go into the Navy under the graduate entry scheme for a period of three to five years," the announcement said. "Then he will decide whether he wants to serve for a further period.

Charles' father, Prince Philip, grandfather, King George VI, and great grandfather, King George V, were all Royal Navy men.

Not An Oil Slick But Detergent

Was it really an oil slick" reported floating in the bay yesterday by a San Rafael-Richmond Bridge attendant? No, it was detergent, the Coast Guard reported yesterday.

Source of the bubble slick is still unknown, the Coast Guard said, but it is under investigation. The foamy substance had disappeared by the time a cutter reached the area, one mile north of the bridge, it added.

Smothers Brothers Show Attacked By Police Chief

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police Chief Edward M. Davis has scored the Smothers Brothers television special aired Monday night, calling it "putrid entertainment" because of its "prodope, anti-police theme."

Davis released the text of a letter of protest Thursday he wrote to Julian Goodman, president of the National Broadcasting Company which carried the show.

"When American television encourages young people to violate felony statutes," Davis said, "I think you make yourselves highly vulnerable to stringent government regulation."

The chief said he especially objected to a scene showing men in police uniforms as a choir.

"They were in full police-type uniforms, with sidearms, badges and cap pieces. It was a very realistic costuming effect; members of my family believed them to be policemen.

"Part of the dialogue had the leader of the choir stating he had attended the Woodstock Festival and that he smelled something wonderful in the air, and that he hoped whatever it was it would continue to keep growing.

"He was obviously talking about the growing and the use of marijuana."

Winter Sports Litter Warning

NEW YORK (AP) — Ice fishermen and snowmobilers have been urged to pack along a litterbag with their other equipment.

Allen H. Seed Jr., executive vice president of Keep America Beautiful, Inc., reminded winter sports enthusiasts that any litter they drop carelessly can cause real problems when the snows melt away.

"Snowmobiles have carried trash into wilderness areas that were thought to be practically unreachable, while the leftovers of ice fishermen can become a hazard to summer bathers," he said.

"A litterbag takes up very little room," he concluded, "but will help make outdoor activities far more enjoyable and safe the year around."

No one is standing still as a sixth grade class at Laurel Dell Intermediate School, San Rafael, works feverishly to complete an art project. Teacher Walter Benson's class hopes the Totem pole will be placed in front of the school, and has promised school officials it would be completed today. Cautious Transit Fund Talk

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Cautious encouragement to Golden Gate Bridge District hopes for federal transit grants was given today by the head of the Urban Mass Transportation Administration.

Carlos C. Villareal, in a breakfast meeting in the St. Francis Hotel with 11 of the district's 18 directors, promised his office "will be in a position to do business with you."

But he stressed that the money end of their relationship depended on congressional approval of a $10 billion program to aid public transportation in the next dozen years.

SENATE APPROVAL

The program has been approved by the Senate, 84-4, and now is headed for hearings in the House of Representatives, which Villareal said was reluctant to give up any of its power to make annual appropriations.

"We're going to need all the help we can get to get it out of the House," he said.

But the year-by-year aid that would be guaranteed under the program was needed so agencies like the bridge district can depend on federal aid, Villareal said.

Villareal, who ranks just below Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, praised the district's plans for getting into bus transit immediately. "You can't afford to wait," he said of its long-range plans for rapid transit.

"Buses can be made attractive," Villareal insisted, and equipment is available to "dramatically reduce" pollution from buses.

STEAM DISCUSSED

Gen. Mgr. Dale W. Luehring said that bus specifications being drawn by the district will require use of such equipment. The district may also seek bids for steam or turbine powered buses, he said.

Villareal commented that "we strive not to compete with the automobile, but to complement it. This is indeed an automobile-oriented society, and will be from now until doomsday."

He said that 10,000 more cars are used in this nation each day, even after deducting the number junked.

Asked by Luehring what the prospect was of federal funding toward the district's long-range transit program, which may cost from $300 million to $700 million, Villareal said the chances were "very attractive. You're obviously doing a great job in planning--keep it up, and don't give up."

PRESIDENT TOP TOPIC

Sonoma Staters Quiz Chancellor

By BONNIE BARD

State College Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke paid his first visit in two years to Sonoma State College yesterday for a series of wide-ranging discussion groups with faculty, administrators, students and the advisory committee.

All groups showed interest in what part he expected them to play in the selection of a replacement for President Ambrose R. Nichols Jr., who resigned effective in June to join the chemistry department.

The one recurring question went unaswered--was President Nichols fired? Each time the question drew the same Dumke response, "I am not at liberty to discuss what takes place in executive sessions of the State College Board of Trustees."

Dumke said the process of selecting a new president would be long and tedious to find the right leader.

He said a selection committee, referred to as a "rainbow committee" because of its mixed membership, will nominate three possible candidates to the board of trustees for the final decision.

The committee is made up of two trustees, a state college president, two members of Dumke's staff and three representatives of Sonoma State. Dumke said that the local representatives could also include a student if the faculty wished.

Students offered suggestions as to the type of president they wanted with the athletes asking for a man who realized the value of inter-collegiate athletics and others who urged avoiding an authoritarian such as S. I. Hayakawa of San Francisco State.

Gregory Jilk of Petaluma, student body vice president, asked Dumke what he thought of the students' request to have the trustees name the new library in honor of Emiliano Zapata.

"It's crazy," Dumke said. "If you want to name it after a Mexican revolutionary, why pick a bush-leaguer like Zapata? Benito Juarez was the one great Mexican revolutionary."

In his press conference, Dumke was asked how much responsibility will be given to the campus presidential selection committee.

The chancellor said the group would only be advisory because only the rainbow committee should actually solicit applications for the job.

"If you have a large number of people all searching for a president, it begins to look like the college can't find one and everyone is in a panic," he said.

Personally, he said he was looking for a good manager. "The old concept was that a president should have chalk dust on his coattails," he said, "but maybe that isn't important anymore."

Dumke said that in many cases, a large college needs a person with more sophisticated command of management practices than a professor would have.

When asked about the firing of football coah Lloyd Helegon, Dumke said he was aware of the controversy, but had felt no pressure himself except from the news media. He said Helgeson's appeal is under study, but has not yet received official attention from his office.

Dumke said he felt that athletic programs should be removed from the grasp of the students with funding basically coming from the material and services fee rather than student government funds.

"Athletic programs should be beyond the whim of the students when they're playing with people's professional lives," he said, referring to the colleges that have curtailed or done away with intercollegiate sports.

Dumke said he felt that the concept of student government was in the process of change and could go two ways.

He said that it could be made more significant and effective because students aren't satisfied and many campus leaders are frustrated. The alternative would be to abandon government altogether.

He said he hoped the latter wouldn't happen because some recognized and accepted form of government is needed for communication.

Union Acts Condemned By Chamber

The Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to San Francisco Typographical Union 21, condemned the tactics which the chamber said the union has used to settle its dispute with the Independent-Journal.

The letter, signed by Donald A. Beacock, chamber president and chairman of its board of directors, said that the chamber feels that methods of labor negotions have "become so sophisticated and protective of the rights of labor and management, that a return to the passe methods of physical violence, personal intimidation, mental harrassment, and destruction of property might be used only by those having some doubts as to the validity of their demands."

The chamber's letter also criticized the union for "accepting assistance in violence from some of our young people who protest for the sake of protest."

Violence and threats against members of the business community and the public "whose only connection with the Independent-Journal is that they use it to support their businesses or to improve their intellect" were also denounced.

The letter said that "as management has come a long way toward recognizing its responsibility to the public and to labor, so must labor now face the fact that it has a similar responsibility--one of not seeking power for the sake of power, but to see that the power it has achieved does not corrupt."

Kudos To Mental Center?

Marin Community Mental Health Center has been nominated for one of three national awards to be presented by the American Psychiatric Association with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Donald T. Brown, regional director for the state Department of Mental Hygiene, nominated the health center in a letter to the American Psychiatric Association.

"After only a few months of becoming fully operationa the center achieved a major objective and now virtually no acutely mentally ill patients from Marin County have to leave the community for treatment," wrote Dr. Brown.

Three awards are given annually to psychiatric programs considered most deserving of recognition by the achievement awards board of the national association.

Dr. Donald P. Wilson, director of the mental health center, said that in the first 12 months of operation, the number of Marin mental patients admitted to state hospitals was cut by 85 per cent, and admission of alcoholics to state hospitals was reduced by 40 per cent. Furthermore, said Wilson, the center reduced the overall number of hospital admissions, including those patients who were admitted to its own new inpatient service, by 31 per cent.

The mental health center offers 28 inpatient beds and partial care for up to 50 patients who are financially dependent on the county for psychiatric care.

Sausalito Bloc Opens Trustees Recall Try

Citizens for Excellence in Integrated Education last night announced a campaign to recall two trustees of Sausalito School District: David E. Freedheim and Martha Freebairn-Smith.

Barbara Nelson, chairman of the group, said Freedheim and Mrs. Freebairn-Smith were chosen as targets because they "have either initiated, supported all [illegible] have brought [illegible] menting with little children. To a question from Gabe Jackson, community worker for the school district, as to who would replace the two, Mrs. Nelson said CEIE has two potential candidates but is not yet ready to name them. To further questioning later, she said it is hoped that start of the recall movement will bring forth candidates "who may not even be members of our organization now."

The announcement came at a public meeting of CEIE in Campbell Hall of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito. Of the approximately 80 who attended, it was obvious that a rather large portion were sympathetic neither to CEIE nor to the recall.

Mrs. Nelson and co-chairman Robert Leon based the recall move on the Marin County Grand Jury report finding fault with the school board for what it called irresponsibility and neglecting "the basic charge of educating little children."

Daniel Knapp, a San Francisco State College professor (who identified himself only after repeated demands from other members of the audience) challenged the grand jury report as not factual. Knapp said he had made a study of the situation "in the last couple of days" and "much that you have been told here tonight is not factual."

Robin Tyler, a teacher at Martin Luther King School, challenged the "integrated" in the organization's title, noting that none of the four black persons in the audience was a member of CEIE. "The reason you're so uptight is because there are so many black people at MLK," she said. "The people who think as you do are taking their kids out of your school and making it an all-black school."

Stuart Miller accused CEIE of "using an issue dishonestly," declaring, "I happen to know, Mrs. Nelson, that you are one of the candidates." This, Mrs. Nelson denied.

Miller claimed that low reading scores at Martin Luther King School, cited by the grand jury, are because it is a 50 per cent black school and "we know as a fact that black students read more poorly than white students."

"I do not believe that Negroes are genetically inferior to whites," shot back Herbert Recktenwald, moderator of the question period.

Mrs. Nelson announced that recall petitions would begin circulating immediately.

Before the recall announcement, the meeting heard Michael Culbert, executive editor of the Berkeley Gazette, describe the six years of violence and confrontations in Berkeley which he called the staging ground for "the new American revolution."

In every case, said Culbert, honest concerns--the Vietnam war, civil rights, technology, ecology, bigness of institutions, philosophy and religion — have been dishonestly used by the so-called "New Left."

Five Hurt In Series Of 101 Accidents

Five persons were injured in a series of auto accidents on Highway 101 in Marin yesterday and early today.

All of the injured declined hospital treatment.

At 7:30 a.m. yesterday, Craig Moyer, 43, of 414 Stuart Drive, Petaluma, complained of a whiplash and headache after the car in which he was riding was struck in the rear by another auto near the Tamalpais Drive overcrossing of the freeway in Corte Madera, the California Highway Patrol said.

Moyer was a passenger in a car driven by James C. Jacobsen, 42, of 1305 Berry Drive, Petaluma. The other driver was Dorothy A. Thompson, 46, of 726 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

Dorothy G. Aberlin, 25, of San Francisco, said she would see her own doctor for a head pain suffered when her auto was involved in a three-car wreck near the Tiburon Boulevard overcrossing at 5:05 p.m. yesterday. Other cars involved were driven by Sam M. Corritore, 54, of 1766 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, and Edward J. Nielson, 47, of Barrington, Ill.

The highway patrol said the accident was triggered when Corritore's car skidded in front of Nielson's vehicle.

At 8:50 p.m. yesterday, cars driven by Sharon M. Smalling, 26, of 1441 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, and Jerome H. McClenahan, 29, of 1553 Monte Maria Avenue, Novato, collided two miles north of Novato. The Smalling woman said she would see a private physician for a cut lip.

John Azevedo, 45, of 107 Grande Vista, Novato, suffered a cut nose and scraped knee at 3:15 a.m. today when his car left the intersection of the freeway and South Novato Boulevard and wrecked a fence. The patrol said he apparently fell asleep at the wheel.

A car driven by Jerome H. Dunn, 33, of 47 Humboldt Avenue, San Anselmo, overturned near the Tamalpais Drive overcrossing at 4 a.m. today. Dunn said he would see a private physician for treatment of unspecified injuries. Details of the accident were unavailable.

Three Suspects Hear Dope Counts

Three young men arrested earlier in the day after their car was stopped by Calfironia Highway Patrol officers for erratic driving were arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on drug and other charges.

Frank Garcia, 21, of no known address, was charged with drevving while under the influence of amphetamine (speed), possessing amphetamine and narcotics paraphernalia and having a loaded .22 Magnum Derringer pistol in his car.

Paul Einar LaFabregue, 23, of San Francisco, was charged with using and possessing speed and having paraphernalia.

Asst. Dist. Gary W. Thomas said in court yesterday that the men's car contained what appeared to be equipment for making drugs.

Student Enters Cotati Politics

T. Jeffrey Hughes, a graduate student at Sonoma State College, became the third candidate yesterday for the Cotati City Council election on April 14.

Others running are Mayor Frank J. Dolinsek and Herbert Winters for the two open positions. Councilman John Rasmussen did not file for reelection.

Hughes has a masters degree in political science and plans to do his doctoral thesis on the Cotati election campaign.

Hughes, 23, of 320 West Cotati Avenue, is a member of the board of directors of the associated students at the college.

Panel Picked To Promote Sewer Bonds

The Cotati City Council last night appointed five persons to a citizens committee to promote passage of the April 14 $100,000 sewer bond election.

Named to the committee were Benjamin Oretsky, Herbert Winters, Arthur Nelson, T. Jeffrey Hughes and Bud Howard.

In additeon to handling public relations for the bond measure, the committee will also write arguments for passage of the issue tobe sentto voters inadvance of the election.

The bond measure would provide funds for new sewer lines and a connection with the Rohnert Park sewage disposal plant.

The Cotati City Council also:

PLANNING—Accepted the resignation of planning commissioner John Neilsen, whose business often takes him out of town. R. C. Braden was appointed as his replacement.

REZONING—Approved the request of W. H. Appleton to rezone 7898 Redwood Highway from residential to commercial.

SIGN—Heard a request from the Cotati 4-H Club to put a welcome sign at the Plaza Park. A drawingof the signwasrequested for council study.

Water Candidate's Name Spelled Zwart

Herman C. Zwart,42, president of Zwart Associates in Sausalito, who has announced his candidacy for a seat on the Marin Municipal Water District Board was erroneously identified in yesterday's Independent Journal

Zwart, who resides at 85 Helens Lane, Mill Valley, is seeking to represent Division 4, a seat held by incumbent William A. Marcus of Kentfield whose term is expiring.

Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the Contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guaranties not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the Contract.

2.6 CONTRACT BONDS: A Performance Bond and a Labor and Materials Bond, executed on the forms provided herein, or approved equivalents, shall be furnished by the successful Contractor at the time of signing the Formal Agreement. Such bonds shall be furnished at no expense to the County, and shall be executed by a responsible surety acceptable to the County.

2.7 INSURANCE: The successful Contractor shall secure and maintain such insurance policies as are required by law and by the General Conditions of the Contract. Certificates indicating said insurance shall be deposited with the County prior to, or within three (3) days following, the execution of the contract. No work shall be commenced until all required insurance is in force.

2.8 ALTERNATES: The Board of Supervisors shall reserve the right to accept any or all alternative or additive bids called for in the Proposal Form, or any combination thereof, and their order of listing in the bid form shall in no way indicate the order in which the bids may be accepted.

2.9 AWARD OR REJECTION OF BIDS: The Contract will be awarded to lowest responsible bidder complying with these instructions, provided his bid is reasonable and it is to the interest of the County to accept it. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any irregularities therein. The competency and responsibility of bidders and of their proposed subcontractors will be considered in making the awards. Where, and if, unit bid prices are called for, the unit price shall govern in case of extension error. The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to waive any informality in bids at their discretion.

2.10 THE CONTRACT DOCUMENTS: include the Notice to Contractor (Advertisement), the Instructions to Bidders, the Proposal Forms, the Agreement Forms, the General Conditions of the Contract, the Drawings and the Specifications, the extent of the other documents is given in the Index to Contract Documents and Specifications, bound herein.

2.11 SUBCONTRACTORS: Each portion of the work shall be performed by an organization experienced to do work in that particular field, and no portion shall be reserved by Contractor to perform himself unless he is equipped and experienced to handle it properly. Each bid shall include a complete list of subcontractors proposed for each portion of the work.
No portion of contracts or subcontracts shall be assigned, transferred or sublet without consent of County.
If Contractor fails to specify a subcontractor for any portion of the work, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such portion himself. He shall not be permitted to subcontract that portion of the work, except in cases of public emergency or necessity, and then only after finding of awarding authority has been publicly recorded.

2.12 ACCEPTANCE OF ALTERNATES AFTER CONTRACT IS AWARDED: Notwithstanding the owner's ability to accept alternates after the contract has been awarded, the low bid will be based upon the base bid and those alternates indicated for acceptance at time of awarding of the contract.

McLain Gets Ready To Tell His Side Of Story

NEW YORK (UPI)—Denne McLain, the beleaguered Detroit pitcher under suspension for "bookmaking activities," prepared to tell his story in public today while Commissioner Bowie Kuhn continued his investigation of the gambling scandal that will determine how long the suspension lasts.

McLain, the first baseball player to be suspended for involvement in gambling in 45 years, left New York after a 5½ hour conference with Kuhn Thursday when he was notified of the suspension. His destination was the Tiger training camp at Lakeland, Fla.

The 25-year-old pitcher, who became baseball's first 31-game winner in over three decades in 1968, said he would answer the questions of the press regarding the incident today or Saturday at a conference.

McLain has yet to reveal what he said to Kuhn in conferences last Friday and Thursday or to a Detroit grand jury on Wednesday, but friends have quoted him as saying he was "duped" and "my only crime was stupidity."

Shortly after McLain left, Kuhn read a 174-word statement to the press in which he said, "Mr. McLain's involvement in 1967 bookmaking activities and his associations at that time leave me no alternative but to suspend him from all organized baseball activities pending the completion of my review."

ADMISSIONS

He added, "It should be made clear that the action taken today is based substantially on certain admissions made candidly to me by Mr. McLain and not on allegations contained in a recent magazine article, many of which I believe would prove to be unfounded."

Dick Johnston, executive editor of Sports Illustrated which claimed in a copyrighted article this week that McLain was a backer in a Flint, Mich. bookmaking operation, rebutted Kuhn's assertion that many of the article's charges would be unfounded.

"If the article isn't true, I wonder what he suspended him for," Johnston said. Johnston said the magazine has not been asked for a retraction by anyone and would not give one if asked.

"ABSURD"

When McLain arrived at the Tampa, Fla. airport Thursday night en route to Lakeland, he said the magazine article was "absurd" and added, "I hope the people will not believe anything."

Kuhn said he could not say how long the investigation would take and gave no indication of whether he was thinking in terms of a suspension of days, months, or even life. McLain had signed a $90,000 contract with the Tigers and claimed to make over $230,000 a year overall.

Danny And Lowell, Cream Of The Crop

"Drug-Crazed Youths Attack Family."

I dearly hope the news media can tear itself away from the violence in the streets long enough tonight to devote some ink and tape to an affair that will take place at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

I refer to the 10th annual Football Foundation and Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete awards dinner at which two San Rafael High School classmates will be among 22 Bay Area honorees.

"Study Slated On Overcrowded Juvenile Halls."

I know juvy halls are bursting at the seamy seams, the streets are becoming wall/to/wall drug outlets, police stations are getting blown up, businesses are being vandalized, etcetra, but the Bay Area's scholar-thletes deserve equal time.

Here is a group of young men we'd like our youngsters to emulate. Messers and Mesdames Leland H Jordan and Jason E. Widmer of San Rafael should be the envy of all parents everywhere because their 17-year-old sons, Danny and Lowell, respectively, have earned their spurs in some pretty solid company.

"Policeman Dies Of Bomb Attack Wounds."

In short, they are outstanding students and citizens who have found time to excel in the field of athletics. They are the cream of the crop.

Gov. Ronald Reagan will be there tonight to join in the applause along with other civic and sports leaders, parents, friends and just plain admirers, among whom you should count yourselves.

"Thieves, Vandals Hit Two Schools."

That San Rafael High produced both Marin County Athletic League scholar-athletes speaks well for my alma mater.

The two Mighty Bulldogs are among the smallest honorees in size, but among the tallest by more important standards.

Lowell Widmer, age 17, stands 5 feet, 8 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds, including 3 pounds of freckles, 18 pounds of brains, 32 pounds of intestinal fortitude.

"Youth Arrested With Stolen Goods."

In a land of behemoths, you keep looking for a key on Widmer's back to wind up before every play. There are some who insist Santa Claus left Lowell under Coach Bob Muster's tree. Another explanation for Widmer's success is that the enemy simply couldn't locate him.

Lowell's vitals: Two-time All-MCAL quarterback, also played safety, 3.40 grade point average, honor roll, active in student government and Fellowship of Christian Athletes, also outstanding in basketball.

"Teen Pot Pushers Nabbed."

Daniel Jordan, age 17, 5-9, 165, guard-linebacker. Grade Point Average: 3.0. Scholastic Honors: California Scholarship Federation; Commendation for National Merit Scholarship Test; President of CSF; Student Congress. Football Honors: All-MCAL selection; co-captain of varsity; also plays basketball and baseball.

"Rioting Students Assault Profs."

I think we should all stand to salute young Lowell Widmer and Daniel Jordan who in some circles may be considered square.

Where, oh where, did you go right?

San Marin Junior Is No. 1

Time used to be when you could win the Marin County Athletic League individual basketball scoring title easily with anything over 20 points a game.

Bill Secor of Tamalpais High School and Jeff Meeker of Drake are both averaging 21 points or more a game, but they aren't even close to getting the crown. Not the way San Marin junior center Dana LaFerriere is going with a 26.1 average.

All three get another chance to fatten-(or lower)-their averages tonight in MCAL games which will find San Marin visiting Drake, Marin Catholic at Novato, Redwood at Terra Linda and San Rafael at Tamalpais.

The San Marin-Drake battle will feature Meeker and LaFerriere in a game that, for what it's worth, will break a tie for fifth place. Marin Catholic will try to stay out of the league cellar in its game againts last-place Novato, while Tamalpais will be eyeing second place against San Rafael.

Redwood, which will win the title sooner or later, can actually do it tonight, but may find it heavy going against a suddenly tough Terra Linda squad which currently is sole possessor of second place.

Fatal Wreck Mars Action At Daytona Beach Track

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 250-mile race for small sporty sedans was on tap at Daytona Beach today, but the resort area was still agog at the blazing lap speeds being turned and saddened by the fatal wreck that marred one of two 125-mile events Thursday.

Cale Yarborough, making an impressive return to racing after almost losing his life in a wreck last December, won the first of the two sprints at a speed of 183.295 miles an hour in a Mercury. It was the fastest race ever run anywhere.

A three-car wreck at the midway point of the second race cost the life of Talmadge "Tab" Prince, a 32-year-old Dublin, Ga., auto dealer who was making his first start in a race for the 4,000-pound 600-horsepower stock cars.

Prince, who had raced sprints and late model sportsman cars for 10 years, apparently lost control when his engine blew going into the Daytona speedway's high banked west turn. The car went into a wild spin sideways and was struck broadside by Bill Seifert of Skyland, N.C., in a Ford.

Prince was killed instantly, according to track physician Dr. A. A. Monaco. Among his injuries was a broken back and compressed spinal cord.

Seifert was hospitalized with a concussion and bruises. He was reported in good condition.

SECOND RACE

Charlie Glotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., driving one of the new winged Dodge Daytonas, won the second race. His speed was cut to 147.734 m.p.h. because of a 13-lap slowdown needed to clear the track of debris from the wreck. Buddy Baker, driving another Dodge, came in second.

Yarborough's race was run without incident and he and DODGE'S Bobby Isaac battled bumper-to-bumper for the lead much of the way. A quicker pit stop by Yarborough gave him the advantage in the final dash for the checkered flag and he finished five and one-half seconds in front.

FRONT ROW

Yarborough and Baker had won the two front row positions for Sunday's $205,000 Daytona 500 in time trials Feb. 8 and their starting spots were not affected by the 125-milers. But the other 38 starters earned their assignments in these races.

Tiny Lund, 41-year-old veteran from Cross, S.C., who earned an eighth starting position in the 500, had the pole in today's 250-miler for NASCAR's Grand American cars, sedans of the Camaro, Mustang and Javelin class and powered by lighter 302-cubic inch engines. The race uses a track and road course of 3.81 miles.

Funseth Leads The Pack

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—There is nothing better to ward off a chill on the golf course than to drop a few long putts. Rod Funseth is looking for another dose of that remedy today.

Funseth, a journeyman of 15 years on the tour who in that time has picked up only one first place check, had his share of long ones fall Thursday and came through a day of cold temperatures and high winds to grab a three-stroke lead after one round of the $100,000 San Antonio Open.

Mike Hill and John Schlee, who have not won a tournament in their combined six and a half years on the tour, were knotted in second place having fired even-par 70s.

"I wore two thick sweaters, a long-sleeved shirt and a T-shirt," said Zarley. "And I was still cold."

The winds blew steadily at 35 miles per hour, and the temperature rose from an early-morning 40-degree level to the mid-50s.

Girls Getting Into Track Act In Mill Valley

Now the girls are getting into the act.

Joining the Mill Valley Blazers track and field team, now in its second year, will be the Blazerettes, an age-group track team composed of Marin County girls 9 through 17.

The girls team, according to John Garber of the sponsoring Mill Valley Parks and recreation Department, will be a member of the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) and compete against teams from other areas of Northern Calfiornia.

First sign-ups forthe Blazerettes will be next Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Tamalpuis High School track in Mill Valley.

Feeney Opens S.F. Office

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The National League sent one of its teams to San Francisco in 1958. The league headquarters arrived today.

Chub Feeney, newly-appointed successor to retired Warren Giles, opened shop as National League president in a plush office in the Mills Building.

The league had been headquartered in Cincinnati where literally tons of correspondence, records, and memorabilia had gathered. These will be placed in a warehouse there until public relations director Dave Grote has a chance to go through them and sort them out.

Late Baskets Throw WCAC Into Scramble

By UP INTERNATIONAL

A couple of last-gasp baskets have turned the West Coast Athletic Conference race back into a great three-way battle. One of the last-second swishers was tossed up by Bruce Chapman. His 20 foot bomb with six seconds to go gave Nevada Las Vegas the 72-70 upset win over Santa Clara. Chapman hit 21 points and the Rebels held the Broncs' great center, Dennis Awtrey to 16. Santa Clara emerged with a 7-2 WCAC record and UNLV a 6-4 mark. But nobody bets against the Rebels when they are at home in the Las Vegas Center arena.

Meanwhile, Joel Parisho's last-gasp layup gave UOP the 78-77 nod over a tough Loyola team that almost pulled the upset on the Tigers' floor. That left UOP tied again with Santa Clara with a 7-2 mark. The Broncs and Tigers also both have 17-4 season's record.

And USF climbed back into the race with a 91-66 win at Nevada Reno behind a 22-point burst by Pete Cross. Pepperdine nipped St. Mary's 80-71 by hitting 22 free throws to the Gales' 9.

The hysteria resumes Saturday night with USF at Nevada Las Vegas in a game neither can afford to lose while the co-leaders would seem to have it a bit asier. Santa Clara is at Nevada Reno and UOP hosts Pepperdine. Loyola calls on St. Mary's.

TALKS WITH HORACE

Juan Reported Arizona Bound

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (UPI)—Juan Marichal, the San Francisco Giants' premier right hander, is reported on his way from the Dominican Republic to the team's pre-spring training camp.

Marichal is the lone unsigned Giant, but is traditionally one of the last to ink his yearly pact. His magnificent won-lost mark would indicate that his usual late training start doesn't hurt his ability.

And the Giant brass seem unusually serene this time around about the prospects of Marichal's signing.

Manager Clyde King said that team president Horace Stoneham had been in contact with Marichal and had been told he would arrive in camp shortly. One thing delaying Marichal is the fact that the Dominican Republic is in mourning for a Dominican Airways DC9 superjet that crashed into the ocean last Sunday night with the loss of 97 lives.

By AL GIDDINGS

'Pigeons' Have The Last Laugh On The Old Pros

I had the opportunity to work at the San Francisco office of the Department of Fish and Game last week and found it to be an unbelievably busy place.

My chores were to handle the radio, answering on the average of 75 phone calls a day and meeting the public who want information about fish and game. After that, I was told to take the weekend off, which is a rarity.

So, Frank Sue and I took Norm Quadros of Mill Valley out in search of sturgeon Saturday. We figured we had a pigeon as Quadros has never caught a sturgeon, so we made a bunch of bets.

But, wouldn't you know it: Norm caught his first sturgeon while Frank and I got skunked Quadros wanted us to keep quiet as he had goofed his son Tony's first sturgeon the previous week while trying to gaff it at the boat. But I think Tony should know his dad is now a pro.

Sunday, Bob Wilson and I took out Lee Fey who runs the resort at Webber Lake in the Sierra. His biggest fish in his 60 or so years of life was a seven-pound trout. Again Wilson and I thought we had a pigeon, but the little lady called "Luck" got involved again. Lee not only got the first, but also the biggest and the most. He was as hot as a firecracker catching and releasing sturgeon.

Of course he used a spinning rod which gave him the advantage of being able to long-line us. Long-lining is casting back the farthest. When a sturgeon smells the bait from downstream, naturally as it swims up for the bait. The farthest bait out will be the pickup.

If you've been losing bets then maybe your rival has been long-lining you. Marty Medin and Frank Sue do that to me all the time.

Anyway, after an hour and 20 minutes on one fish, Lee finally landed the thing. We quit with three sturgeon and took off for Loch Lomond in San Rafael. Lee's fish was a six-footer, possibly 100 pounds. We couldn't weigh the fish but were told that a scale would be put in at Loch Lomond soon. Now, that's great!

SOME OF the boats between the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge and the White Buoy had bass along with some sturgeon. With the bay waters slowly warming and clearing, the bass should be biting pretty soon. Joe Mello, one of the champs of the bay, is winding up steelhead fishing and is oiling up his bass reels. That's a good sign.

YOUNG CHRIS NARDI of Novato has invited me along on a salmon fishing trip next Monday. The salmon fishermen outside the Golden Gate from Sausalito have been having a good early season. Some limits have been reported, with nearly every angler taking one or two fish. I hope the weather is right Monday.

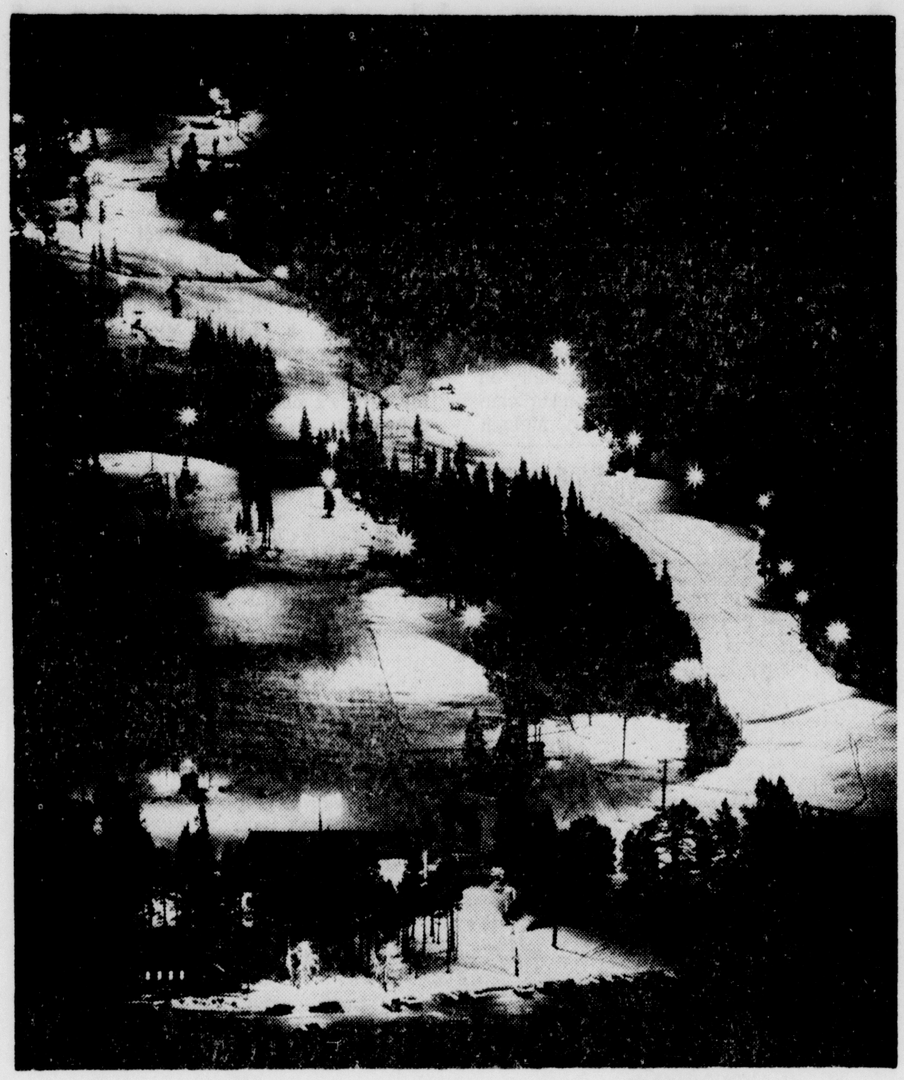
MOLLY MELLO landed six steelhead up at Walker Creek one day this week. Five of the fish were spent, one was fresh. Molly released the downstreamers.

With the steelhead season closing Feb. 28, you had better get out there.

I HAVEN'T heard any discussions, nor have I received any questions on the new opening of trout season.

A new section of the Fish and Game Regulation states that the lakes and resorvoirs of Marin and some other counties will open March 1 for trout. The limit will be five until the regular opening on May 2 when the season opens more-or-less statewide except for some coastal counties in the north.

Check the new 1970 angling regulations that go into effect March 1. From the regs, it looks as though all the lakes and resorvoirs in Marin open March 1, then the streams open May 2. Without catchable plants, the lakes will be slow, and I suppose the real opening day will be when a fish planting truck is seen going to the lakes. This is surely a great change.



SKI RUN UNDER THE ARCS

Boreal Ridge Ski Lodge, 100 miles east of Sacramento, has reported booming business since the installation of lighting which features rough service mercury lamps produced by Sylvania Electric Products, Inc. Forty - eight 1000 - watt mercury lamps, mounted on 45-foot poles, illuminate a distance of about 2,500 feet.

Marin, Sonoma Cars In Oakland Exhibit

Five Marin-Sonoma county area vehicles will vie during the 22nd annual National Roadster Show that opens a 10-day run today at the Oakland Coliseum.

The delegation includes three entries from San Rafael and one each from Sonoma and Mill Valley, according to show general manager Mel Fernandes.

San Rafael entries include an 180-m.p.h. dragster by Fred Stoke, 34, contractor of 22 Roosevelt Ave. and his partner, Larry Azevedo, and a custom go-cart and a mini-cycle with sidecar, both by Frank A. Volta, 52, claims adjustor of 5 La Cresenta.

Sonoma will be represented by a street rod roadster built around a 1923 Model "T" body by Joseph M. Tynan, 23, a diesel shop mechanic of 1405 Denmark Street.

The Mill Valley entry will be a full competition coupe built from a 1970 Maverick by John W. Bissinger Jr., 44, architect of 482 Green Glen Way.

Show doors at the Coliseum's Exhibit Hall will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. on weekdays and from 1 to 10 p.m. on Saturdays, Sundays and Feb. 23, the Washington's Birthday holiday, during the 10-day run.

Young Marin Bowling Ace Sets Sights On Pro Tour

By RALPH CHATOIAN

For some, bowling is just a night out, away from a wife and house full of kids. For others, it's a serious proposition.

The tall, dark-hared DeYoung did at 19 is what 99.9 per cent of other bowlers don't do in a lifetime—rolled a 300 game in league competition. He did that on Halloween night, 1968, in the 840 Scratch League at Nave Lanes.

Now, with old age creeping up on him, (he'll be 21 Oct. 10) Terry, a lefthander, has hopes of going against the best of them in the Professional Bowlers Association tour.

REAL TEST

He got his first real test of bowling for pay last season in the Professional Central California Bowlers and did fine, winning one tournament, at Concord's Clayton Valley Bowl, and finishing high enough in others to finish the year fourth on the money list with $2,030 earned. In 10 tournaments on the PCCB tour this year, he's made $800.

He came up through the ranks of the Nave Lanes junior bowling program, headed at that time by veteran Marin bowler Frank "Skip" Helbing. In his first handicap junior league, Terry averaged 117. He was 12. The next year he went up to 160.

"I had my own ball that year," Terry said. "I started really practicing a lot. I guess the competition part of bowling got in my blood."

AVERAGE ZOOMED

At 14 his average had zoomed to 180 and junior bowling simply lacked the competition he needed. So at 15 he was already bowling in adult scratch leagues. He now carries a 201 average.

He got a part-time job at Nave Lanes when he was in high school and instead of pay got to do as much practice bowling as he wanted. "That's the deal I worket out with Bob Nave. It allowed me tobowl three or four days a week," he said.

"One Monday afternoon I got a phone call from Walt Silva (retired Sausalito tavern owner) and he said he wanted to sponsor me in the PCCB," Terry recalled. "That was great. He would pay all the expenses and we would split the winnings. I never see any of the money I win. Walt puts it in a trust fund for me."

JITTERY START

De Young admitted being jittery in the first four tournaments and finished out of the money each time. "I didn't have the confidence I needed," he recalled. "Then I finally started winning a little and then won that one at Clayton Valley Bowl. After that I had the confidence."

As far as his plans along the PBA tour, Terry says, "That's up to Walt. Maybe a year from this summer. I don't know."

With two years of College of Marin behind him, De Young wants to stay out of school for awhile, and work and bowl. "It takes money to bowl quite a bit (he's currently bowling in four leagues) and I can always go back to college if I can't make it in bowling. Right now I want to bowl."

Terry's dad, a retired Air Force Lieutenant colonel, started him off in bowling when he was barely old enough for school in Grand Rapids, Mich. Since his father, Bud, now living in Petaluma and one time a 200 average bowler, was transferred from base to base, Terry rarely stayed in the same town for more than a few months. When he started bowling, Terry used his right hand.

He switched to the portside he was 9.

Hank Aaron Signs $250,000 Pact

ATLANTA — Hammerin' Hank Aaron, the durable Atlanta Braves outfielder who expects to reach the exclusive 3,000-hit plateau early this season, is now a $125,000-a-year baseball player.

The Braves' 36-year-old superstar, who needs only 44 more hits to become the ninth major leaguer ever to reach that goal, signed a two-year contract yesterday estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

"I hope my signing this two-year contract puts an end to any talk about my retiring at the end of this season," Aaron said.

Braves President Bill Bartholomay said Aaron's new contract was the largest ever given to a Braves player and added, "I am delighted to have the honor once again to sign the best ballplayer in the game today."

Golf

COLUMBUS, Ohio— C. Charlie Nicklaus, father of professional golfer Jack Nicklaus, died late yesterday in Riverside Hospital after a brief illness. He was 56.

Nicklaus, a prominent druggist, suffered cancer.

The elder Nicklaus, who began playing golf after World War II to help mend a broken bone, was instrumental in launching his son's career. The youngster, at the age of 10, would follow his father around the course, mainly at Scioto Country Club, where the elder Nicklaus later served as president.

BOGOTA, Colombia — Bert Greene and Dean Refran of the United States and Colombian Heraclio Velenzuela shot six-under-par 66s to finish in a first-round tie in the International Open Golf Tournament.

Basketball

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. — George Lehmann, a six-foot, three- inch guard with both National and American Basketball Association experience was sold by the New York Nets to the Miami Floridians Thursday for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Bowling

MILWAUKEE — George Pappas of Charlotte, N.C., splattered 1,275 pins in his six-game block last night to cling to a 38-pin lead in the $70,000 Miller Open bowling tournament.

Billiards

LOS ANGELES — It's 12 down and three to go for Irving Crane as the Rochester, N. Y., auto salesman came within one game of clenching his fifth World's Pocket Billiards Championship in the round-robin tournament at the Elks Club.

Crane's latest victim yesterday was Steve Mizerak, Perth Amboy, N.J., by 150-118.

Skiing

STRBSKE PLESO, Czechoslovakia — Russia's cross-country skiers won the men's 40-kilometer relay giving the Soviets their fifth gold medal of the World Skiing Championships.

The Russians also posted a comfortable victory in the women's 15-kilometer cross country relay race.

By DON CARTER

Getting your body close to the floor should start at the very beginning of your approach. Don't try to accomplish it just by suddenly bending your left knee as you slide. I suggest a slight crouch as you push away and gradually get lower as you near the foul line. Your hand should be just a few inches from the floor as you let the ball go.

Another Tennis Upset

SALISBURY, Md. (AP)—Rod Laver and Cliff Richey, last survivors of the depleted seeded ranks, play quarter-final matches tonight in the U.S. National Indoor Open Tennis Championships.

Laver and Richey should win and advance to Saturday's semi-finals, but favoritism has been almost fatal in the $50,000 tournament.

Six other seeded players are already on the sidelines. Australian Tony Roche joined the list Thursday night when a sore elbow forced him to default his quarterfinals match with Romania's Ilie Nastase.

VICTORY

Tiriac, a 30-year-old Romanian champion and onetime Olympic ice hockey player, broke Taylor in the opening game but failed to hold service in the 10th game when he had a chance to take the first set.

Taylor had little trouble after that in the match played before a crowd of 3,800 in the Civic Center. He broke Tiriac's service two more times, once at love, while rolling through the second set.

COMER

In the semi-finals, Taylor is expected to have much more difficulty with Nastase, a 23-year-old who is regarded as a coming star in the game. Nastase defeated Taylor in two previous meetings.

Richey, the No. 2 seeded American, has drawn newly-married Jim Osborne in the quarterfinals. Osborne has been commuting from nearby Ocean City, where he is honeymooning with his bride of a week.

The 1971 USGA Junior Amateur golf championship will be held at the Manor Country Club, Rockville, Md.

HERE COMES FINLEY

Key A's Players Remain Unsigned

MESA, Ariz. (UPI)—Charlie Finley, the owner, is supposed to be here today when the Oakland A's open their spring training camp, and for one big reason—to start signing some players.

With the opening of camp, 14 players still are unsigned, among them Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Rick Monday, Chuck Dobson, Don Mincher, Dick Green, Diego Segui and Al Downing.

New manager John McNamara doesn't need anyone to tell him that the unsigned players are the heart of his club, picked by some to win the American League West this year.

Finley seems farthest apart in his salary discussions with Jackson and Bando, who could bloom into super stars this year, and if not this year, then next.

Jackson hit 47 homers and drove in 118 runs last year. He worked for $23,000 after holding out in spring training. Bando played for about $20,000 and for that he hit 31 homers and drove in 114 runs.

Finley, reportedly, has offered Jackson $40,000 for 1970 and Bando $35,000. Both players have dismissed those offers without serious comment.

"DO BETTER"

"He'll have to do better than that," said Jackson.

"I know what I'm worth and it's not what he offered me," said Bando.

Obviously, Finley has his work cut out for him, when and if he shows up here. He said earlier he would make it for the opening.

Three second liners, meanwhile, signed Thursday to give the club 26 players under contract.

They were utility infielder Bobby Johnson, who hit .343 in 51 games last year; spare outfielder Jose Tartabull, who batted .267 in 75 games, and rookie catcher Gene Tenace, who hit .158 in 16 games.

Legislation To Help Those 'Sitting Ducks'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A Republican assemblyman who is a duck hunter plans to launch a 'legislative effort Monday to outlaw what he called "suicide" duck hunting clubs in California.

Assemblyman George Milias, chairman of the Assembly Natural Resources Committee, disclosed Thursday he will introduce a bill prohibiting the shooting of any domesticated migratory game bird, such as "flighted mallards," for commercial purposes.

The Gilroy Republican said the shooting of "flighted mallards" was unsportsmanlike and is a "blight" on hunters and fish and game laws.

Flighted mallard clubs are rare in the West but California has at least three.

Such waterfowl are trained from ducklings to fly a certain route to food upon call and to return to their cages. Private gun clubs charge members for shooting the ducks during these flights.

"The ducks have no sporting chance whatsoever," Milias said. "They're domesticated from the time they're born, live in captivity, fed to a plump stage then forced to fly in front of the hunter."

The lawmaker said he will submit the bill Monday.

RAIDERS BEST

Jim Otto Stands By Statement

WAUSAU, Wis. (UPI)—Jim Otto, perennial all-pro center of the Oakland Raiders, Thursday night stood by his earlier statement that the Raiders, not the Kansas City Chiefs, should have represented the American Football League in the Super Bowl.

"I am not apologizing for my earlier statement and I stay with it," Otto said. "Since Oakland beat Kansas City twice in the regular season, it was unfair to have to play a third game."

Kansas City won the third match 17-7 and later went on to the Super Bowl, beating the Minnesota Vikings for the championship of professional football.

Otto was interviewed Thursday night by Mark Zelich of WSAU-TV. He will be honored by his home town admirers at a dinner here Saturday night.

Otto also was critical of the merger of the professional leagues, saying he would have preferred a separate identity for the AFL.

"I know I'm outspoken, but I feel the pride all AFL people should feel," he said.

Mayo Smith 'Very Sorry' For McLain

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Mayo Smith, who has managed the Detroit Tigers during the last three seasons when Denny McLain became one of baseball's most celebrated pitchers, said Thursday he was "very, very sorry for Denny and his family."

McLain, suspended indefinitely by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, won 72 games and one World Series contest for Smith and the Tigers the last three seasons and Smith obviously hasn't forgotten those good times.

"These are times when a fellow is down and people have a tendency to kick him," Smith said, "but I know what he does and I know what makes him tick inside and what he does on a ballfield.

"All of us . . . you've made mistakes. I've made mistakes but I feel Denny in the long run will come out and continue his activities as a ballplayer."

North Has His Grounds For Grumblings Against Partner

"It's nice to know that there are still good bridge players in this world," dummy announced at the end of the hand shown today. "It would be even nicer," he added, "if I ever got one of them as my partner." The complaint is a familiar one, but North had ground for his grumbling.

DRAWS TRUMPS

West led the jack of diamonds, and East covered dummy's queen with the king. South won with the ace and drew three rounds of trumps. East carefully discarded the nine of diamonds and the five of spades, thus showing control of diamonds and discouraging a spade lead from his partner's side of the table.

Declarer led the deuce of clubs from dummy and played the ten from his hand, skillfully passing the trick to West. But West got out with the deuce of diamonds to East's seven, and East returned the nine of spades, allowing West to defeat the contract with two spade tricks. Down one.

MUST START EARLY

South should see before he plays the first card from dummy that East is the dangerous opponent since only if East leads spades will declarer lose two spade tricks. South should not play the queen of diamonds from dummy at the first trick because that will allow East to gain the lead in diamonds. West cannot have the king of diamonds because if he wanted to make a doubtful opening lead he would try spades (which his partner has raised) rather than lead away from the king of diamonds out of a clear sky.

A LOW DIAMOND

If South plays a low diamond from dummy at the first trick, East must also play low, and South refuses the trick. Now South can draw trumps, pass a club to West, and keep East out of the lead. No matter what happens, South can regain the lead to run dummy's clubs and thus get rid of his losing spades.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. During 1969 I purchased Anaconda Co. and Breeze Corp. They have acted poorly and Anaconda has reduced its dividend. Breeze eliminated its dividend altogether. I am thinking of selling and buying Southern Pacific.—W.P.

A. Anaconda derives 60 per cent of earnings from its copper mines in Chile. Government nationalization of some of these properties is scheduled to take place over a period of several years. This type of political situation is subject to rapid change, leaving Anaconda in a precarious position. Breeze Corp. reported reduced sales and earnings in 1969 as a result of Defense Department cutbacks. About 60 per cent of sales go to the government.

Your plan to sell these issues has merit, but I question the wisdom of purchasing Southern Pacific, which still derives 50 per cent of revenues from its rail operations. Earnings have made little headway in the last five years and increased labor costs will probably continue as a restrictive factor. Permanent resolution of the railroad industry's labor-management differences is doubtful although interim truces are usually arranged from contract to contract.

Although each industry has its own peculiar problems the defensive characteristics of the food stocks have appeal in an uncertain market. In this group Quaker Oats and Consolidated Foods are attractive.

Q. On your recommendation I have accumulated shares of Concord Fabric at an average price of about 18. The shares have dropped steadily; should I continue to average down?—L.W. Do you still feel Concord Fabrics warrants retention? —H.B.

A. The drop in Concord's share price reflects uncertainties in the general market and the economy and in the textile industry itself. The vagaries of fashion, which affect buyers' choices of textiles, are particularly unsettled now. In this atmosphere buyers are reluctant to make large commitments and this has exerted pressure on profit margins. Barring large inventory write-offs, 1969 earnings should be in line with the $1.38 reported in 1968. First-half 1970 may be sluggish but contributions from two recently added knit goods divisions should benefit full year comparisons. Selling now at 9x 1969 projected results, Concord offers good value as a recovery candidate.

HEADS FLINTKOTE DIVISION—Mel J. London of Greenbrae has been appointed president of the Calaveras Division of the Flintkote Co. He joined the company in 1945, became marketing vice president in 1959 and has been vice president and general manager of the division since 1968.

College Committee System Comes Twice Under Fire

There is an old gag that says a camel is an animal "that looks like it was put together by a committee." We feel this is an unjustified slur on the camel, a beast that is extremely well adapted to its desert life, however unprepossessing it may appear.

But if a camel looks like the result of one committee, think what kind of a creature would emerge as the result of the work of 15 or 16 committees, each largely autonomous and going its own way!

YET COLLEGE OF MARIN, according to the reports of two investigative bodies this month, is being run by that many committees in pretty much that fashion.

The two investigative groups were an accreditation team from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges and a special committee of the Marin County Grand Jury. Their investigations were along different lines, for different purposes, but both of them ran into the committee system by which the school is operated.

The grand jury group found that 15 or 16 committees exist "with students participating in all but one or two," and that "testimony varied as to whether their function was to 'recommend' or 'dictate' policy." It recommended that a trustee be a member of each committee.

THE EVALUATION TEAM went much farther. It found that the faculty committee system as it exists at College of Marin "provides three independent avenues to the board," that it leaves the college president and dean of instruction in a "rubber-stamp role" in selection and evaluation of faculty, and that it hampers the president. It recommended:

"That a reevaluation of the committee structure be undertaken, with consideration given to streamlining procedures. . .

"That areas of responsibility and lines of communication be drawn and specified so as not to diffuse the authority and responsibility of the chief administrative officer with respect to his relationships to the teaching faculty, the administrative staff, the students, and the board of trustees."

It followed this up with the assertion that "it is absolutely imperative that the faculty give the incoming president a chance to succeed."

THESE ARE STRONG words from a college accreditation committee. The implication is plain that the faculty committees have not given previous presidents a chance to succeed. To this a heartfelt "amen" no doubt would be given by a gentleman named William K. Ramstad, who served 10 hectic months in 1967-68 as the college's superintendent-president.

When Ramstad took over the job in July, 1967, he said he felt the faculty should have more responsibility in administrative decisions. Ten months later he was ousted after a faculty revolt over not enough "teaching power" in such decisions.

Ramstad little knew, when he made that remark in July, 1967, the potential of the assorted committees that had started growing up among the faculty under his predecessor. Since then, their number and power has increased. And so have troubles at the college.

The generally mild-spoken report of the evaluation team leaves little doubt how its members felt about this. It called the committee system time-wasting, inefficient, and raising "serious questions as to centers of responsibility." And it stressed, not once but twice, that the new president must have freedom to act if he is to succeed.

It is interesting that the grand jury committee, which was not investigating the faculty setup at all, ran into this same committee problem in its brief inquiry.

WE FEEL SURE the board of trustees wants John A. Grasham to succeed as college president, and that it will not ignore the importance of overhauling the faculty committee system to make this possible.

After all, the board wouldn't want the College of Marin to wind up looking like a cameleopard (or worse, as that creature was the result of only one committee plus Baron Munchausen).

Student Appreciates Newspaper's Stand

I would like to commend you and your staff highly. You are not only putting out a great paper, but you're also sticking to your decision. I think this is terrific.

I was never one to even consider the teen-age vote. I attended the Governor's Conference on Youth. The kids wanted to take apart in politics but didn't seem informed enough. But after seeing the way "adults" acted on Feb. 14, I think anything could be an improvement. At least the "younger generation" can act mature

Courts Have Power To End Disgrace

Hats off to the I-J and its management and staff for having the "guts" to stand up and be counted on a matter of principal, no matter what the cost.

The cause of the impasse in negotiations—"make work" or "featherbedding"—is a very costly thing in time and materials. Doing unnecessary work that has to be destroyed just doesn't make any sense at all. Whether they know it or not the subscribers and advertisers in the I-J pay for it.

Physical violence and wanton destruction of private property is intolerable, and the unions and their officers should be held accountable.

I do believe the courts and police have the power to cause this situation to be controlled and thus prevent a recurrence of last Saturday's Valentine's Day disgrace.

Psychiatrist Hits Supervisors' Action

I am and have been for the past two years a staff psychiatrist at the Community Mental Health Service. I am writing this letter to voice my concern at the hasty and thoughtless action taken by the board of supervisors regarding the conflict in community mental health during their Feb. 10 meeting.

In firing Dr. Leon Wanerman from his post as interim director and replacing him with the county coroner, the board has lost the services of an unusually talented and dedicated individual who created a children's psychiatric service which is a model of innovative and quality programming. These talents could have been used in bringing order to the chaotic countywide situation.

It is my opinion that in reaching the present "compromise" the Board did not act in good faith. . .

It is also now clear why it is so difficult to effectively accomplish quality service under government control. Mr. Thomas A. Campanella's reward for disregarding all professional advice and implementing the unworkable plan which led to the present mess was to be allowed to try again. In private industry he most likely would have been fired. His present solution is a rehash of the old failure. . .

I hope the board was not prophetic in appointing the coroner to serve as administrator of the mental health program: after all, he does have experience in postmortum (sic) studies.

Laboratory Dog Affectionate, Well

I am writing to thank the Independent-Journal for bringing us Benjamin, the former University of California, Davis, laboratory beagle. My husband and I wrote to Caron Galantiere and offered to give the dog a home, as did 14 others. We were selected as Benjamen's new parents because of the fact that we knew beagles very well, having bred and raised them for 15 years.

He has been with us for a week now and has fit right in with no problems. He spends his days playing in the yard with the other dogs and sleeping on the sun porch. In the evenings he makes himself comfortable on the sofa and watches TV until bedtime. He is a very lovable and affectionate dog despite his adversities, and we are happy to have him.

We were delighted to learn that he does have partial hearing and does respond when called by a whistle. He is able to bark, but sounds as though he is very hoarse and has laryngitis.

The people from whom we got the dog are great humanitarians and work extensively to help animals. Benjamin was saved from the gas chamber at the pound by them and given a protective home. When circumstances forced them to find a new home they asked the I-J for help.

Although the dog has been used extensively as a laboratory dog, he is, in no way, mutilated, is not afraid of a veterinarian, and does not seem emotionally affected . . . He is in excellent condition and came to us from people who obviously cared very much about him.

About Time To Ask Whether Busing Has Helped Integration

By Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)—It is small wonder that many people including Governor Ronald Reagan, are becoming more and more disgusted with the practice of busing school children away from their neighborhoods for the sole purpose of achieving integration.

The governor has asked the state board of education to determine whether the practice of busing ever has done any good for the cause of integrating the white and black races.

THE LOS ANGELES city school system estimates that if it carries out court orders to adopt a complete policy of busing students, it will cost about $42 million next year, a sum which could be put to good use in the schools to provide better quality education for students of all colors.

The lunatic fringe of educationists which advocates busing apparently thinks the taxpayers' money makes no difference, and that money comes from a bottomless barrel in the citizen's back yard.

The state board of education also might set out to determine whether the millions of dollars of educational money being poured into this project is going to further the freedom of the people of this state and nation to live the kind of life they want to live.

THE PRACTICE of busing is becoming obnoxious, as people are once again deprived of a right, this time a right to raise their own families and provide an education for their own children.

Enough experience has been had with this pernicious practice since it was started several years ago to have developed many facts, and it should be the aim of the state department of education and the state board of education to bring forth those facts to determine whether the people, once and for all, should demand that an end be put to forced integration through the medium of the children.

There is an old, old saying: "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink!"

Nixon Changes His Tune To Justify ABM Spending

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

The Pentagon's plans for spending the 600 million dollars in new money which Mr. Nixon has recommended for the ABM will be awaited with interest, but enough has already been said by Mr. Nixon and others to make clear what is at stake.

A year ago President Nixon told the nation that he had concluded cities could not be protected by the ABM, and therefore he was proposing the Safeguard system only to protect the sites of Minuteman offensive missiles. Today, however, he is back at the old Pentagon stand of area defense. He now wants ABMs to protect the cities after all.

A year ago Mr. Nixon called for a limited system that would protect only two missile sites, and when asked whether this would be enough he said yes, he had concluded that by protecting only two sites "we will preserve a credible deterrent, and that will be decisive insofar as the enemy considering the possibility of a first strike." Yet now, suddenly, protecting two missile sites is not enough after all. A year ago the President argued that his limited ABM system would not be provocative to the Russians, but acknowledged that a system addressed to area defense would be. Yet now he proposes to proceed with area defense, after all.

Throughout the whole ABM controversy the Pentagon has shifted its rationale from year to year and month to month, the only constant being a fierce and unremitting determination to commit untold billions of dollars to an ABM system by one means or another. We fear Mr. Nixon has bought the whole bill of goods. For the sake of preserving what may be the last chance to check the arms race, the Senate should defeat him on the ABM this year.

THE DRUMMONDS

Chaos Predicted To Follow Collapse Of Soviet Communism

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON—Three questions instantly cry out for answers in light of the expert-supported prediction that the Soviet Russian regime may collapse in 10 to 15 years:

—What kind of government would most likely emerge?

—What would be the world impact?

—What should be the attitude and the actions—if any—of the United States toward encouraging or helping to avert such an event?

There is no neat answer to any of these questions, but there is expert judgment on all of them.

THE NEAREST to a consensus is that a military dictatorship would most likely follow the disintegration of the present Kremlin leadership but that whatever comes to power first is not likely to last very long.

The reason for this forecast is that there are so many elements within Russian society today which are so hostile and dissatisfied that the pent-up mood of revolution would not be long contained by guns without reform.

Dr. Zbigniew Brzezinski, director of the Research Institute on Communist Affairs at Columbia University, sees the present regime's partial suppression of demands for liberalization as building up still greater hostility and intensifying the desire for still more freedom.

He foresees that repressionist brutality would "create a prerevolutionary crisis" within the Soviet Union and within the Eastern European bloc. This is why Brzezinski shares the view of other Kremlinologists that "the next few years are likely to witness a very profound struggle for the very soul of modern Russia."

IT MAY WELL be that the continued deterioration of the quality of Soviet Communist leadership from Lenin to Stalin to Malenkov to Khrushchev to Brezhnev—a deterioration for which no relief is in sight—fits a prediction by Marx himself which the Russian Communists never cite.

It was Marx's view that every political and social system is fit only for a certain level of production and thought and then, becoming visibly inappropriate, bursts again into revolution.

This is almost exactly the political situation which the anti-Kremlin Russian historian Andrei A. Amalrik now sees in the making and leading up to the regime's violent downfall in the next 10 to 15 years.

His view is that the present regime is not strong enough to reform itself and too weak to defend itself.

Hence, his prediction that the Red army will seize and hold power for a period, that liberal forces within the Soviet Union will not have either the strength or the unity to take power and, then, this firm forecast:

Even if the liberals should be able to take over the government, "They would not be able to keep it. Thus, the Soviet Union would dissolve into anarchy, hate and violence."

AMALRIK, Brzezinski and Robert Conquest, the British Soviet expert, are all appraising trends which point toward this cataclysmic end. If they are correct, should the United States try to do anything about it?

The United States could encourage the Sino-Soviet feud, but a Sino-Soviet war would be a peril to the peace of the whole world and no one could be sure that nuclear weapons would not be used nor that nuclear fallout would not engulf the earth.

But undoubtedly many small nations would count themselves seriously endangered it there were not two relatively equal powers to hold each other in check.

The role of the United States would be most uneasy—that of being a lone world power in a world of fearful and competing smaller powers with responsibilities for taking sides and keeping the peace far beyond anything in the past. Vietnam might look like a lark.

If the Soviet Communist regime is "tottering toward death," as Amalrik predicts, we can't wisely affect it either way. The best we can do is to get ready to face the consequences perhaps not too far in the future.

What Constitution Says Isn't What Happens

By ROY McGHEE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The constitution gives Congress the privilege of controlling the national purse. With that authority goes the duty of exercising it in an orderly manner.

To a large extent, Congress has abandoned its privilege of control to the President. As for order in appropriating money to run the government, there hasn't been much lately.

This state of affairs has led both Democratic and Republican leaders to pledge better efforts. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield sees "no realistic chance" of passing all money bills for fiscal 1970 before the next fiscal year begins July 1.

PART OF THE FAULT undoubtedly lies with the President; part lies with the unyielding position of the House of Representatives that it must originate appropriation bills; part lies with the nature of legislative bodies.

The Constitution is unequivocal on giving Congress control over the purse. It says that no money may be spent by the federal government except as appropriated by act of Congress. But it doesn't exactly work like that.

Of an over-all total of $218 billion proposed for spending in the business year starting July 1, Congress is asked to appropriate only $148.1 billion.

The rest will be collected and spent by the executive branch with little if any current congressional control. It represents outlays and income for such things as highways, Social Security pensions, and medicare costs, pensions, interest on debt, etc.

THE PRESIDENT cannot be faulted for that situation; Congress agreed to the setup.

But the President can be faulted for not getting the departmental budge requests to Congress sooner. Last year, for instance, it was April before President Nixon submitted his requests.

This year, the President got the requests in on Feb. 2 for fiscal 1971. But judging by the past, there will be numerous revisions and requests for supplemental funds.

REP. GEORGE MAHON, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has promised faster action this year. He has worked out a schedule whereby the House would pass all appropriation bills by June 15.

Mansfield has asked the chairmen of the various appropriations subcommittees in the Senate to move ahead without waiting for the actual documents to come over from the House.

The aim: At least to meet the statutory deadline of July 31 for passage of the bills, if not the fiscal year deadline of July 1.

Grand Jury Tells Only Part Of Marin Reading Deficiences

In its report this week on the Sausalito School District, the Marin County Grand Jury said that Martin Luther King School is the only school in Marin County whose students' scores in the latest standard reading tests fell below average scores throughout the state.

HOWEVER, the grand jury failed to mention that, in reading tests in the first three grades in Marin Schools last spring, first grade pupils in Kentfield, Larkspur, Novato and Tomales Bay school districts also scored below the state median. So did second grade pupils in the Tomales Bay and Nicasio districts and third graders in the Nicasio and Sausalito school districts.

First and second grade pupils in the Sausalito school district were above state medians in their reading ability. And second graders in the Sausalito district recorded higher scores than their counterparts in the Fairfax and Lagunitas school districts.

No test scores are yet available to gauge the success of Principal Sidney J. Walton's present programs, which were instituted to correct what all recognized as serious deficiencies in the district's academic programs.

IN POINTING to what it termed "lack of academic achievement" in the Sausalito district, the grand jury used the following statement from a group identified as a "Marin parents club": "The reading program within the Sausalito School District system is obviously inadequate."

The organization quoted was formed last summer with the assistance of Vice Principal James T. Toliver Jr. to assess academic problems in the district and seek solutions.

Using the low reading scores mentioned in the grand jury report to demonstrate need, the parents group recommended hiring a full-time reading specialist for the district.

According to Verna Vargas, chairman of the jury's education committee which compiled the grand jury report, the statement was taken from a brochure prepared last August by Principal Walton to justify hiring the reading specialist.

District trustees assigned Mrs. Gene Willis, employed as a teacher of educationally handicapped, to conduct a remedial reading program, according to James T. Toliver, assistant to the principal at King School. But her success in improving the reading abilities of students cannot be measured until the results of tests given during the present school year are computed by the state.

Reagan In Lead, Pollster Reports

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Poll reports that if an election were held today, Gov. Ronald Reagan would far outdistance any of three Democrats frequently mentioned as possible candidates against him next November.

Pollster Mervin Field said Reagan outpolled Assemblyman Jess Unruh, who has declared his candidacy, by a margin of 56 per cent to 36 per cent with 8 per cent undecided.

Reagan thus has just about held his margin over Unruh during the past three months. The figures for November, 1969, were 56-34 with 10 per cent undecided.

Reagan does even better in matchups with former Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty. He leads Brown 55-37-8 and Yorty 59-26-15, according to the poll. However, neither Brown nor Yorty is a declared candidate.

New Auto Smog Bills Readied

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—New cars would have to carry stickers stating how much smog they produce under a bill approved by the Assembly Transportation Committee.

The committee Thursday also approved on voice votes and sent to the floor bills that would:

—Give peace officer status to air pollution control officers.

—Increase the power of the attorney general to take action against violators of air pollution requirements.

The bills were among a package drawn up by a special subcommittee headed by Assemblyman Peter Schabarum, R-Covina.

Another bill approved and sent to the Ways and Means Committee would allow the Air Resources Control Board in two years to test each new car individually for emissions, rather than take the average for all cars of each model, as is now done.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

It's Great To Have Lived In 'Good Old Days' Of U.S.A.

Fusselman

Just to get away from violence and conflict for a while, I would like to tell you about something else. In September of last year I wrote, "Two hours of delightful music played out of doors at Tanglewood, where thousands come each summer to hear the Boston Symphony Orchestra play." Those two hours where devoted to listening to the final concert conducted by Erik Leinsdorf. When he finished, exhausted, they broke out of the spell he had woven around them and brought him back and back and back — unwilling to let him go.

Earlier that year, in July, I had written of the wonderful program by the Goldman band, being conducted by the son of Edmund Frankel Goldman, who for years had presented them on the New York City Mall. The final number on that Sunday evening was "The Stars and Stripes Forever", using the original score as written by the famous bandmaster John Philip Sousa.

WELL, ON TUESDAY morning of this week I woke up at 4 o'clock and was on the go all day. So, at nine that evening, thinking it had been a day, I turned on the television set. Tuning station after station — suddenly what a treat.

On channel 9, as were the two other programs, was a symposium on the forever dean of them all, bandmaster John Philip Sousa. It was superbly done, with other musical greats telling the story. There were intervals, one after the other, shown with sound of Sousa conducting over the years; the whole thing a gem of the first water. It will be repeated tomorrow evening (Saturday) at 7:30. Check your program to be sure I am right about the hour.

THIS ALL STRUCK a nostalgic note for me. Somewhere around 1909 to 1912 it was my good fortune to standing within six feet of the great march king. It was Tacoma, Wash. They had marched up Broadway to the Tacoma Theater, where they were giving a concert that evening. The band formed a half circle with Sousa — a long military cape hanging almost to his ankles, eyes gleaming and twinkling, baton swinging as no one else has ever equaled — conducting them in two stirring march compositions of his.

Then, just before World War I, he was again at Tacoma and put on a summer evening program in the 40,000-seat stadium — a horseshoe — shaped bowl facing Commencement Bay. What a scene, boats silently moving around on the water — a moon overhead — the spotlight on Sousa, way down there in the midst of his great band — cap on one side — baton swinging from the ground up, as if the man himself, was sending that music, from a whisper to a crescendo floating up into the softness of the night. Something never to be forgotten by those who listened.

My friends, it's good to have lived in the "good old days", believe me. There were so many things that can never be repeated. For instance, how many of you can remember the circus parades of the "Greatest Show on Earth" — with mounted, uniformed out-riders calling out in stentorian tones, "WATCH YOUR HORSES. THE ELEPHANTS ARE COMING"? It's doubtful that will ever be heard again in this country.

OH YES; this matter of County Comment: The supervisors didn't change the name, as Bruce and McInnis wanted. It is still the "Veterans' Memorial Auditorium".

Report Of Gun Threat By Ex-Con

A 40-year old ex-convict last night threatened to shoot a woman with the same gun she used to wound him Christmas Day, San Rafael police reported today.

Being sought by police on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and theft of the .22-caliber revolver used in both incidents is Robert John Fleeks, of no known address.

According to police, Geraldine E. Alexander of 109½ Shaver Street, said Fleeks grabbed her gun following an argument at her home at 9 p.m. and said, "I'm going to blow your . . . brains out."

Fleeks ran out a rear door when Mrs. Alexander started to call for help, police said.

Mrs. Alexander wounded Fleeks in the thigh Dec. 25 when he attempted to break down her front door, police said.

Fleeks had threatened Mrs. Alexander, according to police, after she gave them information allegedly linking him to a $1,700 burglary of Tone-Tex Specialities Co. in San Rafael last May.

Fleeks, who has a record of 29 arrests for various offenses, is scheduled to appear in Marin Superior Court the week of April 27 on burglary charges, police said.

Dutton For Strict U.C. Police Rules

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — There should be written and published rules to decide when the University of California calls in police to help control disturbances, says UC Regent Frederick G. Dutton of Sausalito.

Dutton responded Thursday to a report on the May 1969 "People's Park" riots by Roger W. Heyns, chancellor of the Berkeley campus where the disorders occurred.

Dutton and other members of the regent's committee on educational policy heard Heyns report, which said: "There is doubt as to whether or not the Berkeley campus or University administration can or should attempt to make a detailed, official report which, presumably, would present conclusions."

Heyns noted that 169 persons were injured, including one person killed and another blinded.

But the university isn't staffed to conduct a full investigation, Heyns said, so it relies on reports made by law enforcement agenices, the county and federal grand juries.

Dutton said the university also ought to have an observer system to determine the scope of disturbances, should go on record saying that deadly weapons will not be used unless to meet equal force on the other side and should recognize mutual aid pacts between law enforcement agencies.

Health Group To Form Recruiting Committee

The Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board has agreed to form a recruitment committee to find a program chief for the Community Mental Health Center, according to board chairman Peter W. Palmer.

The board Wednesday accepted the general outline of a proposal by Thomas F. Campanella, assistant county administrator, to form a nine-member committee to screen applicants for the position, now held by Dr. Donald P. Wilson.

The recruitment committee, working in conjunction with a professional screening committee, will put three names before the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the Marin County Hospital District Board. The boards will make the final choice.

Chosen to represent the advisory board on the committee were Jack Williams, Martha Valliant, George Monrado and Dr. Richard W. Brunstetter.

Other committee members would be Ray K. Bolinger, administrator of Marin General Hospital, Dr. Bradford Simmons, hospital chief of staff, Allen Bruce, county administrator, Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, county director of mental health; and a yet to be named representative of the Marin Psychiatric Society.

The board of supervisors has indicated it will vote not to renew Wilson's contract which expires July 1.

Board Approves Variance For Rebuilding Home

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments has unanimously approved a variance for Dan Monaco of San Francisco to rebuild a home he owned at 21 Buena Vista Avenue destroyed in a $25,000 fire Nov. 19.

The Corte Madera Board of Adjustments also:

SHED — Granted a variance for a 10-by-10-foot shed to the rear of a home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Gabel, 28 Buena Vista Avenue.

ROOM — Approved the adding of a family room to residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schneider, 22 Foremast Cove.
